NEW YORK GIANTS TRAINING FACILITY

JERRY PINKUS

The Giants have found the perfect corporate partner for the precise and punctual Tom Coughlin.

The organization announced on June 17, 2009 a unique partnership with Timex Group USA, Inc. that enables both brands the opportunity to collaborate on training solutions for athletes of all levels that participate in various sports across the world. This partnership grants TIMEX, one of the world's largest watch companies, the naming rights for the Giants' new training facility and corporate headquarters. The facility has been named the TIMEX Performance Center.

"TIMEX is making a major commitment to growing its brand and we are very fortunate that they have chosen the Giants as one of the vehicles to help them do so," said John Mara, the Giants' President and Chief Executive Officer. "Our partnership with Timex is not your typical marketing partnership or naming rights agreement. It is a working relationship to enhance our mutual operations, namely TIMEX, products, our player and coach preparation and training. TIMEX, shares our core principles and attributes of loyalty to our customers and striving to be the best that we can be in our respective fields. Both of our companies have deep roots here in the New York/New Jersey/Connecticut metropolitan area. We share a deep sense of commitment to our community and we both have an unwavering commitment to corporate social responsibility. All of those factors help to forge our relationship."

Coughlin, who famously likes to begin meetings and practices five minutes ahead of schedule, is thrilled that TIMEX has affixed its name to what he consider the NFL's gold standard in training facilities.

"We are very proud to announce that TIMEX will be an all-pro along with the New York Giants," Coughlin said. "I have been asked many times, but most recently this morning, how do I feel about our new facility? Everyday is Christmas, are you kidding me? Everyday is Christmas. I sit in an office, I look out a window, I look at three magnificent grass fields that will be there for us when we return from training camp. Our players are excited to be here."

In addition to the naming rights, the 15-year agreement calls for TIMEX, as the Official Performance Equipment of the New York Giants, to have its brand integrated into the Giants game day experience at Giants Stadium during the 2009 season and the Giants' new stadium set to open in 2010. At the new stadium, Giants fans will see a TIMEX "Countdown to Kickoff Clock" on the video towers that encirde the perimeter of the facility. Additional branding programs indude a major sponsorship with New York Giants Radio Network, Giants.com, the "Giants GameDay" television show on WNBC, and placement within the Giants' health and fitness magazine, "Giants Health Monitor," which is distributed in more than 10,000 doctors' offices around the New York metro area.

"TIMEX and the New York Giants are two icons that have a lot in common," said Hans-Kristian Hoejsgaard President and CEO of Timex Group. "Not the least, a huge, loyal following of fans. It is also history coming together. Timex group was founded in 1854, the Giants in 1925. We are bringing a lot of heritage and history to the table. More importantly, for generations, both companies have had great families behind them. For generations, it means long-term commitment, it means integrity, it means trust. All of us who are in brand building know what that means, not the least in times like this. But when you have been around for a long time - Timex Group for over 150 years, the Giants for over 80 years - you always run the risk of becoming complacent. It is very important that we do understand our business by looking backward, but that we really understand that we need to look forward to run our business. Today is all about being forward looking.

"The partnership with the Giants gives us a whole new opportunity to broaden our consumer touch points. We share with the Giants our unwavering commitment to corporate-social responsibility. Both organizations play a role as good corporate citizens in the communities in which they operate. We are committed to taking care of the environment. We support philanthropic activities where we live. This is a 15-year partnership that will mean a lot and play a key role in TIMEX product development in research and design. I hope very much that this is just the beginning of a partnership that will only deepen and extend over time. I want to thank the Mara and the Tisch families for the environment of trust, openness and professionalism conducted during our negotiations. I want to wish the Giants a great season ahead and wish for our joint partnership that this will indeed be of great mutual benefit."

The complex also includes four full-length fields; three natural grass full-length fields, one FieldTurf synthetic field in the field house, and one 80-yard FieldTurf outdoor synthetic field.

Designed by architectural and design firm EwingCole and constructed by Joseph A. Natoli Construction Corporation, the Giants training complex will serve as the home for the entire Giants organization (except the ticket office) and is equipped with conference rooms, work space and state-of-the-art technology to create an efficient and friendly work environment.

NEW HOME OF THE GIANTS
NEW MEADOWLANDS STADIUM

In 2010, the Giants moved into a beautiful, new, state-of-the-art stadium built just a few yards from where Giants Stadium sat for more than three decades. The nation's finest football stadium, it seats 82,500 fans. It is one of the NFL's most technologically advanced stadiums and took more than four million man-hours and $1.6 billion to build. The stadium features 10,000 club seats, 222 suites and 130,000 square feet of state-of-the-art club lounges. The first row of seats is just 46 feet from the sidelines and the sightlines are superb. The site of Super Bowl XLVIII, Giants' new home is 2.1 million square feet, compared to Giants Stadium's 900,000 square feet. It has four 30' by 118' high definition video screens, a 350,000 square foot outdoor plaza filled with interactive activities for fans of all ages.

JOHN K. MARA

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

John K. Mara is in his 20th season with the Giants. The franchise's President and Chief Executive Officer, he assumed the team presidency upon the passing of his father, Wellington Mara, in 2005. John Mara is the oldest of Wellington Mara's 11 children. He had been the team's Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. In his present position, Mara, who joined the Giants in 1991, is responsible for all administrative, legal and financial aspects of the organization.

With team Chairman Steve Tisch, he was at the forefront of the planning and negotiations for the new stadium that opened its doors this spring and where the Giants will play their home games beginning in 2010, after 34 years in Giants Stadium. In addition, Mara, Steve Tisch and Jonathan Tisch, as well as Jets owner Woody Johnson, headlined the bid committee that helped convince the NFL owners to award Super Bowl XLVIII to the new stadium in February 2014.

Mara also serves on the influential NFL Competition Committee, which studies all aspects of the game and recommends rules and policy changes to NFL clubs, as well as the league's Management Council Executive Committee and the Committee on Workplace Diversity.

Mara has been affiliated with the Giants his entire life. The franchise was founded in 1925 by his grandfather, Tim Mara. Wellington Mara was one of the most influential, respected and beloved executives in NFL history. Since John Mara joined the organization in an official capacity, the Giants have reached the playoffs eight times, won four NFC East titles and played in two Super Bowls, winning one.

Born in New York City on Dec. 1, 1954, Mara grew up in Westchester County in White Plains and graduated from Iona Prep High School in New Rochelle. He attended Boston College where he received a B.S. degree in marketing, graduating with Cum Laude honors in 1976. Mara earned his law degree from Fordham University in 1979 and then began his career as an attorney with the New York law firm of Vedder, Price, Kaufman, Kammholz and Day, specializing in labor and employment law and litigation. Two years later he moved to the Manhattan firm of Shea & Gould, where he practiced until joining the Giants.

Mara serves on the Board of Directors of Saint Vincent's Hospital in Harrison, N.Y., The School of the Holy Child, also in Harrison, N.Y. and Boys Hope Girls Hope of New York.

John and his wife, the former Denise Walter, are the parents of five children: Lauren, Courtney, John Jr., Christine and Erin. They also have two grandchildren, Christopher and Hailey. The Mara family resides in Harrison, N.Y.

STEVE TISCH
CHAIRMAN AND EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Steve Tisch has the distinction of being the only person on the planet with both an Academy Award and a Super Bowl ring. He won the former as one of the producers of "Forrest Gump," which was awarded the Oscar for Best Picture of 1994, and the latter as Chairman of the Giants, who defeated the New England Patriots in Super Bowl XLII.

Tisch joined the Giants organization as Executive Vice President in July 2005, but he has been intimately involved with the team since his father, Preston Robert Tisch, purchased 50 percent of the franchise in 1991. With the passing of his father in 2005, Steve Tisch assumed the additional title of Chairman. In the previous three years, Steve worked closely with John Mara on the planning and construction for the New Meadowlands Stadium, the beautiful new venue that is the Giants' new home. The new stadium is a joint venture with the New York Jets.

In addition, Steve joined Mara, his brother Jonathan (the Giants' treasurer) and Jets owner Woody Johnson is leading the teams' successful bid to bring Super Bowl XLVIII to the new stadium in February 2014. NFL owners voted in May 2010 to bring the Super Bowl and all of its accompanying events to New York/New Jersey metropolitan area. It will be the first Super Bowl played in an open-air stadium in a cold weather region.

Tisch is one of the most successful producers in the motion picture industry. He is a partner in Escape Artists, an independently financed film production company based at Sony Pictures Entertainment. His television and feature film projects have consistently focused on the lives of everyday people and the vital impact they have in society.

One of Tisch's most noteworthy professional achievements was the production of "Forrest Gump," which was named Best Picture at both the Academy Awards and the Golden Globes. "Forrest Gump," which was nominated for 13 Academy Awards and won nine, remains one of the 20 highest domestic box office grossing films in history.

Another Tisch film, "The Pursuit of Happyness," starring Will Smith, was released by Columbia Pictures in December 2006 and became one of the biggest hits of the year. Tisch's other credits with Escape Artists include "The Weather Man", "Seven Pounds", "Knowing", "The Taking of Pelham 123" and "The Back-Up Plan", starring Jennifer Lopez.

Tisch began his career in entertainment when he was a student at Tufts University. His summer jobs included booking films in the family's movie theater chain, working for director John Avildsen and serving an apprenticeship under Otto Preminger. Upon his graduation, Tisch worked as Peter Guber's assistant at Columbia Pictures. At age 22, he became an Executive at the studio, and during his four-year tenure he worked on such films as "The Lords of Flatbush," "Tommy" and "The Last Detail."

In 1976, Tisch left Columbia to produce his first motion picture, "Outlaw Blues." Tisch met Jon Avnet during the shoot and the pair soon formed Tisch/Avnet Productions. The company's success's included the runaway 1983 hit, "Risky Business." Tisch/Avnet also produced many acclaimed television films, including "The Burning Bed," which received 11 Emmy nominations and numerous other awards, and was credited with providing many women with the courage to seek help from physical abuse.

Tisch/Avnet's other television film credits include "Silence of the Heart," "Something so Right," "Prime Suspect," "No Other Love," "Call to Glory" and "Homeward Bound" (winner of a Christopher Award).

In 1986, Tisch formed his own production company, the Steve Tisch Company, which has produced many films, including "The Postman," "Wild America," "The Long Kiss Goodbye," "Corrina, Corrina," "Big Business," and "Bad Influence". Tisch also served as Executive Producer on "American History X," "Lock, Stock & Two Smoking Barrels," and "Snatch."

Tisch has long been a leader in philanthropic ventures. In April 1991, he was elected to the AIDS Project Los Angeles' Board of Directors. During his tenure, Tisch served as both Board Chair and Chair of the Development Committee.

Tisch has also generously contributed his time and resources to such organizations as The H.E.L.P. Group and the ERAS Center. He is also a member of the Board of Advisors at the Tisch School of the Arts at New York University and is on the Board of Trustees of The Geffen Theatre in Los Angeles, The Sundance Institute, The Los Angeles County Museum of Art and The Preston Robert Tisch Brain Cancer Center at Duke University.

CHRIS MARA
VICE PRESIDENT OF PLAYER EVALUATION

Chris Mara joined the Giants as Vice President of Player Evaluation on July 29, 2003.

This is Mara's second tour of duty with the franchise. He joined the Giants staff prior to the 1979 season and over the next 14 years he was a member of the club's player personnel department. Mara was a scout during the franchise's first two Super Bowl Championship seasons in 1986 and 1990.

Following his first stint with the Giants, Mara spent eight years (1994-2001) operating ProRate, Inc., an independent football scouting service contracted by as many as 15 NFL franchises. The service provided an evaluation of the free agent market in the NFL.

Mara spent 2001-02 as the President/General Manager of the New Jersey Gladiators of the Arena Football League. Mara oversaw a myriad of responsibilities including ticket sales, operations, and the arena lease. His primary focus was on player personnel and player contracts. Mara brought his extensive knowledge of professional football to the team and revived the struggling franchise in just one season.

After a difficult first season, the Gladiators posted a 9-5 record in 2002 and a first place finish in the Eastern Division of the National Conference. Posting the biggest turnaround in AFL history, the Gladiators finished the 2002 regular season with seven more victories than the previous year and qualified for the playoffs for the first time in franchise history.

Mara graduated from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. where he was a standout defensive back for three seasons, winning All-Catholic High School Athletic Association recognition after his senior year.

He began his collegiate career at Springfield College, where he was a defensive back on the freshman team and lettered on the varsity golf team. He then transferred to Boston College, where he earned a B.A. in the Arts and Sciences. During his scholastic and collegiate days, Mara spent many summers working at Giants training camps. During the regular season, he worked with broadcast teams from both CBS-TV and NBC-TV, as well as with visiting and home radio broadcast groups.

Mara was born in New York City. He is married to the former Kathleen Rooney and the couple has four children- Daniel, Kate, Patricia, and Conor – and two grandchildren, Judith Kailee and Wellington Rooney (Daniel's children).

JONATHAN TISCH
TREASURER

Jonathan M. Tisch joined the Giants in February of 1991 as Treasurer. In addition to serving on the Giants Board of Directors, Tisch is Co-Chairman of the Board and a member of the Office of the President of Loews Corporation, one of the largest diversified financial holding companies in the United States, and is also Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of its subsidiary, Loews Hotels.

During his tenure, Tisch has engineered Loews Hotels' expansion and emergence as a leading luxury hotel chain by infusing the properties with a widely praised corporate culture that places a high value on partnerships. His leadership philosophy, explored in his best-selling book, The Power of We: Succeeding Through Partnerships, provides a blueprint for achieving enduring success through partnerships that empower employees, satisfy customers, contribute to communities, and improve the bottom line. His best-seller follow-up book, Chocolates on the Pillow Aren't Enough: Reinventing the Customer Experience, offers a detailed look at how the right customer experience can produce long-lasting success for any organization. Tisch's third book, already a national best-seller, Citizen You: Doing Your Part to Change the World, was released in May of 2010.

Tisch also hosts the Emmy-nominated Beyond the Boardroom with Jonathan Tisch television series, airing on Bloomberg Television worldwide and Plum TV, where Tisch goes one-on-one with the nation's leading CEOs. The program reveals the person behind the successful executive and shows that business is about more than just numbers, but rather guts, hard work, imagination, and people. Tisch is also a contributing editor to Bloomberg Television.

Widely recognized as a passionate advocate of the multi-billion dollar travel and tourism industry, Tisch works tirelessly to educate elected officials and the public at large about the industry's significant economic, social, and diplomatic contributions. He founded and served as Chairman of the Travel Business Roundtable until 2008, and now serves as Chairman Emeritus of its successor organization, the United States Travel Association, the national non-profit association representing all segments of the travel industry.

Tisch is also committed to a vibrant tourism industry in New York City, where for nearly six years he served as Chairman of NYC & Company, the city's official tourism marketing agency and convention and visitors bureau. Concurrent with his national efforts to help stimulate travel and tourism in the aftermath of September 11th, Tisch served as Chairman of New York Rising, a task force set up to help rebuild the city by reviving tourism. In recognition for his leadership and civic involvement, Crain's New York Business named Tisch one of the "Top Ten Most Influential Business Leaders" and was named the 2006 "CEO of the Year" by the Executive Council of New York.

His passion for the metropolitan area and love of football prompted Tisch to join Jets owner Woody Johnson as co-chairs of the bid committee established to bring Super Bowl XLVIII to the region. The bid, entitled "Make Some History," and the enthusiasm of the chairmen, as well as John Mara and Steve Tisch, convinced the NFL owners to award the 2014 Super Bowl to New York-New Jersey, making the New Meadowlands Stadium the host of the first outdoor cold-weather Super Bowl in history.

Believing you can do well and do good at the same time, Tisch is a champion of corporate responsibility and his community and philanthropic activities are extensive. He served as the Vice-Chairman of The Welfare to Work Partnership, and currently serves on the Boards of Tribeca Film Institute and Tufts University, where he is also the naming benefactor of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Citizenship and Public Service.

JERRY REESE

SR. VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

In this fourth year on the job, Jerry Reese is one of the most successful general managers in the NFL. Reese's first three seasons at the top of the franchise's football operations included a 30-18 regular season record, a victory in Super Bowl XLII, an NFC East championship and no records under .500.

Reese was named the Giants' Senior Vice President and General Manager on Jan. 16, 2007. He succeeded Ernie Accorsi, who had held the positions for nine years before retiring. Reese, who will be 47 when the 2010 season begins, has been with the Giants since 1994. Prior to becoming the G.M., he had spent four seasons as the team's Director of Player Personnel. Reese coordinated the Giants' college scouting, was in charge of the team's draft preparation and ran the draft room during the two days of player selections. When Accorsi retired, the team's ownership selected Reese as the team's third general manager since 1979, when the late George Young assumed the position. Young held it until 1997, when Accorsi took over. Accorsi, who had helped convince Reese to leave college scouting and join the pro personnel department of the Giants, promoted him and championed his cause.

The selection of Reese was historic, as he was the third African-American general manager in NFL history, joining Baltimore's Ozzie Newsome and Houston's Rick Smith. It was particularly poignant for Reese to learn of his appointment on Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.

"I thought about that a lot and it was absolutely perfect timing for this to happen," Reese said. "I don't mean to sound cliché, but I really feel it's my time to carry the torch. There are many people who went before me who really suffered through this process, and now it's my time. I'm going to be successful – I have to be successful on a lot of levels."

Doug Williams, the first black quarterback to win a Super Bowl, with Washington in January 1988, carried the Lombardi Trophy to the stage set up on the field following the Giants' victory in Super Bowl XLII. Reese and Williams correspond regularly.

"After the Super Bowl, Doug called me about three different times, emailed me, texted me, and he just said, 'You made me so proud,'" Reese said. "Those are the kind of calls that mean so much, because Doug really kind of paved the way for African-Americans, saying, 'You know what, there can be an African-American quarterback to win the Super Bowl, there can be an African-American general manager who can lead his team to the Super Bowl.'"

Reese helped put the Giants on the road to a championship soon after becoming general manager. He re-signed center Shaun O'Hara, which kept the offensive line intact, and added linebacker Kawika Mitchell via free agency and running back Reuben Droughns and kicker Lawrence Tynes in trades. He drafted eight players – Aaron Ross, Steve Smith, Jay Alford, Zak DeOssie, Kevin Boss, Adam Koets, Michael Johnson and Ahmad Bradshaw – who all played during the postseason. During the season, the Giants added important players like fullback Madison Hedgecock and wide receiver/kickoff returner Domenik Hixon.

Many of those players have improved significantly and remain among the team's most important contributors. Smith shattered the franchise record with 107 receptions in 2009. Boss is a steady and reliable starting tight end who is capable of the big play, Bradshaw rushed for 778 yards and seven touchdowns last season, and Hixon was the Giants' foremost punt and kickoff returner.

In 2008, Reese's ability to acquire important players was again evident. Linebacker Danny Clark was signed in March and was the Giants' starting strongside linebacker for two years. David Carr was such a solid backup quarterback, the Giants had only two signal-callers on their roster for all but one game the previous two seasons. When Tynes was injured in the preseason, Reese signed 21-year veteran John Carney, whose 143 points were the second-most in Giants history. The Giants also drafted Kenny Phillips, Terrell Thomas, Mario Manningham and Bryan Kehl, all of whom should contribute significantly to the team for many years.

Last year, the Giants' draft class was fronted by wide receiver Hakeem Nicks, who caught 47 passes for 790 yards, both the third-highest total among rookies in Giants history – despite missing two games. Nicks' 790 yards tied for first among all NFL rookies with Minnesota's Percy Harvin. Another rookie, Will Beatty, started four games and showed great promise at tackle. In addition, the Giants added veterans Michael Boley, Chris Canty and Rocky Bernard on defense. Boley was named the NFC Defensive Player of the Week after recording nine tackles, including a sack and two stops for losses, in a Nov. 22 victory over Atlanta. All three players were slowed by injuries last season but are expected to contribute in 2010.

While serving as the Giants' Director of Player Personnel, Reese oversaw all aspects of the team's college scouting. During his tenure as personnel director, the Giants drafted Eli Manning, Osi Umenyiora, David Diehl, David Tyree, Chris Snee, Gibril Wilson, Justin Tuck, Brandon Jacobs, Mathias Kiwanuka, Corey Webster and Barry Cofield, all of whom played big roles in the championship season and beyond.

Reese originally joined the Giants' scouting department on Dec. 15, 1994. In the spring of 1999, he became Dave Gettleman's assistant in the pro personnel department. In that position, he scouted the Giants' upcoming opponents and evaluated NFL players. Reese was promoted to Director of Player Personnel on May 1, 2002.

Reese came to the Giants after a successful playing and coaching career at the University of Tennessee at Martin. During his college playing career (1981-1984), Reese was honored as a two-time All-Gulf South Conference pick. He is among the leaders on UT-Martin's all-time career list in interceptions. Reese led the team with seven interceptions in 1982 and was UT-Martin's leading tackler in 1984 with 99. Reese was GSC Defensive Player of the Week three times during his career and was named team MVP following his senior season.

Following his playing career, Reese served as a student assistant and as a graduate assistant before becoming a full-time coach of the secondary from 1988 through 1993. He moved to coaching the receivers and assumed the assistant head coach title in January of 1993.

In 2008, Reese was inducted into the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame.

Reese has his bachelor's degree in health and physical education and earned his master's degree in education administration and supervision. In the fall of 1995, Reese was inducted into the U-T Martin Hall of Fame.

Reese, a native of Tiptonville, Tenn. is married to the former Gwen Moore. They have two children, Jasmyne Danielle and Jerry II.

TOM COUGHLIN
HEAD COACH

Long regarded as one of the NFL's premier head coaches, Tom Coughlin is one of the most successful in the 86-year history of the Giants.

He ascended to the pinnacle of his profession in the 2007 season when he led the Giants to a victory in Super Bowl XLII. The Giants, heavy underdogs entering the game, scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns to defeat the previously-undefeated New England Patriots, 17-14.

Last year, the Giants were 8-8, following marks of 12-4, 10-6, 8-8 and 11-5 the previous four seasons. Their five-year streak without a losing record is the Giants' longest since they had 10 in a row from 1954-63. In 2008, Coughlin led the Giants to the NFC East championship and their 12 victories were their highest total since the 2000 NFC champions won 12 games. The division title was the Giants' seventh since the 1970 merger. It was the eighth time in franchise history and the sixth time since the 1970 merger that the Giants finished a season with at least 12 victories. The Giants advanced to postseason play for the fourth consecutive season, the first time they accomplished that feat in their history.

Coughlin also led the Jacksonville Jaguars to four consecutive postseason berths (1996-99) and is one of only three coaches in NFL history to accomplish that feat with two different teams. The others are Marty Schottenheimer (Cleveland, 1985-88 and Kansas City, 1990-95) and Mike Holmgren (Green Bay, 1993-98 and Seattle 2003-07).

Under Coughlin, the Giants routinely establish franchise statistical milestones. In 2009, the Giants scored 402 points after scoring 425 in 2008. It is the first time in franchise history the Giants scored at least 400 points in consecutive seasons. The Giants gained 5,856 yards, the second-highest total in franchise history and just 28 yards less than the franchise record set in 1985. The Giants set a franchise record with 4,019 net passing yards, the first 4,000-yard season in team history.

From Sept. 20 to Oct. 4, the Giants won consecutive road games in Dallas, Tampa Bay and Kansas City. They were just the eighth team of the 108 (7.4 percent) that have played at least three consecutive road games since 1990 to win every game. Both the Giants and Coughlin are on the list twice. The Giants swept a three-game trip in 1994, when they traveled to Houston, Washington and Cleveland on successive weeks. Coughlin's 2001 Jacksonville Jaguars also won three road games in three weeks. Of course, Coughlin's 2007 Giants won three straight road playoff games on the way to Super Bowl XLII.

The 2008 Giants established several milestones and records. The Giants had two more victories than they finished with the previous season to become the fifth defending Super Bowl champion to win more games the season following a championship than they did on their way to winning the Lombardi Trophy (not counting the strike-shortened 1982 season). The Giants were the first defending Super Bowl champion in 10 years – and only the fourth overall – to earn a top seed in the postseason a year after winning the championship game (since seeding began in 1990).

Coughlin has always stressed the importance of limiting turnovers and the Giants set an NFL record (tied by the Miami Dolphins) by coughing up the ball only 13 times in 16 games. The Giants and Dolphins were the seventh and eighth teams to average less than one turnover a game over a 16-game season. Coughlin has coached two of the teams, the 2002 Jaguars and last season's Giants.

The Giants rushed for NFL-leading and franchise record numbers of 2,518 yards and 5.0 yards per carry. The previous records were 2,451 yards in 1985 and 4.7 yards an attempt in 2005 and 2006. The Giants finished the season with 427 points and 338 first downs, both the second-highest totals in franchise history. They scored 448 points in 1963 and had 356 first downs in 1985.

Coughlin is one of just five active coaches to lead a team to a Super Bowl victory. The others are Bill Belichick, Mike Shanahan, Mike Tomlin and Sean Payton. When the Giants won Super Bowl XLII, Coughlin became the 26th different head coach to win a Super Bowl, and the second to win one with the Giants (Bill Parcells won two). At 1-0, Coughlin is one of 18 coaches with an unblemished Super Bowl record. At 61 years and 156 days old, he is the third-oldest coach to win a Super Bowl. Only Dick Vermeil and Weeb Ewbank were older.

Coughlin is 8-7 in the postseason, including 4-3 with the Giants. The four playoff victories are the second-most in Giants history, behind Parcells' eight.

Under Coughlin, the Giants are 41-9 when leading at halftime, 42-4 when leading after the third quarter, 42-20 when they rush for at least 100 yards, 31-10 when holding the opposition to less than 100 yards on the ground and 33-7 when the turnover differential is to their advantage.

The 2007 championship season, two division titles, four postseason berths and the streak of non-losing seasons are successes in a Giants revival that began when Coughlin was named the 16th head coach in franchise history on Jan. 6, 2004. The Giants won only four games in the season before his arrival. A successful head coach in the NFL and on the collegiate level, Coughlin was an assistant coach with the Giants when they won Super Bowl XXV in 1990. When he returned to the team as head coach, Coughlin quickly put the team back on a path that would ultimately lead to another Super Bowl victory.

The Giants improved from four to six to 11 victories and the NFC East title in Coughlin's first two seasons with the team. In 2006, they went 8-8 and earned an NFC Wild Card playoff berth. The following season, the Giants were 10-6 in the regular season and again reached postseason play as a Wild Card, which served as a springboard to the team's Super Bowl victory. In 2008, they were again one of the NFL's very best teams and reached the playoffs for the first time following a Super Bowl appearance.

Coughlin has won four division titles and led his teams to the playoffs eight times in his 14 years as an NFL head coach. Belichick, who has coached the New England Patriots to seven first place finishes in the AFC East, is the only active coach entering the 2010 season with more division titles than the Giants' coach.

Coughlin is 123-101 (.549) in the regular season, plus 8-7 in the postseason for an overall record of 131-108 (.548). His 123 regular season victories place him fourth among current NFL head coaches, behind Belichick, Shanahan and Jeff Fisher, all of whom have coached at least one more season than Coughlin, who is the only one of the four to have coached an expansion team. The 123 victories leave him in 24th place on the NFL's all-time regular season list, two behind former Saints and Colts coach Jim Mora. Coughlin's 131 total victories place him 23rd, three behind Ewbank, a Hall of Famer. A victory over the Jets on Oct. 7, 2007 was the 100th of Coughlin's career, including postseason games. Coughlin won his 100th regular season game at Detroit on Nov. 18, 2007.

Coughlin twice led the Jaguars to the AFC Championship Game prior to leading the Giants to victory in the NFC Championship Game. He is one of just six coaches to lead teams to a championship game in each conference since the 1970 merger. The others are Parcells and Dan Reeves (both former Giants coaches), as well as Chuck Knox, Tony Dungy and Jon Gruden.

The 2007 Giants set several milestone achievements on their way to the NFL championship. The Giants became the fifth Wild Card team to win the Super Bowl, the second in three years (the Pittsburgh Steelers in Super Bowl XL) and the first from the NFC. They were the second team to win the Super Bowl after winning three postseason games on the road to get there (again joining the 2005 Steelers). The No. 5 Giants were the lowest-seeded NFC team to win the Super Bowl since the NFL began seeding teams in 1990. The previous low was a second-seeded team. The Giants were just the third team to win the Super Bowl after starting the season 0-2. The others were the 1993 Dallas Cowboys and the 2001 Patriots.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the 2007 Giants was their ability to win on the road. The Giants won 10 consecutive games as visitors (seven regular season, three postseason), an NFL single-season record. They were the visiting team in the Super Bowl, which was their 11th consecutive triumph away from Giants Stadium. The Giants won their first 2008 road game, at St. Louis, to extend their road winning streak to 11 games, which tied them with three other teams for the second-longest such streak in NFL history. They achieved much of that success with 11 rookies on their 2007 active roster, a record for a Super Bowl winner.

In 2007, the Giants started the season 0-2 before winning six consecutive games to become just the fifth team in history and the second since 1947 to follow two opening losses with six straight triumphs. The last of those victories was over the Miami Dolphins in London's Wembley Stadium, which made them the first team to win a regular season game outside of North America.

The Giants have made dramatic statistical improvement under Coughlin. The team averaged 380.0 points and had three of the franchise's four 400-point seasons in his first six years. Under Coughlin's stewardship, the Giants have had four of the five highest-scoring seasons in the history of the franchise, with 427 points in 2008, 422 in 2005, 402 last year and 373 in 2007. The Giants scored more than 30 points six times in 2009, seven times in 2008 – including four in a row from Nov. 2-23 - and six times in 2007, their highest totals of 30-point games since 1963, when they had 10. The Giants averaged 285.6 points a year in the three seasons prior to Coughlin's arrival.

The Giants' offense has been ranked seventh and eighth in the NFL, respectively, in the last two seasons, the first time they've been in the Top 10 in consecutive seasons since 2001 and 2002. In 2008, the Giants and Philadelphia Eagles were the only two NFL teams to be ranked in the top nine in both offense and defense. The Giants were ranked seventh offensively (355.9 yards a game) and fifth defensively (292.0). It was the first season in which the Giants were ranked in the top 10 on offense and defense since 2002, when they were sixth in offense (364.1 yards a game) and ninth in defense (309.3). The 2008 season was the first in which the Giants allowed less than 300 yards a game since 2000, when the opponents of the NFC champions gained 281.4 yards per game.

The Giants were first in rushing yardage in 2008, when they set franchise records with 157.4 yards per game and 5.0 yards per carry. Their rush offense finished seventh or better in the league in every season from 2005-2008, the first time since 1990-93 that they were in the NFL's top 10 four years in a row.

In 2009, the Giants scored 46 touchdowns, their highest total since the 1985 team scored 48. Steve Smith (7), Hakeem Nicks (6), Mario Manningham (5) and Kevin Boss (5) all had at least five touchdown receptions. It was the first time the Giants have had four different receivers with at least five touchdown catches apiece since 1963, when five players reached that total: Del Shofner (9), Frank Gifford (7), Joe Morison (7), Joe Walton (6) and Phil King (5). The Giants scored 45 touchdowns in both 2005 and 2008. In the first of those seasons, they were only the fifth team in NFL history to have five different players score at least seven touchdowns. Tiki Barber scored 11, and Jeremy Shockey, Plaxico Burress, Amani Toomer and Brandon Jacobs scored seven apiece. The Giants' 5,787 total yards that season were the third-most in team history and their offense ranked fourth in the NFL with an average of 361.7 yards a game. It was the team's highest ranking since 1972, when the offense also ranked fourth with an average of 320.2 yards a game

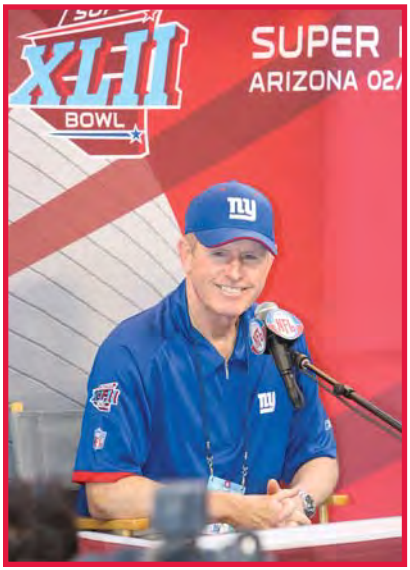

Defensively, the Giants ranked fifth in total defense in 2008, allowing 292.0 yards a game. It was their highest ranking since 2000, when they were also fifth. The 292 yards per game were the fewest allowed by the Giants since 2000, when they gave up 284.1. The Giants were ninth in the NFL in rushing defense, surrendering 95.8 yards per game. In the 2007 Super Bowl season, the Giants were eighth in rushing defense, allowing 97.7 yards a game.

Coughlin has also overseen a significant improvement in the Giants' special teams. Last year, Lawrence Tynes was fifth in the NFL in scoring with a career-high 126 points, the fourth-highest total by a kicker in Giants history. In 2008, three Giants special teams player played in the Pro Bowl – punter Jeff Feagles, kicker John Carney and long-snapper Zak DeOssie. Feagles, who was 42 in 2008, finished the season with a gross average of 44.0 yards and a net average of 40.2 yards on 64 punts. The net average was a career high. His previous best net average was 38.2 yards in 1995, his first Pro Bowl season. Feagles' gross average tied for the second-highest of his career and is just three-tenths of a yard less than the career best of 44.3 yards he set with Arizona in 1997. He averaged 44.0 yards the following year. Carney scored a career-high 143 points, the second-highest figure in Giants history and just five less than Jay Feely's record of 148 in 2005. Carney kicked 35 field goals in 38 attempts, a .921 percentage that was the best in Giants history. Two of his three misses were blocked.

The year before Coughlin arrived, the Giants averaged only 19.9 yards a kickoff return. In 2004, they led the NFL in kickoff return yardage for the first time since 1953 with an average return of 25.1 yards. In 2005, their average kickoff return dropped by less than a yard, to 24.3 yards, good for fourth in the NFL. The Giants allowed only 140 punt return yards the entire 2008 season, when opposing teams averaged 5.8 yards on punt returns, the third-best figure in the NFL.

Many Giants players have enjoyed outstanding seasons in the Coughlin era. In 2009, quarterback Eli Manning posted career highs in completions (317), completion percentage (62.3), yards (4,021), touchdowns (27) and rating (93.1). Steve Smith shattered the franchise record with 107 receptions and was the first Giants wide receiver to play in the Pro Bowl since Homer Jones in 1968 (not including David Tyree's selection as a special teams player in 2005). Smith was joined at the Pro Bowl by offensive linemen Chris Snee, Shaun O'Hara and David Diehl, the first time the Giants had three players from the same position group selected to the game since 1962. In 2008, seven Giants played in the Pro Bowl, the team's largest contingent since the 1990 Super Bowl champions sent seven players to the game. The Pro Bowlers were Manning, Snee, O'Hara, Carney, defensive end Justin Tuck, Feagles and long snapper DeOssie.

Manning, who threw two fourth-quarter touchdown passes in Super Bowl XLII, is the first Giants quarterback to throw for more than 3,000 yards in five consecutive seasons and the first to throw at least 20 touchdown passes five years in a row. Manning's 87 consecutive regular season starts was the third-longest active streak among NFL quarterbacks at the end of the 2009 season. With Brandon Jacobs (1,089 yards) and Derrick Ward (1,025), the 2008 Giants were just the fourth team in history with two running backs rushing for at least 1,000 yards apiece in the same season. Jacobs was the fourth running back in Giants history to run for at least 1,000 yards in at least two consecutive seasons. He ran for 15 touchdowns in 2008 and was just the second player in Giants history to run for that many scores in a single season.

Coughlin previously coached the Jacksonville Jaguars, taking charge of the expansion franchise more than 18 months prior to its first game and guiding the team for its first eight seasons. Under Coughlin, the Jaguars were the most successful expansion team in NFL history. Coughlin compiled a 68-60 regular season record (.531), plus a 4-4 mark in the playoffs, and twice took Jacksonville to the AFC Championship Game. The Jaguars made the playoffs every year from 1996-99, the only expansion team in history to earn four postseason berths in its first five seasons.

Under Coughlin, the Jaguars compiled several impressive statistical records. Jacksonville was 55-12 in games in which it owned a lead entering the fourth period. The Jaguars were 40-28 in games against division opponents, 21-3 in games in which they scored a touchdown on their initial offensive possession and 51-30 in games in which they rushed for at least 100 yards.

Coughlin was out of football in 2003 but has been in the coaching profession for more than 40 years. He has always emphasized ball security and his teams have been among the very best in the NFL at taking care of the football. His career turnover differential is plus-43 in the regular season and plus-two in the postseason. In the 128 regular season games they played under Coughlin, the Jaguars committed fewer than three turnovers in 104 of them, including 32 in which they had no giveaways. In those 128 games, Jacksonville had 187 giveaways, giving Coughlin a 1.46 turnovers-per-game average. Only eight teams in history have had fewer turnovers than games played. Coughlin was the head coach of two of them – the 2002 Jaguars and 2008 Giants – and an assistant on another (the 1990 Giants).

The Jaguars' turnover differential during Coughlin's eight-year tenure was plus-34. In four seasons under Coughlin, the Giants are plus-nine, including an NFC-best plus-nine in 2008, when the Giants lost only three fumbles all year.

Coughlin became the first head coach of the expansion Jaguars on Feb. 21, 1994, 559 days before the franchise played its first regular season game. In 1995, Jacksonville won four games, more than any previous expansion team in NFL history. The following year, Coughlin was named NFL Coach of the Year by United Press International as the Jaguars made the playoffs in just their second season and advanced all the way to the AFC Championship Game, where they lost to the New England Patriots.

That began a streak of four consecutive playoff seasons for the Jaguars. In both 1997 and '98 Jacksonville won 11 games, winning their first division title in 1998. The following season, the Jaguars had an NFL-best record of 14-2 and again advanced to the conference title game.

Coughlin earned a reputation as one of the NFL's finest offensive coaches. During his tenure, the Jaguars led the NFL in both passing yards (4,367 in 1996) and rushing yards (2,091 in 1999). In addition to having the most rushing yards in the NFL in 1999, Jacksonville boasted the league's leading receiver in Jimmy Smith (116 receptions). The only other team in history to accomplish that double was the 1954 San Francisco 49ers.

Coughlin arrived in Jacksonville following three years as the head coach at Boston College, where he turned a struggling program into a Top 20 team. He was 21-13-1 in three seasons (1991-93) with the Eagles, including 9-3 in 1993, when Boston College won eight consecutive games, defeated top-ranked Notre Dame, 41-39, and beat Virginia in the Carquest Bowl. Coughlin's last Boston College team was ranked 12th in the USA Today/CNN coaches poll and 13th by the Associated Press, despite starting the season 0-2. The Eagles were 8-2-1 in 1992 and 4-7 in his first season in 1991.

Coughlin, Tony Sparano of the Miami Dolphins, Pete Carroll of the Seattle Seahawks and Chan Gailey of the Buffalo Bills are the only current NFL head coaches with experience as college head coaches.

Coughlin was the Giants wide receivers coach under Parcells from 1988-90. Under his tutelage, receivers such as Mark Ingram, Lionel Manuel, Odessa Turner and Stephen Baker all improved and helped the Giants win their second Super Bowl.

Coughlin began his coaching career in 1969 as a graduate assistant at Syracuse, his alma mater. He was the head coach at the Rochester Institute of Technology from 1970-73, compiling a record of 16-15-2. Coughlin returned to Syracuse in 1974, first serving as quarterbacks and offensive backfield coach for three seasons before being promoted to offensive coordinator for four years. He directed an offense that led the Orangemen to victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl, their first postseason triumph in 13 years.

In 1981, Coughlin went to Boston College for the first time, as quarterbacks coach under Jack Bicknell. He helped the Eagles win their first bowl game and coached Doug Flutie, who would win the Heisman Trophy in 1984, one season after Coughlin's departure. In 1983, Boston College won the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy as Eastern Champion, its first in 42 years.

Coughlin entered the NFL as the Philadelphia Eagles' wide receivers coach in 1984 and '85. He held the same position with the Green Bay Packers in 1986 and '87 before moving to the Giants for a three-year stint.

Coughlin was a standout scholastic star at Waterloo (N.Y.) Central High School, where the football stadium now bears his name. He was a three-year letterman at Syracuse for legendary coach Ben Schwartzwalder from 1965-67. A wingback, Coughlin played in a backfield with All-America backs and Pro Football Hall of Famers Larry Csonka and Floyd Little. As a senior in 1967, Coughlin broke Syracuse's single-season pass receiving record. That year, he won Syracuse's Orange Key Award as the university's outstanding scholar-athlete. He graduated in 1968 with a bachelor's degree in education and received a master's degree in education the following year.

Thomas Richard Coughlin was born on Aug. 31, 1946 in Waterloo. He is the oldest of seven children. Coughlin and his wife Judy, have two daughters, Keli and Kate; two son-in-laws named Chris; two sons, Brian and Tim; two daughters-in-law, Andrea (Tim's wife) and Susie (Brian's wife); and nine grandchildren: Emma Rose, Dylan, Shea, Cooper, Caroline, Marin, Wesley, Brennon and Clara.

THE TOM COUGHLIN JAY FUND FOUNDATION

The Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation was created in honor of Jay McGillis. Jay was a very special young man who was a member of Coughlin's team at Boston College and developed leukemia. The courage, compassion and faith he demonstrated during the course of his illness were an inspiration to many people.

The mission of the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation is to assist children with leukemia and other cancers and their families by providing emotional and financial support to help reduce the stress associated with treatment and improve their quality of life.

TOM COUGHLIN JAY FUND FOUNDATION
GRANT DISTRIBUTION GUIDELINES:

Support is provided in the following ways:
a .Providing direct financial assistance for household expenses and illness related expenses that families incur during the course of treatment for childhood cancer. Assistance can be continued up until 6 months after treatment ends.
b. Providing opportunities to improve the quality of life and long term outlook of these patients and their families through support of special projects and programming
c. Providing assistance with funding for umbilical cord blood transplants

John and Pat McGillis with Judy and Tom Coughlin

Since its inception in Jacksonville in 1996, the Jay Fund Foundation has donated more than $2.5 million in support to help children and their families. Upon joining the Giants organization in 2004, Coughlin expanded the Jay Fund to the New York/New Jersey metropolitan area. The foundation hosts several annual fundraising events, including a Wine Tasting Gala and Celebrity Golf Classic Tournament in Jacksonville and Champions for Children Gala in Manhattan. Coach Coughlin also regularly hosts special parties and events for pediatric oncology patients and other ill children in partnership with the Make a Wish Foundation.

TOM COUGHLIN VS. NFL COACHES

During Tom Coughlin's 14 seasons as an NFL head coach, he has coached against 79 different coaches in the National Football League (including postseason games). Coughlin has at least one victory against 66 of the coaches he has faced. In addition, Coughlin either leads or is tied in the lifetime series with 56 of those 79 coaches.

KEVIN GILBRIDE
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Kevin Gilbride is in his fourth full season as the Giants' offensive coordinator after serving the previous three years as the team's quarterbacks coach. Gilbride assumed play-calling duties from former coordinator John Hufnagel prior to the 2006 regular season finale in Washington.

With Gilbride devising game plans and calling plays, the Giants won four games, including Super Bowl XLII, in the 2007 postseason and the offense has ranked among the NFL's top eight in each of the last two seasons. In 2009, the Giants were eighth in the league, averaging 366.0 yards per game. They scored 402 points after scoring 425 in 2008, marking the first time in franchise history the Giants scored at least 400 points in consecutive seasons. The Giants gained 5,856 yards, the second-highest total in franchise history and just 28 yards less than the franchise record set in 1985. In addition, they set a franchise record with 4,019 net passing yards, the first 4,000-yard season in team history. The old record of 3,951 was set in 2002. The Giants' 323 first downs tied for the fourth-highest total in franchise history. They had 62 pass plays of 20 or more yards, which left them tied for fifth in the NFL.

Under Gilbride, the offense posted many impressive numbers in 2008, when it ranked seventh in the NFL with an average of 355.9 yards a game. The Giants' 427 points and 338 first downs were both the second-highest totals in franchise history. They rushed for NFL-leading and franchise record numbers of 2,518 yards and 5.0 yards per carry. The previous records were 2,451 yards in 1985 and 4.7 yards an attempt in 2005 and 2006. The Giants rushed for 301 yards in an overtime victory over Carolina on Dec. 21, the fifth-highest total in team history and their highest total in 49 years.

That season, Brandon Jacobs rushed for 1,089 yards and Derrick Ward ran for 1,025 to become the fourth pair of backs from the same team – and the fifth set of teammates – to run for at least 1,000 yards in the same season.

Gilbride has worked closely with Eli Manning throughout the quarterback's career. In 2009, Manning completed 317 of 509 passes attempts (62.3 percent) for 4,021 yards, 27 touchdowns, 14 interceptions and a passer rating of 93.1. The completions, percentage, yards, touchdowns and rating were all career highs. Manning is the only quarterback in Giants history with five consecutive 3,000-yard seasons and five consecutive seasons with 20 touchdown passes. Manning is one of four quarterbacks to throw for at least 3,000 yards every season from 2005-09. The others are Drew Brees, Brett Favre and Peyton Manning. He is one of three quarterbacks with at least 20 touchdown passes in each of the last five seasons, joining Brees and Peyton Manning.

Gilbride joined the Giants as the team's quarterbacks coach on Jan. 26, 2004. He was reunited with Tom Coughlin, for whom he worked as the Jacksonville Jaguars' first offensive coordinator in 1995 and 96. Gilbride has also coordinated offenses for the Houston Oilers, Pittsburgh Steelers and Buffalo Bills. The 2010 season is Gilbride's 36th in coaching and 21st in the National Football League.

As quarterbacks coach, Gilbride was at the forefront of the development of Manning, the No. 1 selection in the 2004 NFL Draft. In 2005, under Gilbride's guidance, Manning led the Giants to the NFC East title while throwing 557 passes, the third-highest total in the league and the second-highest total in team history. Manning's 294 completions tied for ninth in the NFL and placed him fourth on the Giants' single-season list. His 3,762 yards were fifth in the NFL and fifth on the franchise's single-season list. Manning threw 24 touchdown passes, the most by a Giant since Fran Tarkenton had 29 in 1967.

In 2006, Gilbride's last as quarterbacks coach, Manning threw 522 passes, the sixth-highest total in Giants history. He completed 301 of those throws to become just the second quarterback in franchise history to top 300 completions in a season. Manning threw 24 touchdown passes, matching his 2005 total and leaving him tied for fourth in the NFL with St. Louis Pro Bowler Marc Bulger. Manning became the first Giants quarterback to throw at least 20 touchdown passes in consecutive seasons since Phil Simms did it three years in a row from 1984-86.

Manning's development under Gilbride became evident in the latter part of the quarterback's rookie season in 2004. In the last three games of the year, Manning completed 53 of 87 passes (61 percent) for 527 yards, five touchdowns and three interceptions. In the season-ending victory over Dallas, Manning threw three touchdown passes and led a 66-yard drive in the final two minutes for the winning score.

Prior to joining the Giants, Gilbride spent two years as the Bills' offensive coordinator. In his first season in Buffalo, the Bills set seven offensive team records, including most net passing yards (3,995). Quarterback Drew Bledsoe set 10 team records. That year, Buffalo had the fifth-best passing offense in the NFL and was 11th overall while averaging 23.7 points, 22.2 first downs, and 349.4 yards per game. That offense featured the franchise's first 4,000-yard passer in Bledsoe, two 1,200-yard receivers (Eric Moulds and Peerless Price) and a 1,400-yard rusher (Travis Henry).

Gilbride entered the NFL as the quarterbacks coach of the Oilers in 1989. He was promoted to offensive coordinator from 1990-93 and then to assistant head coach/offense in 1994. Houston ranked first in the NFL in passing yards in 1990, 1991, 1992 and 1993. The Oilers also ranked first in the league in total offense in 1990, second in 1991, third in 1992 and second in 1993.

Gilbride's first stint with Coughlin began in 1995, when Gilbride took over as the offensive coordinator of the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars. The following year, the Jaguars led the NFL with 259.7 passing yards per game and were second in total offense with 360.2 yards per contest, a performance that helped Jacksonville to the AFC Championship Game in just its second year of existence.

After two years in Jacksonville, Gilbride was named the 10th head coach in San Diego Chargers history on Jan. 19, 1997 and posted a 6-16 record over the course of the 1997-98 seasons. He spent the 1999 and 2000 seasons as offensive coordinator with the Pittsburgh Steelers. In 2001, Gilbride was an analyst with ESPN.

Prior to joining the NFL, Gilbride spent two seasons (1985-86) in the Canadian Football League as an assistant with the Ottawa Rough Riders.

Gilbride began his career as the linebackers coach at Idaho State in 1974-75. He held the same position at Tufts University in 1976-77. Gilbride was the defensive coordinator at American International and the head coach at his alma mater, Southern Connecticut State University, from 1980-84. He compiled a 35-14-2 record, a .706 winning percentage that is the best in school history.

Gilbride was born in New Haven, Con., and earned a degree in physical education from Southern Connecticut State, where he also played quarterback and tight end. He received his master's in athletic administration from Idaho State. He and his wife, Deborah, have three children - daughters Kelly and Kristen and son, Kevin. Kelly is a 1998 graduate of Harvard University, Kristen graduated from the University of Connecticut in 1999 and Kevin graduated from the University of Hawaii in 2003 and is currently the Giants' offensive quality control coach.

PERRY FEWELL

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Tom Coughlin reached into his past for a coach to lead his defense into the future when he hired Perry Fewell as the Giants' defensive coordinator on Jan. 14, 2010. Fewell once spent five seasons as Coughlin's secondary coach in Jacksonville. He is a 25-year coaching veteran who is in his 13th season as an NFL coach.

Prior to joining the Giants, Fewell spent four seasons as the Buffalo Bills' defensive coordinator and was the team's interim head coach for the final seven games of the 2009 season. The Bills were 3-4 under his direction. Fewell was brought to Buffalo by Dick Jauron, who was Coughlin's defensive coordinator in Jacksonville for four seasons. Fewell and Jauron spent the 1998 season together with the Jaguars.

"I expect Perry to bring the same qualities that I expect from myself," said Coughlin. "I want him to be firm, fair, honest and demanding. My expectation is that he will solidify and unify our defense and be an outstanding teacher. I want energy, enthusiasm, toughness and to make the necessary corrections and game adjustments. Perry is a teacher and a leader and I thought he did an outstanding job of displaying great leadership as the interim head coach of Buffalo last season."

Buffalo's defense under Fewell allowed only 14 touchdown passes in each of the last two seasons. In 2009, that tied for the second-best total in the NFL and was eight below the league average. The Bills were tied for fifth in the NFL with 33 takeaways. Their 28 interceptions were exceeded only by Green Bay's 30. The Giants had 24 takeaways and 13 interceptions in 2009. Buffalo's turnover differential improved from minus-eight in 2008 to plus-three in 2009. Bills rookie safety Jairus Byrd tied for the NFL lead with nine interceptions in only 14 games. The nine interceptions were five more than any other rookie had. Byrd was placed on injured reserve with a groin injury and missed the final two games but became the first Bills rookie to be selected to the Pro Bowl since Greg Bell in 1984.

In his four years as the coordinator in Buffalo, the Bills' defense ranked 18th, 31st, 14th and 19th in the NFL. In 2009, Buffalo allowed 340.6 yards and 20.4 points a game. The Giants' gave up 324.9 yards and 26.7 points a game.

In 2008, the Bills were fourth in the NFL in red zone defense, allowing a touchdown on only 41.8 percent of the opposition possessions inside the 20-yard line (23 of 55). They were second in the AFC in negative yardage plays and held their opponents to less than 100 rushing yards seven times.

Fewell coached Chicago defensive backs in 2005, when the Bears led the NFC with 24 interceptions and cornerback Nathan Vasher and safety Mike Brown were selected to the Pro Bowl.

"His defenses have consistently done a good job taking the ball away," Coughlin said.

In 2003 and 2004, Fewell was the secondary coach of the St. Louis Rams.

Fewell entered the NFL as the defensive backs coach for Coughlin and the Jaguars in 1998, a position he held through the 2002 season. Jacksonville's pass defense ranked third in the NFL in 1999 and two years later the Jaguars gave up only 13 touchdown passes.

"We brought Perry into the league in Jacksonville," said Coughlin, "and I was impressed with his thoroughness, his ability to work with the players and his absolute intent on learning all he could about his profession. He was hired as the secondary coach and he has had great experiences in St. Louis and Chicago with Lovie Smith and that system and in Buffalo with Dick Jauron, who was my original defensive coordinator in Jacksonville."

Fewell was a collegiate coach for 13 years prior to entering the NFL. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of North Carolina in 1985 and '86. Fewell was the defensive backs coach at Army in 1987. The following year, he began a four-year stint as the wide receivers coach at Kent State. In 1992, he returned to West Point, where he spent three seasons as the defensive line coach. Fewell's final college job was at Vanderbilt, where he coached the secondary from 1995-97 and was also assistant head coach in his final season there.

Fewell was born on Sept. 7, 1962 in Gastonia, N.C. He was on the football and track teams at South Point High School in Belmont, N.C. and was inducted into the Belmont Sports Hall of Fame in 2001. Fewell lettered as a defensive back for four years at Lenoir-Rhyne College and was named the team's most improved player in 1983. He graduated with a degree in business administration in 1985.

Fewell and his wife, Kathleen, have two sons.

TOM QUINN

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Tom Quinn is in his fifth season with the Giants and his fourth as the team's special teams coordinator. His first year with the team was spent as an assistant to Mike Sweatman, who retired following the 2006 season. Head coach Tom Coughlin quickly named Quinn to replace Sweatman.

The Giants again benefitted from outstanding special teams play in 2009. Lawrence Tynes led the Giants and was fifth in the NFL in scoring with a career-high 126 points, the fourth-highest total by a kicker in team history. With Domenik Hixon doing the bulk of the work, the Giants were seventh in the NFL with a 10.9-yard punt return average. Hixon also set Giants single-season records with 57 kickoff returns for 1,291 yards. On Oct. 18 at New Orleans, Hixon had 303 total yards, shattering Joe Scott's 61-year-old franchise record by 24 yards. The total included 230 kickoff return and 51 punt return yards. Opposing teams averaged only 21.0 yards per kickoff return, the NFL's eighth-best figure.

In 2008, three of the Giants' special teams players – kicker John Carney, punter Jeff Feagles and long snapper Zak DeOssie – were named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. Chase Blackburn was named a Pro Bowl alternate as a cover specialist.

Carney was signed just prior to the season because Tynes was sidelined with an injury. Quinn quickly integrated Carney into the kicking unit and the veteran had the best season a Giants kicker has ever had, succeeding on 35 of 38 field goals attempts for a franchise-record .921 percentage. Carney's 35 field goals tied the team single-season record, which he shares with Ali Haji-Sheikh (1983) and Jay Feely (2005).

That season, Feagles had a gross average of 44.0 yards and a net average of 40.2 yards on 64 punts. His previous best net average was 38.2 yards in 1995, his first Pro Bowl season. Feagles' gross average tied for the second-highest of his career and was just three-tenths of a yard less than the career best of 44.3 yards he set with Arizona in 1997. Feagles holds the NFL records for punts (1,713), punting yards (71,211) and punts downed inside the 20-yard line (554).

In addition to the Pro Bowlers' exploits, Quinn's coverage teams played extremely well that season. The Giants' special teams were ranked fourth in the NFL according to a comprehensive survey by the Dallas Morning News. The Giants allowed only 140 punt return yards all season and were ranked third in the NFL in punt coverage, giving up an average of only 5.85 yards a return. The team's field goal percentage of 92.3 was ranked third. The Giants blocked three field goals and opposing teams converted 73 percent of their attempts, the fourth-lowest figure in the NFL. The 40.2-yard net punting average was a Giants record and placed them fourth in the league. Their opponents averaged 5.8 yards a return, the NFL's third-best figure. Hixon averaged a team-record 60.0 yards on three kickoff returns at Arizona.

The special teams overcame adversity and performed well in the Giants' 2007 championship season. Long-snapper Ryan Kuehl suffered a season-ending injury in training camp, and the Giants used rookie snappers Jay Alford (on placekicks) and DeOssie (for punts) the entire year. Tynes made 23 of 27 field goal attempts (85.2 percent), the same numbers posted the previous season by Feely. Tynes also made the biggest kick of the postseason, a game-winning 47-yarder in overtime in the NFC Championship Game in Green Bay.

Quinn employed three kickoff returners – Ahmad Bradshaw, Reuben Droughns and Domenik Hixon – and the Giants finished seventh in the NFL with a 23.9-yard average. The coverage teams were also strong; Giants opponents averaged only 6.2 yards on 28 punt returns.

Quinn, 42, coached in the collegiate ranks for 15 years. Before joining the Giants, he spent four years on the coaching staff at Stanford University. Quinn coached the special teams in each of those seasons, plus the tight ends in 2002 and 2003, and the outside linebackers in 2004 and 2005.

Quinn began his career coaching linebackers at Davidson in 1991. From 1992-94, he was the special teams coach and recruiting coordinator at James Madison. In 1995, he was the defensive coordinator at Boston University and from 1996-98 Quinn was the defensive coordinator at Holy Cross.

Quinn moved back to the West Coast in 1999 at San Jose State, where in three years he worked with the linebackers, tight ends and with the special teams. He joined the staff at Stanford in 2002.

Quinn grew up in Southern California, where he played at Foothill High School. From 1986-90, Quinn was a linebacker at the University of Arizona, where he played on three bowl teams. He earned a bachelor's degree in interdisciplinary studies in 1990 and a master's in education the following year.

Quinn and his wife, Alison, have a son, Shane, and two daughters, Logan and Riley.

JACK BICKNELL, JR.

ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE

Jack Bicknell, Jr. is in his second season as the Giants' assistant offensive line coach. He works with Pat Flaherty in leading the continued development of the offensive line.

In Bicknell's first season with the Giants, three members of the line played in the Pro Bowl – center Shaun O'Hara, guard Chris Snee and tackle David Diehl. It was the first time since 1962 that three Giants from the same position group were selected to the Pro Bowl together. In addition, rookie Will Beatty started four games and showed off the skill that prompted the Giants to select him in the second round of the draft.

Bicknell joined the Giants after two seasons as the assistant head coach/offensive line coach at Boston College. In 2008, the line coached by Bicknell helped Boston College finish fifth in the ACC in both scoring (24.7 points a game) and in rushing (143.3 yards per game) and third in sacks allowed (21 in 14 games).

In 2007, Bicknell helped mold a young offensive line that protected ACC Player of the Year Matt Ryan – now the Atlanta Falcons' quarterback - and helped the Eagles generate nearly 6,000 yards of total offense. The Eagles allowed only 22 sacks in 14 games. Bicknell helped develop Gosder Cherilus, whom the Detroit Lions selected with the 17th overall pick in the 2008 NFL Draft. B.C. finished the season ranked 10th in the nation, the team's best final poll finish since 1984, when Bicknell was the Eagles' center.

Prior to his two-year stay at BC, Bicknell spent eight seasons as the head coach at Louisiana Tech, where his 43 victories are the third-most in school history.

During Bicknell's stint, Louisiana Tech routinely played one of the nation's toughest schedules. The Bulldogs faced Florida State, Penn State, Miami, Tennessee, Nebraska, Texas A&M, Clemson and Auburn. Under his leadership, Tech defeated national powers Alabama, Michigan State and Oklahoma State and 22 of his players were either drafted by or signed free agent contracts with NFL teams.

Bicknell, who was one of the youngest Division I-A head coaches when he started, led the 1999 Bulldogs to an 8-3 record, the school's first AP Top 25 ranking and a 29-28 upset win over eventual SEC champion Alabama. In 2001, Louisiana Tech won the Western Athletic Conference championship during its first year of membership, earning Bicknell conference Coach of the Year honors. Louisiana Tech went on to play Clemson in the Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl, the program's first postseason appearance since 1990.

Bicknell began his coaching career at Boston College in 1985 as a graduate assistant. In 1987, he went to the University of New Hampshire as the defensive line coach and took over the offensive line in 1993. During his time at UNH, the Wildcats won the Yankee Conference in 1991 and 1994 and were the New England Division champions in 1996. He was the offensive line coach at Louisiana Tech in 1997-98 before becoming the head coach. After leaving Louisiana Tech in 2007, Bicknell accepted the offensive line job at Texas Tech, but later opted to return to his alma mater.

Bicknell's father, Jack, served as the head coach of the Barcelona Dragons of NFL Europe and was the head coach at BC from 1981-90, finishing with a record of 59-55-1.

Bicknell played at Boston College from 1981-85, which coincided with Coughlin's tenure as an assistant coach there (81-83). He played in the Cotton and Tangerine Bowls and in 1984 started one of the most famous plays in college football history when he snapped the ball to Doug Flutie, who threw the Hail Mary pass to Gerard Phelan that defeated Miami in the Orange Bowl. As a senior at BC, he received the Scanlon Award, the highest honor bestowed upon a BC football player, the Scarminach Award for athletic and academic excellence and the Dean's Award in the school of education. Bicknell received both his bachelor's (1985) and master's (1987) degrees from Boston College. He and his wife Helen have three children: John, Katelyn and Alyse.

PAT FLAHERTY

OFFENSIVE LINE

Pat Flaherty, who has more than 30 years of coaching experience, is in his 11th season as an NFL coach and seventh as the Giants' offensive line coach.

The Giants have consistently had one of the NFL's best and most dependable offensive lines since Flaherty began coaching the unit. The same five linemen – center Shaun O'Hara, guards Chris Snee and Rich Seubert, and tackles David Diehl and Kareem McKenzie – started 38 consecutive regular season games from 2007-09, then the longest active streak in the NFL. Last season, O'Hara, Snee and Diehl all played in the Pro Bowl, the first time the Giants had three players from the same position group play in the game since 1962. In was the second consecutive Pro Bowl for O'Hara and Snee, who were the first Giants offensive linemen to be two-time Pro Bowlers since Ron Stone in 2000 and 2001.

In 2008, Snee and O'Hara were selected to the NFC Pro Bowl team. Snee, who was a starter, was the first Giants guard to play in the Pro Bowl since Stone in 2001 and O'Hara the first Giants center to go to the game since Bart Oates in 1993. In addition, Diehl was selected as a third alternate.

With the line leading the way, the Giants rushed for NFL-leading and franchise record numbers of 2,518 yards and 5.0 yards per carry. It was the first time since 1993 that the Giants led the NFL in rushing.

In 2007, the Giants were fourth in the NFL in rushing yardage with 134.3 yards a game. The Giants were also fourth in the league with a 4.6-yards-per-carry average. In 2006, the Giants were seventh in the NFL with an average of 134.8 rushing yards a game and sixth with an average of 4.7 yards per carry. The Giants' 138.1-yard rushing average in 2005 placed them sixth in the league. In 2004, the Giants averaged 119.0 yards a game and 4.5 yards a carry, which were far superior to the 97.4 and 4.0 averages the Giants posted in 2003, the year before Tom Coughlin and Flaherty arrived.

The line also did an outstanding job protecting Giants quarterbacks, who dropped back to pass 548 times and absorbed only 28 sacks in 17 games (including the NFC Divisional Playoff Game).

The Giants had a 1,000-yard rusher in five of the first six seasons in which Flaherty coached the line. In 2008, they had two in Brandon Jacobs (1,089) and Derrick Ward (1,025), just the fourth set of running back teammates in NFL history with more than 1,000 rushing yards in the same season. In 2007, Jacobs rushed for 1,009 yards, despite missing five games and most of a sixth with injuries. Tiki Barber made the only three Pro Bowls of his career while rushing for 1,518, 1,860 and 1,662 yards in the three years he ran behind a Flaherty-coached line.

Prior to joining the Giants, Flaherty was the Chicago Bears' tight ends coach for three seasons. Under Flaherty, the group was instrumental in helping Anthony Thomas twice rush for more than 1,000 yards, including 1,024 yards in 2003. In addition, Chicago's tight ends played a bigger role in the team's passing attack under Flaherty. In 2003, Desmond Clark caught 44 passes, the third-highest total on the Bears.

In 2000, Flaherty coached the Washington Redskins' tight ends and helped Stephen Alexander earn an invitation to the Pro Bowl. Alexander was third on the Redskins that season with 47 catches.

Flaherty began his coaching career at his alma mater, DeLone Catholic High School in McSherrytown, Penn., from 1978-80.

Flaherty coached in the collegiate ranks from 1980-99. He began with a two-year stint coaching the offensive line at East Stroudsburg University, his alma mater. Flaherty joined the staff at Penn State in 1982, a season in which the Nittany Lions defeated Georgia in the Sugar Bowl to win the national championship. After two seasons at Penn State, Flaherty moved to Rutgers, where he coached the offensive line for eight years.

Flaherty spent the 1992 season coaching the defensive line at East Carolina. From 1993-98 he was on the staff at Wake Forest, where he coached the offensive line, tight ends and special teams. In 1999, he coached tight ends and special teams and was in charge of recruiting at the University of Iowa.

Flaherty was an All-America center at East Stroudsburg. He was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in October 2004. He and his wife, Lynne, have two children, Shawn and Colleen.

KEVIN GILBRIDE, JR.

OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Kevin Gilbride is in his first season as the Giants' offensive quality control coach and first in the NFL. He succeeds Sean Ryan, who is now the team's wide receivers coach.

Gilbride is the son of Giants offensive coordinator Kevin Gilbride. He spent the previous three seasons as the wide receivers coach at Temple University. In 2009, Gilbride was a member of the Temple coaching staff that led the Owls to a 9-4 record - their first winning record since 1990 - and their first bowl game since 1979, the EagleBank Bowl in Washington.

The previous season, Gilbride coached Bruce Francis, who earned the Owls' offensive most valuable player award. Francis, who was an All-MAC selection, became Temple's Division I-A career leader in receiving touchdowns (23). The Owls' leading receiver with 687 yards on 45 catches for a Division I-A school record 13 touchdowns, Francis finished his collegiate career with a reception in a school record 38 consecutive games.

Prior to joining the Temple staff, Gilbride coached the slot receivers and tight ends at Georgetown in 2006. He also headed the kickoff coverage unit and assisted on punt, kickoff return and punt block. He recruited in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Florida and Delaware for the Hoyas.

Gilbride was an offensive graduate assistant coach at Syracuse for two seasons (2004-05), working heavily with the tight ends in 2005. The Orange captured a share of the Big East title in 2004 and earned a berth in the Champs Sports Bowl. Gilbride first joined the SU staff as a graduate assistant for video in 2003 before then head coach Paul Pasqualoni moved him into a coaching role.

Gilbride, 30, graduated from the University of Hawaii in 2003 with a bachelor's degree in speech communications. He was a backup quarterback and played on special teams for the Warriors in 2000 after sitting out the 1999 season following his transfer from Brigham Young. He also earned four letters as a baseball player at Hawaii, playing outfield, first base and designated hitter. As a senior, he batted .308, had a .413 on base percentage and did not commit an error.

PETER GIUNTA

SECONDARY COACH/CORNERBACKS

Peter Giunta is in his fifth season as the Giants' secondary coach/cornerbacks. He joined the team on Jan. 18, 2006. Giunta, who has spent 19 of his 29-year coaching career in the NFL, was the defensive coordinator for the 1999 Super Bowl champion St. Louis Rams.

In his first four seasons with the Giants, Giunta has been at the forefront in the development of young cornerbacks such as Aaron Ross, Corey Webster, Terrell Thomas and Bruce Johnson. In 2009, Thomas, then a second-year pro, earned a starting job in training camp, led the team in tackles (101), interceptions (five) and passes defensed and established himself as one of the NFL's finest young corners. Johnson, an undrafted rookie, played in every game with four starts and returned an interception for a touchdown at Dallas.

In 2008, Webster, Ross and safety James Butler tied for the team lead with three interceptions apiece. Ross, the team's 2007 first-round draft choice, scored a touchdown on an interception return in each of his first two seasons. Webster, a second-round choice in 2005, re-joined the starting lineup in the 2007 postseason and has since been a fixture in the lineup. Thomas became an important member of the secondary in the second half of his rookie season.

With the cornerbacks playing solid football all season, the Giants were eighth in the NFL in pass defense in 2008, allowing 196.2 yards a game.

Prior to joining the Giants, Giunta (pronounced GEN-ta) spent five seasons as the Kansas City Chiefs' defensive backs coach. In 2003, safety Jerome Woods earned his initial Pro Bowl berth under Giunta's guidance, an impressive feat considering the fact that he missed the entire 2002 campaign with a broken right leg. The Chiefs registered 25 interceptions to rank third in the NFL that season, as safety Greg Wesley and cornerback Dexter McCleon paced the team with six picks apiece.

Giunta joined the Chiefs after spending four seasons (1997-2000) with St. Louis, including the last three as that club's defensive coordinator. Giunta served as the Rams' assistant head coach under Dick Vermeil in 1998-99 after originally joining the Rams staff as defensive backs coach in 1997.

As Rams defensive coordinator, Giunta was responsible for the resurgence in the St. Louis defense which helped spark the club's remarkable run to a world championship in 1999. Those efforts culminated with a 13-3 regular season record that year and a 23-16 victory over Tennessee in Super Bowl XXXIV. Giunta's unit led the league in rush defense in '99, allowing just 74.3 yards per game, while ranking fourth in scoring defense (15.1 points per game) and sixth in total defense (293.6 yards per game).
The Rams' 1999 defense led the NFC and was second in the NFL with 29 interceptions. Cornerback Todd Lyght led the way, tying for the league lead with six interceptions, earning his initial Pro Bowl berth in the process. St. Louis was also opportunistic, returning nine takeaways (seven interception and two fumbles) for touchdowns in '99. Those turnovers were due in large part to a Rams pass rush which racked up 57.0 sacks, a figure which tied Tom Coughlin's Jacksonville Jaguars for the league lead. That charge was headlined by Pro Bowl DE Kevin Carter, who led the NFL with 17.0 sacks.

Giunta has long had a reputation for getting the most out of the defensive backs he coaches. In 2000, McCleon intercepted eight passes for St. Louis, a total which was surpassed only by Green Bay safety Darren Sharper, who had nine. In Giunta's first season as defensive coordinator in 1998, St. Louis ranked third in the NFL in passing defense, allowing 176.9 yards per game. With Giunta serving as defensive backs coach in 1997 the Rams were second in the league with 25 interceptions, including an NFL-high nine by Ryan McNeil.

Prior to his stint with the Rams, Giunta spent two seasons as the defensive backs coach for the Jets. In 1995, the Jets led the league in pass defense (171.3 yards per game). Giunta was also instrumental in the development of cornerback Aaron Glenn, who played in the Pro Bowl following the 1997 and '98 seasons.

Giunta entered the NFL as the defensive backs coach in Philadelphia from 1991-94. During the '91 season, the Eagles defense ranked first in the league in passing defense (150.8 yards per game), rushing defense (71.0 yards per game) and total defense (221.8 yards per game). That marked just the fifth time in NFL history and the first time since 1975 that a single team led the league in all three of those defensive categories. No team has equaled that feat since the 1991 Eagles.

Giunta's 10 seasons in the collegiate ranks began at Penn State (1981-83). Giunta was a defensive assistant his first year on Joe Paterno's staff before coaching the tight ends in his final two seasons. While he was at Penn State, the Nittany Lions won the 1982 National Championship with a 27-23 victory over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl. Penn State won three bowl games during Giunta's tenure ('82 Fiesta, '83 Sugar and '83 Aloha).

Following Penn State, Giunta moved to Brown (1984-87), where he coached both the tight ends and wide receivers before becoming the offensive coordinator (1986-87). Giunta then joined the staff at Lehigh (1988-90), where he was responsible for the tight ends and wide receivers.

After a four-year playing career as a defensive back and running back at Northeastern (1974-77), Giunta began his coaching career in Massachusetts where he was an assistant coach at Swampscott High School from 1978-80.

Giunta is a native of Salem, Massachusetts and a graduate of Northeastern University. He and his wife, Cindy, have three children: Christina, John and D.J.

JIM HERRMANN
LINEBACKERS

Jim Herrmann is in his second season as the Giants linebackers coach and fifth season in the NFL. Herrmann joined the coaching staff on Jan. 22, 2009 following three years as the linebackers coach for the Jets. Prior to that, Herrmann was on the coaching staff at the University of Michigan, his alma mater, for 20 years, including a nine-year stint as defensive coordinator.

In 2009, injuries forced Herrmann to juggle his corps of linebackers throughout the season. Four different players – Antonio Pierce, Chase Blackburn, Jonathan Goff and Bryan Kehl – started at middle linebacker. Michael Boley and Blackburn were starters on the weak side. Herrmann also oversaw the development of last year's second round draft choice, Clint Sintim.

In 2008, Herrmann helped coach a Jets defense that finished seventh in the NFL against the run (94.9 yards a game) and 16th overall (329.4). Two of the linebackers Herrmann coached, Eric Barton and Calvin Pace, were the team's top two tacklers.

The previous year, one of Herrmann's former Michigan players, David Harris, joined the Jets. As a rookie, Harris led the team with 117 tackles and tied for the team lead with five sacks.

Prior to joining the Jets, Herrmann was on the Michigan coaching staff for two decades. In 1997, Herrmann's first year as defensive coordinator, the Wolverines won the national championship while leading the country in total defense, scoring defense and pass efficiency. Herrmann was the recipient of the Broyles Award as the National Assistant Coach of the Year.

During Herrmann's nine years as coordinator, Michigan won five Big Ten championships and the defense held 47 opponents to less than 100 rushing yards. His defense led the Big Ten in sacks in 1997, 2001 and 2002, including a school-record 50 sacks in 2001. Herrmann coached six All-Americas at Michigan, including Marlin Jackson, Ernest Shazor, Leon Hall, LaMarr Woodley, Larry Foote and Charles Woodson, who won the 1997 Heisman Trophy and was named the national Defensive Player of the Year as a senior.

Herrmann was a three-year letter-winner at linebacker for Michigan and was a member of Schembechler's first Rose Bowl-winning team in 1980. A Michigan native, Herrmann was a three-sport athlete and standout linebacker at Dearborn Divine High School.

Herrmann has three children, Jessica, Cory and Timothy.

AL HOLCOMB

DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Al Holcomb is in his second season as the Giants' defensive quality control coach.

Prior to joining the Giants, Holcomb spent three seasons as the defensive line coach at Lafayette. In 2008, the Leopards led the Patriot League in both total defense (303.2 yards a game) and scoring defense (17.5 points a game). Lafayette also allowed the fewest first downs in the league (176), the best defensive third-down conversion percentage (33.6) and had the lowest passing efficiency by opposing quarterbacks (116.0). Defensive lineman Jason Mills was named to the All-Patriot League first team.

In 2007, Holcomb mentored All-Patriot League First-Team tackle Kyle Sprenkle and second-team defensive end Keith Bloom. Lafayette allowed an NCAA-best 260.1 yards per game and ranked fourth in the country in rushing defense (85.7 yards a game) and eighth in scoring defense (16.9 points per game).

In his first season at Lafayette, Holcomb coached defensive end Marvin Snipes and tackles Dan Liseno and Kyle Sprenkle to All-Patriot League honors.

In the summer of 2007, Holcomb participated in the NFL's minority coaching internship with the Jets. He spent mini-camp and training camp working the team's defense. Holcomb coached at Division II Kutztown University, where he was the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach in 2004 and 2005 and served as acting head coach in the winter of 2005. Holcomb was the linebackers coach and special teams coordinator at Bloomsburg for six seasons from 1998-2003. Bloomsburg played for the Division II national championship in 2000.

Holcomb was linebackers coach, assistant track coach and a physical education instructor at Division III Colby College in Maine in 1997. He was a graduate assistant working with linebackers at Temple in 1995 and 1996.

A 1993 graduate of West Virginia University with a bachelor's degree in sport management, Holcomb earned his master's degree in athletic coaching education from WVU in 1996. He began his coaching career as linebackers coach at Morgantown High School in the fall of 1994, and served as a volunteer administrative assistant with the Mountaineers while pursuing his graduate degree.

Holcomb and his wife, Toni, are the parents of a son, Alex.

JERALD INGRAM

RUNNING BACKS

Jerald Ingram is in his seventh season as the Giants' running backs coach. During his tenure with the team, he has had a back rush for at least 1,000 yards in a season six times. Ingram, who joined the Giants on Jan. 13, 2004, has 26 years of coaching experience, including 19 as an assistant to Tom Coughlin.

In 2009, Ingram coached a group of backs that was productive despite debilitating injuries. But the Giants still rushed for 1,837 yards and 14 touchdowns. Brandon Jacobs played all but one game with a knee injury that required postseason surgery and led the team with 835 yards. He is seventh on the Giants' career list with 3,455 rushing yards. Ahmad Bradshaw was limited to one practice day most weeks because of ankle and foot injuries, yet led the team with seven rushing touchdowns. He ran for a career-high 778 yards. The reserve backs didn't escape injury. Danny Ware missed five games after dislocating his elbow in the season opener and promising fourth-round draft choice Andre Brown ruptured his Achilles tendon in training camp and missed the entire year.

Under Ingram's tutelage, the Giants had the NFL's most productive running attack in 2008. The Giants rushed for NFL-leading and franchise record numbers of 2,518 yards and 5.0 yards per carry. The previous records were 2,451 yards in 1985 and 4.7 yards an attempt in 2005 and 2006. From 2004-08, the Giants finished no worse than 11th in the NFL in rushing.

In 2008, Jacobs led the Giants with 1,089 rushing yards and Derrick Ward was close behind with 1,025. They became just the fourth pair of running backs from the same backfield – and only the fifth set of teammates – to each rush for more than 1,000 yards in the same season. Jacobs and Ward rushed for a combined 2,114 yards, the fourth-highest total by a running back tandem that season.

In addition, Bradshaw – the team's leading rusher in the 2007 postseason – ran for 355 yards and fullback Madison Hedgecock was voted a first alternate to the NFC Pro Bowl team.

Such excellence has been a part of the backfield since Ingram's arrival. Jacobs led the Giants with 1,009 yards in 2007. In Ingram's first three seasons with the Giants, Tiki Barber emerged as one of the very best running backs in the NFL and one of the finest players in franchise history. Barber, who retired following the 2006 season, had never played in the Pro Bowl prior to Ingram's arrival. But he was voted to the NFC team each of his final three seasons. In those three years, he rushed, in order, for 1,518 yards in 2004, a team-record 1,860 yards in 2005 and 1,662 yards in his final season. Barber, who rushed for 5,409 yards in his first seven Giants seasons, ran for 5,040 in just three years under Ingram to finish with a franchise-record 10,449 yards. Barber set the Giants record with 234 rushing yards at Washington in his final regular season game, breaking the mark of 220 yards he had set the previous season.

Ingram also helped make Jacobs one of the NFL's best short-yardage and goal-line backs in limited playing time his first two seasons. In 2004, Jacobs was the first Giants rookie to score seven touchdowns since Bobby Johnson in 1984 and the first to rush for seven touchdowns since Bill Paschal ran for 10 scores in 1943. The following season, Jacobs rushed for 423 yards and nine scores to establish himself as Barber's successor.

Prior to joining the Giants, Ingram was the running backs coach under Coughlin at Boston College and in Jacksonville. The Jaguars were the only NFL team to rush for more than 2,000 yards in each season from 1998-2000, including an NFL-high 2,091 yards in 1999. Under Ingram's direction, Fred Taylor rushed for more than 1,200 yards three times, including a team-record 1,399 yards in 2000, when he missed 3½ games. Taylor had nine consecutive 100-yard games, tied for the third-longest streak in NFL history. In 1998, the Jaguars rushed for a team-record 2,102 yards. Ingram is also known for turning his running backs into fine blockers and receivers; when he left Jacksonville, running backs had two of the three longest touchdown receptions in team history.

Ingram joined the Jaguars on March 3, 1994, 18 months before the franchise played its first regular season game, and stayed in Jacksonville until Coughlin left following the 2002 season. He was one of four assistant coaches who were with Coughlin during his entire tenure with the Jaguars.

Prior to his time in Jacksonville, Ingram spent three seasons as the running backs coach at Boston College. He began his coaching career in 1984, as a graduate assistant at the University of Michigan, his alma mater. The following year, he joined the staff at Ball State, first as tight ends coach, then as the running backs coach for five seasons. In 1991, he joined Coughlin at Boston College.

A fullback at Michigan, Ingram earned three letters and played on two Wolverines teams that won the Big Ten championship and advanced to the Rose Bowl. He graduated in 1984 with a degree in general studies.

Ingram was born in Dayton, Ohio. He grew up in Beaver, Pa. He and his wife, Kathleen, have a son, Julian.

THOMAS MCGAUGHEY

ASSISTANT SPECIAL TEAMS

Thomas McGaughey is in his fourth season as the Giants' assistant special teams coach. In his first three years with the team, McGaughey worked with special teams coordinator Tom Quinn to help the Giants' special teams become among the most productive in the NFL.

In 2009, Lawrence Tynes led the Giants and was fifth in the NFL in scoring with a career-high 126 points, the fourth-highest total by a kicker in team history. With Domenik Hixon doing the bulk of the work, the Giants were seventh in the NFL with a 10.9-yard punt return average. Hixon also set Giants single-season records with 57 kickoff returns for 1,291 yards. On Oct. 18 at New Orleans, Hixon had 303 total yards, shattering Joe Scott's 61-year-old franchise record by 24 yards. The total included 230 kickoff return and 51 punt return yards. Opposing teams averaged only 21.0 yards per kickoff return, the NFL's eighth-best figure.

When the Giants won the NFC East title in 2008, three of their special teams players – kicker John Carney, punter Jeff Feagles and long snapper Zak DeOssie – were named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. Chase Blackburn was named a Pro Bowl alternate as a cover specialist.

Carney was signed just prior to the season because Tynes was sidelined with an injury. McGaughey quickly helped integrate Carney into the kicking unit and the veteran had the best season a Giants kicker has ever had, succeeding on 35 of 38 field goals attempts for a franchise-record .921 percentage. Carney's 35 field goals tied the team single-season record, which he shares with Ali Haji-Sheikh (1983) and Jay Feely (2005).

That season, Feagles had a gross average of 44.0 yards and a net average of 40.2 yards on 64 punts. His previous best net average was 38.2 yards in 1995, his first Pro Bowl season. Feagles' gross average tied for the second-highest of his career and was just three-tenths of a yard less than the career best of 44.3 yards he set with Arizona in 1997. Feagles holds the NFL records for punts (1,713), punting yards (71,211) and punts downed inside the 20-yard line (554).

DeOssie has been the Giants' long snapper since his shortly after his arrival as a fourth-round draft choice in 2007. Last season, he also assumed the snapping duties on field goal attempts and extra points after Jay Alford suffered a season-ending knee injury.

The special teams also excelled in the Giants' 2007 championship season. Kicker Lawrence Tynes, in his first season with the Giants, made 23 of 27 field goal attempts, plus the game-winning 47-yarder in overtime in the NFC Championship Game in Green Bay. Quinn and McGaughey employed three kickoff returners – Ahmad Bradshaw, Reuben Droughns and Domenik Hixon – and the Giants finished seventh in the NFL with a 23.9-yard average.

McGaughey joined the Giants after two seasons as the Denver Broncos' assistant special teams coach. In 2006, the Broncos held opposing punt returners to an average of 6.9 yards a return, the fifth-best figure in the NFL. The previous year, McGaughey worked with the Broncos special-teams that helped the club go 13-3 en route to capturing the AFC West title and advancing to the AFC Championship Game.

McGaughey was the Kansas City Chiefs' assistant special teams coach for the 2002 season. He broke into the NFL as a minority intern with the Chiefs during their 2001 training camp before working as a pro scouting assistant in an internship with the Houston Texans that year as the franchise prepared for its inaugural season.

McGaughey spent two years (2003-04) working at his alma mater, the University of Houston before joining the Broncos' staff. He served as Houston's special teams coordinator in 2003 and as special teams coordinator/ cornerbacks coach in 2004.

A safety in his playing days, McGaughey entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent in 1996. He competed in the training camps of the Cincinnati Bengals and Philadelphia Eagles in 1996-97, respectively. He was on the Eagles' practice squad late in the 1996 season and was a member of the Barcelona Dragons' team that won NFL Europe's World Bowl in 1997.

McGaughey played for the Houston Cougars from 1991-95 and was special teams captain as a senior. He also lettered in track from 1991-93, competing in the 110-meter hurdles.

McGaughey, 36, was born in Chicago and grew up in Houston. He and his wife, Erika, have three children.

DAVID MERRITT, SR.

SECONDARY COACH/SAFETIES

David Merritt is in his seventh season on the Giants' coaching staff and his fifth as the team's secondary coach/safeties.

In 2009, Merritt molded a functioning safety unit after his best player, Kenny Phillips, was lost for the season following the second game because of knee surgery. Five different players started at safety for the Giants last season, including converted cornerback Aaron Ross. Despite the shuffling, the Giants were ranked 15th in the NFL in pass defense.

Merritt has demonstrated a knack for developing players who were not highly-touted entering the NFL. When the Giants won the NFC East title in 2008, the starting safeties were Michael Johnson, a seventh-round draft choice, and James Butler, who originally joined the team as an undrafted free agent. That season, Johnson and Butler tied for second on the team with 76 tackles apiece. They also combined for five interceptions.

In the Giants' 2007 Super Bowl season, one of the team's most productive defensive players was free safety Gibril Wilson, who arrived as a fifth-round draft choice. Wilson led the club with 33 postseason tackles, was second with 96 regular season tackles and was one of the top free agent safeties in 2008.

Merritt assumed his current position prior to the 2006 season. In 2005, he was the Giants' defensive assistant coach. The previous year, he had the additional title of quality control coach. Merritt was hired by Tom Coughlin on Jan. 26, 2004 after spending three seasons with the Jets as a defensive assistant/linebackers coach.

Before joining the Jets, Merritt coached at the collegiate level for four seasons. In 1997, he was the outside linebackers coach at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga. The following year, Merritt moved to the Virginia Military Institute, where he coached the defensive ends and outside linebackers for one season and the defensive line for two.

A linebacker, Merritt was drafted by the Miami Dolphins in 1993. He played for the Arizona Cardinals from 1993-96 and for the Rhein Fire in NFL Europe in 1997. Merritt was an All-ACC linebacker at North Carolina State in 1992. He earned a bachelor's degree in political science from N.C. State.

Merritt and his wife Yolonda have three sons, David Jr., Devin and Dawson and a daughter, Drayah. He also has an older daughter, Kiki, who lives in North Carolina.

ROBERT NUNN

DEFENSIVE LINE

Robert Nunn is in his first season as the Giants' defensive line coach. A 23-year coaching veteran who is in his 11th NFL season, Nunn was a defensive line coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2009.

"Robert Nunn has coached some outstanding players at every stop along the way," head coach Tom Coughlin said when Nunn joined his staff. "He is a guy who I feel very strongly will bring the best out of the players that he coaches. He will coach a very important position on our team, one that we will rely on heavily to bring us back to the level of championship play."

Prior to this season in Tampa Bay, Nunn spent four years (2005-2008) coaching the defensive tackles for the Green Bay Packers. In 2008, Nunn oversaw a deep and talented rotation on the interior of the Packers defensive line. Two of Nunn's players, Johnny Jolly and Ryan Pickett, ranked in the top five in tackles among Green Bay defenders that season. Jolly set a new career high with 82 stops. Pickett, who joined the Packers as a free agent acquisition in 2006, thrived under Nunn as he tallied 236 tackles, 2.5 sacks and 13 passes defensed the past three seasons. Nunn's guidance also contributed to the emergence of Corey Williams in 2006, when the then third-year pro turned in his best season with 47 tackles and seven sacks.

In 2005, Nunn helped elevate the Packers' defense from 25th in the NFL before his arrival to seventh in the league. Under Nunn's direction, Grady Jackson started all 16 games for only the second time as a pro and responded with career bests in tackles (72) and passes defensed (four).

Nunn entered the NFL as a defensive assistant with the Miami Dolphins in 2000. The following year, he was promoted to assistant defensive line/quality control coach. He held that role for two years (2001-2002), during which time he worked with Pro Bowler Jason Taylor.

In 2003, Nunn coached the Washington Redskins' defensive line. One of his players was Bruce Smith, who broke the late Reggie White's NFL career sacks record. Nunn also tutored veteran standouts Renaldo Wynn and Regan Upshaw.

Nunn returned to Miami in 2004 as a special assistant. He began the year working on off-the-field projects and then assisted with the linebackers after Coach Dave Wannstedt resigned with seven games left in the season.

Nunn's 12-year college coaching experience was highlighted by nine years at Georgia Military College in Milledgeville, Georgia. After one season as defensive coordinator, the school promoted him to head coach and athletic director in 1992. In his eight seasons holding that position, Nunn posted an outstanding 66-19 record.

He launched his coaching career at Northeastern Oklahoma in 1988, heading up the defensive line. He then tutored defensive ends at the University of Tennessee for two seasons (1989-1990).

A four-year letterman (1984-1987) as a linebacker at Oklahoma State, Nunn served as team captain in 1987. He earned a B.S. in secondary education from the school in 1988.

Nunn and his wife Karen have five children: one daughter, Josie, and four sons, Noah, Jacob, Nathan and Johnny.

JERRY PALMIERI
STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

New Jersey native and longtime Tom Coughlin assistant Jerry Palmieri is in his seventh season as the Giants' strength and conditioning coach, a position he assumed on Jan. 13, 2004.

Palmieri is one of the NFL's most respected conditioning coaches. He was honored as the 2007 Samson's NFL Strength & Conditioning Coach of the Year. In 1999, Palmieri was honored by the Professional Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society as Coach of the Year.

Palmieri was the New Orleans Saints' assistant strength and conditioning coach in 2003. Prior to that he spent nine years as a strength and conditioning coach under Coughlin, one at Boston College (where he was the director of strength and conditioning operations) and eight with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Palmieri's goal is to help each player increase in size, strength and speed, which ultimately produces a more powerful and productive athlete. "Coach Coughlin wants our team to play physical on the field," Palmieri said. "Our job is to make our players more physical and more powerful, so that their play will be physical in competition."

Palmieri began his career as a strength coach at the University of North Carolina in 1982. From there he moved to Oklahoma State (1984-86) and Kansas State (1987-92) before joining Coughlin at Boston College. In addition to his coaching experience, Palmieri has taught physical education classes and written articles about strength and conditioning for national publications.

Palmieri is a 1980 graduate of Montclair State University, which is located just 15 minutes from New Meadowlands Stadium. He received a master's degree is exercise physiology from North Carolina in 1984. Palmieri is a three-time New Jersey Golden Gloves champion (1976-78) and competed in international competition as a member of the 1978 and 1979 USA Boxing Teams.

Palmieri was raised in Dumont, N.J. He and his wife, Ellen, also a New Jersey native, have a son, Tony, and a daughter, Annamarie, who is married to Trent Atwood.

MARKUS PAUL

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Markus Paul, a former NFL player and a veteran coach in the league, is in his fourth season as the Giants' assistant strength and conditioning coach. Paul works closely with Jerry Palmieri to improve the size, strength and speed of the Giants' players.

Prior to joining the Giants, Paul spent two seasons on the coaching staff of the Jets, in 2005 as the director of physical development and the following year as the head strength and conditioning coach.

Before his tenure with the Jets, Paul was the New England Patriots' assistant strength and conditioning coach. He worked under Mike Woicik, who has trained six Super Bowl championship teams. Paul owns three Super Bowl rings from the Patriots' titles in 2001, 2003 and 2004.

Paul's first NFL coaching position was as the New Orleans Saints' assistant strength and conditioning coach in 1998-99.

A defensive back during his playing career, Paul was the Chicago Bears' fourth-round draft choice in 1989. He played with the Bears until 1993, when he played one game with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Paul played in 71 games with 30 starts at strong or free safety. He intercepted seven passes, which he returned for a total of 100 yards.

A four-year starter at Syracuse University, Paul holds the school record with 19 career interceptions. As a senior in 1988, he was credited with 76 tackles and was named first-team All-America by The Sporting News and Football News. Paul earned a bachelor of science degree in retailing.

Paul was raised in Kissimmee, Fla. He and his wife, Patricia, have a son, Jairus, and a daughter, Tabitha.

MICHAEL POPE
TIGHT ENDS

When Tom Coughlin became the Giants' head coach and began assembling his staff in January 2004, he retained only one position coach from the previous regime: tight ends coach Michael Pope. Coughlin's reasoning was simple and logical.

"He is the best tight ends coach in football," Coughlin said.

Pope has proven that for many years. This is Pope's 28th consecutive season as an NFL coach. He is one of the league's most experienced, respected and successful assistant coaches. Pope has coached in 29 postseason games, including five trips to the Super Bowl.

This the 11th season of Pope's second tour of duty as a Giants assistant coach. He is the only coach to participate in each of the Giants' four Super Bowls and the only Giants coach to have his name inscribed on three Lombardi trophies. He also coached in the Super Bowl with the New England Patriots in 1996.

Pope continues to enhance his reputation as the NFL's finest tight ends coach. Last year, Kevin Boss, who joined the team as a fifth-round draft choice from Western Oregon in 2007, had career-high totals of 42 catches for 567 yards and scored five touchdowns. The previous season, Boss became a fulltime starter and emerged as a reliable receiver and forceful blocker. He had a team-high six touchdown receptions among his 33 catches. Boss' 45-yard catch-and-run in Super Bowl xLII set up the Giants' first touchdown.

Pope's guidance and teaching helped make Jeremy Shockey one of the NFL's best tight ends. From 2002-06, Shockey was voted to the Pro Bowl four times. His 371 career receptions place him fourth on the Giants' career list (behind Amani Toomer, Tiki Barber and Joe Morrison).

Shockey was the Giants' first-round draft choice in 2002, when he caught 74 passes, a team record for both rookies and tight ends. He led all NFL tight ends in receiving and receiving yards (894) and he became the first rookie tight end to make the Pro Bowl since 1988. Shockey was elected to several all-pro teams. In 2003, Shockey caught 48 passes and was again chosen to go to Hawaii despite missing the season's final nine games with a knee injury.

Pope has long been an outstanding tutor of tight ends. Shockey was the fifth tight end to play for Pope to make the NFL's all-rookie team, joining former Giants Zeke Mowatt, 1983; Mark Bavaro, 1985; and Howard Cross, 1989; and Cincinnati's Tony McGee in 1993. Pope is not only successful at grooming young talent, but he is also adept at guiding his veteran students to elite status. Five of his players have been selected to the Pro Bowl – Bavaro, Rodney Holman (Bengals), Ben Coates (Patriots), Stephen Alexander (Redskins) and Shockey.

Pope was re-hired by the Giants on Feb. 11, 2000. He played a major role in bringing a new vitality to the Giants offense that season, which ended with the team winning the NFC championship and playing in Super Bowl XXXV. He has further energized it the last decade by overseeing the development of Shockey and then Boss.

Pope was a member of Bill Parcells' Giants' coaching staff from 1983-91. He left the Giants following the 1991 season and spent two years with the Cincinnati Bengals, the first as tight ends coach and the second as offensive coordinator. He joined the New England Patriots in 1994 as running backs coach before moving to tight ends coach in 1995. Pope was the Washington Redskins' tight ends coach from 1997-99.

Prior to coaching in the NFL, Pope spent 13 seasons in the collegiate and high school ranks. His first coaching position was at Lenoir (N.C.) High School in 1964, and he coached at high schools in Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Fla., and Lake Wales, Fla.

Pope's first job in college football was with Florida State from 1970-74. He then moved to Texas Tech (1975-77) where he served as a receivers coach and recruiter. From 1978-82, Pope was on the coaching staff at the University of Mississippi, where he coached the receivers, as well as punters and kickers.

Pope played quarterback for Lenoir-Rhyne College, where his team won one national championship and was runner-up a second time. The team's combined record during his playing career was 34-8-3. An all-conference player, Pope was team captain and MVP as a senior. He was also inducted into Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and was the "Team Before Self" award winner as a senior. Pope is a member of the Lenoir-Rhyne College Hall of Fame. A shoulder injury ended Pope's World Football League career after one year.

Pope was born in Monroe, N.C. Michael and Lee have two sons who work in the financial services industry, Travus in Naples, Fla., and Daron in New York City. Daron's wife, Rosie, is a native of London.

SEAN RYAN WIDE RECEIVERS

Sean Ryan is in his first season as the Giants' wide receivers coach after spending the previous three years as the offensive quality control coach. He leads a unit with several exciting and productive young players, including Steve Smith, who set a franchise record with 107 catches in 2009 plus Mario Manningham and the 2009 first round draft choice, Hakeem Nicks. Those three players combined for 211 receptions last year.

Ryan came to the Giants from Harvard University, where he spent the 2006 season as recruiting coordinator, running backs coach and head coach of the junior varsity.

Prior to his tenure at Harvard, Ryan was as an assistant coach at Columbia University for three seasons. In 2003 and 2004, Ryan was the running backs coach and special teams coordinator. The following season, Ryan coached the quarterbacks.

Before coaching at Columbia, Ryan spent two years as a graduate assistant at Boston College, where he worked primarily with the wide receivers. The Eagles won bowl games in each of those seasons, beating Georgia in the 2001 Music City Bowl and Toledo in the 2002 Motor City Bowl.

Ryan was the running backs coach at Colgate in 2000, a graduate assistant at the University at Albany (where the Giants hold training camp) in 1998-99 and the quarterbacks coach at Siena for a season.

Ryan played defensive back and outside linebacker at Hamilton College, where he graduated in 1994 with a degree in American studies. He also earned a master's degree in higher education administration from Albany.

A native of Hudson Falls, N.Y. – north of Albany - Ryan was a standout football, basketball and baseball player at Hudson Falls High School.

MIKE SULLIVAN

QUARTERBACKS

Mike Sullivan is in his first season as the Giants' quarterbacks coach after spending the previous six years coaching the team's wide receivers.

In 2009, the receivers under Sullivan were one of the most productive units on the Giants. Steve Smith shattered the franchise record with 107 catches and was the first Giants wideout to play in the Pro Bowl in 41 years. Smith's receptions accounted for 1,220 yards and seven touchdowns. Mario Manningham contributed 57 catches and Hakeem Nicks had 47 and six scores in an exceptional rookie season. The Giants' wide receivers totaled 236 catches last year.

In 2008, Smith led the Giants with 57 receptions. Domenik Hixon, who had one career reception entering the season, had a team-high 596 receiving yards on 43 catches. Amani Toomer was second on the team with 48 receptions in his final Giants season. Toomer holds the franchise career records for catches (668), receiving yards (9,497), touchdown catches (54) and 100-yard games (22). In four seasons under Sullivan's tutelage, Plaxico Burress had 344 catches, which place him 12th on the franchise's career list, one catch ahead of Earnest Gray and three behind Aaron Thomas. Burress had 3,681 receiving yards and caught 33 touchdown passes for the Giants.

Burress caught 10 touchdown passes in 2006 and 12 the following year to become the first Giant since Del Shofner in 1961-62 to post back-to-back seasons with 10 or more scoring catches. He set a Giants postseason record with 11 receptions in the NFC Championship Game in Green Bay, one more than Ike Hilliard had in the 2000 Championship Game victory over Minnesota.

David Tyree, another of Sullivan's players, made one of the greatest plays in Super Bowl history when he improbably secured an Eli Manning pass against his helmet for a 32-yard gain on the Giants' game-winning drive in Super Bowl XLII.

Sullivan was the Jacksonville Jaguars' offensive assistant in 2003 after spending the previous season as Jacksonville's defensive quality control coach under Tom Coughlin. He was the only member of Coughlin's coaching staff retained by the Jaguars in 2003.

Sullivan joined the Jaguars after nine years coaching in college football. He began his coaching career at Humboldt State in 1993. He also coached at Army (1995-96 and 1999-2000), Youngstown State (1997-98) and Ohio University (2001). In 1997, Youngstown State won the Division 1-AA national championship under Jim Tressel, now the coach at Ohio State. At Ohio University, Sullivan coached the defensive backs and tutored the kick blocking units on the special teams.

Sullivan was a defensive back at Army, where he received a B.S. degree in 1989. He also has a master's degree from Humboldt State. Sullivan is a graduate of the U.S. Army Airborne, Ranger and Air Assault schools.

Sullivan and his wife, Julie, have two daughters, Carmen Enriqueta and Hope Carolyn. Sullivan was born in Santa Maria, Calif.

COLLEGE - PENN STATE
BIRTHDATE - MAY 28, 1983
HOW ACQUIRED - DRAFT (3RD ROUND, 2007)
NFL EXP. - 4TH YEAR
GIANTS EXP. - 4TH YEAR

NEW YORK FOOTBALL GIANTS

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 3rd round (81st pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2007.

GIANTS NOTES:

- Alford joined Aaron Ross, Steve Smith, Zak DeOssie, Kevin Boss, Michael Johnson, Adam Koets and Ahmad Bradshaw as 2007 Giants draft choices who contributed in their rookie season.
- Made a huge play in Super Bowl XLII when he sacked New England quarterback Tom Brady for a 10-yard loss with 19 seconds remaining.
- Has proved to be a valuable and versatile reserve along the defensive line seeing action at both defensive tackle and end.
- Provided consistent snapping on field goals and extra points in his first 2 seasons.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Has played in 32 regular season games with 3 starts and played in 5 postseason contests…Career totals include 34 tackles (10 solo), 3.5 sacks and 1 pass defensed in the regular season and 12 tackles (4 solo) and 1 sack in the postseason…Has handled snapping duties on every regular season and postseason field goal and extra point attempt since joining the team as a rookie in 2007.
- Spent the entire 2009 season on injured reserve after undergoing knee surgery…Tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee in the 3rd quarter of a preseason game at Chicago (8/22)…Underwent surgery on Sept. 4.
- In 2008, played in all 16 regular season games with 3 starts and played in the NFC Divisional Playoff game vs. Philadelphia…Finished with 26 tackles (9 solo), 2.5 sacks, 3 tackles for losses, 4 QB hurries, 7 QB hits, and 1 pass defensed.
- Sacked Marc Bulger for a 7-yard loss in the 4th quarter at St. Louis (9/4)…Made his 1st career start, in place of injured Fred Robbins, at defensive tackle at Washington (11/30) and had 2 tackles…Started for Robbins and tallied 2 tackles, 1 sack for a 7-yard loss and 1 QB hurry at Dallas (12/14)…Started in place of Barry Cofield and finished with 3 tackles (2 solo) and 2 QB hurries at Minnesota (12/28/08)
- As a rookie in 2007, Alford played in all 16 regular season games and all 4 postseason games…Was the snapper for field goals and extra points all season…Finished with 8 tackles (1 solo), 1 sack, 5 QB hurries and 2 QB hits…In the postseason, he contributed 7 tackles (3 solo) and 1 sack.
- Made his NFL debut with 2 solo tackles at Dallas (9/9)…Recorded his 1st career sack when he dropped Donovan McNabb for a 1-yard loss in the 4th quarter at Philadelphia (12/9)…Had 2 tackles (1 solo) and 1 QB hurry in the NFC Championship Game at Green Bay (1/20/08)…Made a perfect snap for Lawrence Tynes' game-winning 47-yard field goal in overtime…Saw action as the snapper and at defensive tackle in Super Bowl XXLII vs. New England (2/3)…Finished with 2 solo tackles, 1 sack and 1 QB hurry…Sacked Tom Brady for a 10-yard loss on the Patriots' 2nd play of their final drive.

COLLEGE:

- Played in 46 games with 41 starts for the Nittany Lions…Alford recorded 118 tackles (60 solo), 32 tackles for losses and 19 sacks…He also recovered 4 fumbles, forced 3 fumbles, deflected 12 passes and registered 3 quarterback pressures…His 19 sacks leave him tied with Bruce Clark (1976-79) and LaVar Arrington (1997-99) for 8th on the school's career list…

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 7th round (250th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2007.

GIANTS NOTES:

- Had the Giants' longest rushes in each of the previous 3 seasons: An 88-yard touchdown (3rd longest in Giants history) at Buffalo (12/23/07), a 77-yarder vs. Baltimore (11/16/08) and a 38-yarder at Tampa Bay (9/27/09).
- His 1,788 kickoff return yards place him 4th on the Giants all-time list.
- With 32 yards vs. Arizona (10/25/09), Bradshaw became the 39th player to run for at least 1,000 yards in a Giants uniform.
- Bradshaw joined Aaron Ross, Steve Smith, Jay Alford, Zak DeOssie, Kevin Boss, Michael Johnson and Adam Koets as 2007 Giants draft choices who contributed in their rookie season.

- Has played in 42 regular season games with 1 start and in 5 postseason games…Bradshaw has 253 carries for 1,323 yards (a 5.2-yard avg.) with 9 touchdowns…Has also caught 28 passes for 261 yards and a touchdown…Has 1,788 kickoff return yards (on 77 returns), which places him 4th on the franchise's career list, 84 yards behind No. 3 Willie Ponder.
- In 2009, played in 15 games with 1 start (at Minnesota on 1/3)…Did not play at Denver (11/26) due to ankle injury…Posted career-high totals of 163 carries for 778 yards and a team-high 7 rushing touchdowns despite playing with cracked bones in both of his feet, as well as bone spurs in his ankle, all of which required surgery following the season…Also caught 21 passes for 207 yards, with a long reception of 55 yards and returned 6 punts for 55 yards.
- Bradshaw had the Giants' only 2 100-yard rushing games of the season: 104 yards at Tampa Bay (9/27) and 110 yards vs. Oakland (10/11)…Scored 2 touchdowns vs. Oakland and at Washington (12/21)…Caught a season-high 4 passes vs. Philadelphia (12/13)…Had a season-long 55-yard reception vs. Oakland.
- In 2008, played in 15 games with no starts. Inactive at Washington (11/30) due to a neck injury…Finished 3rd on the team with 355 rushing yards and 1 touchdown on 67 carries…Led the team with 39 kickoff returns for 867 yards (a 22.2-yard avg.)…Added 5 receptions for 42 yards and a touchdown…His 8 special teams tackles placed him 6th on the team…Joined Brandon Jacobs and Derrick Ward in a 3-pronged Giants rushing attack that led the NFL in rushing and established franchise record numbers of 2,518 yards and 5.0 yards per carry.
- Finished with 5 carries for 52 yards and a touchdown and 1 reception for 18 yards and a touchdown at St. Louis (9/14), where he was the 1st Giant to score rushing and receiving in the same regular season game since Tiki Barber did it against New Orleans on Sept. 19, 2005…Also returned 4 kickoffs for 93 yards…Finished with a season-high 11 carries for 65 yards, all in the 4th quarter, vs. Seattle (10/5)…Led a Giants rushing attack that amassed 207 yards with a season-high 96 yards on 9 carries vs. Baltimore (11/16)…Had a Giants season-long 77 yard run in the 4th quarter.

- Tough, durable and versatile offensive lineman has started all 119 regular season and postseason games since he joined the Giants as a 5th-round draft choice in 2003. Diehl is the 1st Giant since the introduction of the 16-game schedule in 1978 to start all 112 regular season games in his first 7 seasons.
- Has played right guard, right tackle, left guard and left tackle for the Giants.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Has started all 112 regular season games and 7 postseason games the Giants have played since joining the team in 2003…Diehl is the only player selected in the 2003 NFL Draft to start every game in the previous 7 seasons. He is 1 of the 4 players who entered the league in 2003 and have since played in every regular season game. The others are Josh Brown, Derrick Dockery and former Giant Visanthe Shiancoe…Diehl is 1 of the 42 NFL players who have played in every game since the start of the 2003 season.
- Diehl's 112 consecutive regular season starts are the longest current streak on the Giants. Eli Manning is 2nd with 87 starts in a row. Entering the 2010 season, Diehl's 112 consecutive starts are tied for the 6th longest streak among active offensive linemen.
- Diehl started 16 games at right guard as a rookie, 16 at right tackle in 2004, 15 games at left guard and 1 game at right tackle in 2005, 15 games at left guard and 1 at left tackle in 2006 and 16 games at left tackle in 2007, 2008 and 2009.
- In 2009, Diehl was selected to his 1st Pro Bowl. He played the entire game at left tackle in the NFC's 41-34 loss…Was joined at the Pro Bowl by center Shaun O'Hara and guard Chris Snee, the 1st time the Giants had 3 players from the same position group in the game since 1962 (when offensive linemen Rosie Brown, Darrell Dess and Ray Wietecha – also a tackle, guard and center – all received the honor…Run and pass blocking helped the Giants average 366.0 yards a game, the NFL's 8th-highest figure…Line allowed only 32 sacks, tied for 7th-best in the league.
- In 2008, Diehl was selected to the All-NFC team by the Pro Football Writers Association….He was an integral part of an offense that helped the Giants finish with 427 points and 338 first downs, both the 2nd-highest totals in franchise history. The Giants gained 5,695 yards, the 3rd-highest total in their history. The line's blocking enabled the Giants to lead the NFL and set franchise records in both rushing yards per game (157.4) and yards per carry (5.0). With Diehl and the line opening holes, Brandon Jacobs (1,089) and Derrick Ward (1,025) became the 4th pair of running back teammates to rush for 1,000 yards in the same season.
- With the line opening holes, the Giants rushed for 301 yards in a victory over Carolina (12/21) that clinched the top seed in the NFC playoffs. It was the 5th-highest total in Giants history.
- Diehl and the line allowed just 2 sacks in a 5-game period from Sept. 21-Oct. 26.
- In 2007, Diehl started all 16 regular season games and 4 postseason games at left tackle. Diehl was a key component of an offense that helped the Giants score 373 points (the 5th-highest total in franchise history) and compile 321 first downs (the 4th-highest total by a Giants team) and 5,302 yards (7th in team history). The line's blocking enabled the Giants to finish 4th in the NFL in rushing yardage with an average of 134.3 yards a game.
- Diehl and the line allowed just 4 total sacks in a 5-game period from Sept. 30-Oct. 28.
- Started at left tackle at Dallas (9/9) and provided enough pass protection for Eli Manning to pass for 312 yards on 28-of-41 passes and 4 touchdowns.
- Giants offensive line allowed 1 sack at Atlanta (10/15) and provided enough protection for the Giants offense to gain a season–high 491 yards of total offense.
- In the NFC Championship Game at Green Bay (1/20) the offensive line allowed 2 sacks but provided enough blocking and protection for the Giants to gain 380 yards of total offense.
- In 2006, Diehl started the first 15 games at left guard before shifting to tackle for the regular season finale and the NFC Wild Card Game. Started at left tackle at Washington (12/30), where the line allowed 1 sack and provided enough run blocking for the Giants to rush for 261 rushing yards, including a franchise-record 234 yards by Tiki Barber…Also played left guard in the game after Grey Ruegamer was sidelined temporarily in the 1st half with a leg laceration.
- Started at left tackle in the NFC Wild Card game at Philadelphia (1/7)…Run blocking helped the Giants gain 151 yards on 31 rushes.
- In 2005, started 15 games (plus the NFC Wild Card Game) at left guard and 1 at right tackle. The line's blocking enabled Barber to rush for a franchise-record 1,860 yards…Pass blocking helped Manning to pass for 3,762 yards, the 5th-highest total in franchise history.
- Blocking at left guard helped Barber rush for 203 yards, including a franchise-best 95-yard touchdown run, at Oakland (12/31).
- Started at right tackle in place of Kareem McKenzie vs. Kansas City (12/17) and line's blocking enabled Barber to rush for a then-team record 220 yards.
- Started at left guard at Philadelphia (12/11), but moved to right tackle when McKenzie was forced to leave the game in the 2nd quarter due to injury. Offensive line allowed 1 sack and provided enough blocking and protection for the Giants to gain 437 yards of total offense.

- In 2004, Diehl started all 16 games at right tackle. He missed a snap for the 1st time in his career when he left the game for a play in the 4th quarter with a cut below the eye at Green Bay (10/3). Returned to the game and helped the Giants rush for 245 yards.
- In 2003, Diehl played right guard and became the first Giants rookie to start all 16 games since Mark Bavaro in 1985. . .Was one of 14 NFL rookies to start all 16 games. . .Was 1 of only 3 offensive linemen on the roster to see action in all 16 games, was 1 of only 2 to start every game during the year and was the only to start at the same position each game during the 2003 season.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 4th round (130th pick overall) draft choice by the Denver Broncos in 2006… Placed on reserve/non-football injury list (left foot) by Denver Aug. 29, 2006 and remained there the rest of the season...Waived by the Broncos on Oct. 2, 2007…Awarded off waivers to the Giants on Oct. 3, 2007.

GIANTS NOTES:

- Will miss the entire 2010 season after tearing his right anterior cruciate ligament in a minicamp practice on June 15.
- Provides major contributions to the team as a receiver, punt returner, kickoff returner and on special teams cover units.
- Hixon's 290 kickoff return yards in 4 games set the Giants' career postseason record in 2007…The previous mark of 272 yards was held by Ron Dixon.
- Hixon's 303 total yards at New Orleans on Oct. 18, 2009 shattered Joe Scott's 61-year-old franchise record by 24 yards. He holds 2 of the 5 largest single-game yardage totals in Giants history.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Has played in 46 regular season games with 10 starts and in 5 postseason games…Career totals include 59 receptions for 788 yards and 3 touchdowns and 3 rushing attempts for 18 yards…Has returned 48 punts for 530 yards (11.0-yard avg.) and a touchdown and 80 kickoffs for 1,966 yards (24.6-yard avg.) and a touchdown…Also has 25 career special teams tackles.
- In 2009, Hixon played in 14 games with 2 starts (the season's first 2 games…Was inactive at Tampa Bay (9/27) and at Kansas City (10/4) with a knee injury…Caught 15 passes for 187 yards, including a career-long 61-yard touchdown reception vs. Philadelphia (12/13)
- Hixon set Giants single-season records with 57 kickoff returns for 1,291 yards. The former marks of 55 returns for 1,117 yards were set by Brian Mitchell in 2003…Led the Giants with a 22.6-yard average on 57 kickoff returns, with a long of 68 yards, and a 15.1-yard average on 17 punt returns, including a 79-yard touchdown…Ranks 7th in Giants history with 1,692 kickoff return yards and 9th with 498 punt return yards.
- Hixon had 303 total yards at New Orleans (10/18), breaking Joe Scott's 61-year-old franchise record by 24 yards. Returning kickoffs for the first time in 2009, Hixon had 230 yards on 7 runbacks, including a 68-yarder and a 45-yarder to set up touchdowns. He returned 2 punts – for 27 and 24 yards, the latter setting up another score. Hixon also caught 3 passes for 22 yards. Hixon was the 1st player to gain at least 300 yards in a game since Arizona's Steve Breaston totaled 324 yards on Sept. 28, 2008. Breaston had 192 yards on kickoff returns, 122 receiving and 10 on punt returns.
- Hixon now owns 2 of the 5 largest single-game yardage totals in Giants history. Scott, a halfback who played for the team from 1948-53, set the previous record on Nov. 14, 1948 in a 52-37 loss to the Los Angeles Rams in the Polo Grounds. Like Hixon, Scott gained most of his yards on kickoff returns (207). He also had 22 yards rushing, 35 receiving and 15 after fielding laterals. Tiki Barber's 276-yard effort vs. Philadelphia on Dec, 28, 2002 fell to 3rd on the Giants' one-game list. Barber rushed for 203 yards and caught eight passes for another 73 yards. Hixon is tied for the 4th spot with wide receiver Del Shofner at 269 yards. In a victory at Arizona on Nov. 23, 2008, Hixon had 180 yards returning kickoffs, 57 receiving, 21 on punt returns and an 11-yard rush. Shofner had 269 receiving yards on Oct. 28, 1962, the day Y.A. Tittle tied an NFL record with 7 ouchdown passes vs. Washington.
- Hixon was the first Giants player with 2 punt returns of at least 24 yards apiece in a game since Barber did it vs. the Jets on Dec. 5, 1999…His 230 kickoff return yards in New Orleans were the 2nd-highest total in Giants history. Willie Ponder had 259 kickoff return yards vs. Pittsburgh on Dec. 18, 2004.
- Hixon was selected as the NFC Special Teams Player of the Week for his performance in the Giants' 31-24 victory vs. Dallas (12/6)…He returned 3 punts for 95 yards and 4 kickoffs for 70 yards and made one of the game's biggest plays when he ran back a punt 79 yards for a touchdown to increase the Giants' lead to 31-17 with 5:33 remaining in the game…It was the Giants' 1st punt return touchdown since Sept. 11, 2005, when Chad Morton brought one back 52 yards in a victory over Arizona. The Giants had gone 74 regular season games and 7 postseason games without a punt return touchdown. Hixon's punt return was the Giants' longest since Barber's 85-yard touchdown on Oct. 18, 1999 – also against Dallas. Hixon was the first Giant to be named Special Teams Player of the Week since linebacker Chase Blackburn in Week 9 of the 2008 season. He was the first Giants player to be honored for his returning exploits since Amani Toomer in Week 8 of the 1997 season (when Toomer scored on a 53-yard punt return).
- In 2008, played in all 16 games with 7 starts and started the NFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Philadelphia….Caught 43 passes for a team-high 596 yards and 2 touchdowns…Also had 2 rushes for 26 yards…Returned a team-high 24 punts for 242 yards, a 10.1-yard average, and 3 punts for 180 yards.

- Had a career-high 102 receiving yards vs. Seattle (10/5). That included a 32-yard score that was the 1st touchdown reception of his career – on his 8th catch. It was his 2nd career score; he returned a kickoff 74 yards for a touchdown on Dec. 29, 2007 vs. New England.
- Hixon gained 269 total yards (180 on kickoff returns, 57 receiving, 21 on punt returns, plus an 11-yard rush) at Arizona (11/23), which was then tied for the 3rd-highest total in Giants history.
- In 2007, played the first 4 games of the season with Denver and the final 12, plus the playoffs, with the Giants…Hixon caught 1 pass for 5 yards and returned 8 kickoffs for 221 yards (a 27.6-yard average) and 1 touchdown for the Giants…He also had 12 kickoff returns for 274 yards and 7 punt returns for 32 yards for the Broncos…In the postseason, Hixon set a Giants postseason record with 290 kickoff return yards on 12 runbacks.
- Made his only start of the season when the Giants opened the game in a 4-wide receiver formation vs. Washington (12/16), but did not have any receptions…Had 3 special teams tackles…Assumed kickoff returns vs. New England (12/29) due to Ahmad Bradshaw's calf injury…Took advantage of the opportunity by returning 8 kickoffs for 221 yards including a 74-yard touchdown in the 2nd quarter….It was the Giants' 1st kickoff return touchdown since Willie Ponder brought one back 95 yards vs. Arizona on Sept. 11, 2005.
- Returned 2 kickoffs for 37 yards and had a special teams tackle in the NFC Wild Card Game at Tampa Bay (1/6)…Returned 3 kickoffs for 93 yards and added a special teams tackle in the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Dallas (1/13)…Returned 5 kickoffs for 121 yards with a long return of 36 yards in the NFC Championship Game at Green Bay (1/20)…Made a key recovery late in the 4th quarter of an R. W. McQuarters fumble on a punt return with the score tied 20-20…Also had 1 special teams tackle…Returned 2 kickoffs for 39 yards in Super Bowl XLII vs. New England (2/3).
- In 2006, Hixon was selected by the Broncos in the 4th round of the NFL Draft…Was placed on the reserve/non-football injury list on Aug. 29 with a left foot injury suffered while preparing for the draft…Hixon, who did not play in any preseason games, spent his rookie season on that list with Denver.

COLLEGE:

- Hixon started 44 career games at the University of Akron, posting 20 starts as a free safety during his first 2 seasons and 24 as a wide receiver in his final 2 years…He caught 141 passes for 2,092 yards (14.8-yard avg.) with 14 touchdowns while returning 42 punts for 475 yards (11.3-yard avg.) with 1 touchdown…Added 49 kickoff returns for 1,171 yards (23.9-yard avg.) with 1 touchdown.
- Defensively, Hixon totaled 176 career tackles (117 solo), 1 interception, 3 pass breakups and 2 fumble recoveries…He was a team captain as a senior, starting all 13 games and setting school single-season records with 75 receptions and 1,210 yards (the nation's 8th-highest total) and 8 touchdowns…Was a 2nd-team All-Mid-American Conference choice.

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:

- Adopted Lyndhurst Public Schools in spring 2009 and Carlstadt Public Schools in 2010 for the Giants' Play 60 Challenge, making multiple visits to encourage the kids to play 60 minutes every day.
- Participated in the Giants Foundation 2009 Golf Outing.
- Hosted youth from the American Heart Association at Training Camp, filming a public service announcement for television promoting healthy food choices.
- Attended the Champions for Children fundraiser gala benefitting the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 4th round (110th pick overall) by the Giants in 2005.

GIANTS NOTES:

- Jacobs has 3,455 rushing yards, which is the 7th-highest total in Giants history.
- His 779 rushing attempts are the 10th-highest total in franchise history.
- Jacobs' 40 rushing touchdowns place him 4th in team history.
- Jacobs rushed for 1,089 yards in 2008 after running for 1,009 yards in 2007 to become the 4th running back in Giants history to rush for 1,000 or more yards in at least 2 consecutive seasons. The others were Joe Morris (1985-86), Rodney Hampton (1991-95) and Tiki Barber (2002-2006).
- In 2008, Jacobs and Derrick Ward (1,025 yards) became the 4th pair of running backs from the same team – and the 5th set of teammates – to run for at least 1,000 yards in the same season.
- When Jacobs rushed for 1,009 yards in 2007 he became the 1st Giants back other than Barber to rush for more than 1,000 yards since Gary Brown in 1998 (1,063).
- Has rushed for at least 100 yards 9 times in the regular season. The Giants are 8-1 in those games.
- Was named the NFC Offensive Player of the Month for October 2007.
- In 2005, he became the 1st Giants rookie to score 7 touchdowns since 1984.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Jacobs has played in 70 regular season games with 37 starts and played in 7 postseason games with 5 starts…In the regular season, he has rushed for 3,455 yards on 779 carries (a 4.4-yard avg.) and 40 touchdowns. Jacobs also has 58 receptions for 543 yards and 3 scores, including a 74-yarder.
- In postseason play, Jacobs has rushed for 297 yards on 83 carries (a 3.6-yard avg.) and 3 touchdowns and added 4 catches for 29 yards and a score.
- In 2009, started all 15 games in which he played, his highest total since becoming the Giants' No. 1 back in 2007. He led the team in rushing yards for the 3rd consecutive season with 835, ending the team's streak of consecutive seasons with a 1,000-yard rusher at 7…Increased his career total to 3,455 yards, which is 7th in franchise history…Scored 5 touchdowns to increase his career total to 40, which is 4th in franchise history…With 33 yards at New Orleans (10/18), Jacobs became the 10th player in Giants history with at least 3,000 rushing yards.
- Caught 18 passes for 184 yards, including a career-long 74-yard touchdown vs. Dallas (12/6). It was the longest touchdown reception by a Giants running back since Dec. 6, 1998, when Tiki Barber scored on an 87-yarder at Arizona…Also scored on a 1-yard touchdown run against the Cowboys to become... the 1st Giant to score touchdowns rushing and receiving in the same game since Ahmad Bradshaw at St. Louis on Sept. 14, 2008. Jacobs had previously accomplished the feat in the NFC Wild Card Game at Tampa Bay on Jan. 6, 2008 (with a five-yard catch and an 18-yard run)…Rushed for a season-high 92 yards in consecutive games at Tampa Bay (9/27) and at Kansas City (10/4)…Was placed on injured reserve with a knee injury and did not play at Minnesota (1/3).
- In 2008, started all 13 regular season games in which he played and started the NFC Divisional Game vs. Philadelphia…Jacobs finished the regular season with 1,089 yards on 219 carries (a 5.0-yard avg.) and a career-high 15 touchdowns...He also caught 6 passes for 36 yards…Missed 3 games due to knee injury (at Arizona 11/23, at Dallas 12/14 and at Minnesota 12/28).
- His 15 touchdowns made him just the 2nd player in Giants history to rush for at least 15 touchdowns in a season. Joe Morris ran for a team-record 21 scores in 1985. Jacobs' 15 touchdowns tied for 3rd in the NFL with the Jets' Thomas Jones and Tennessee's LenDale White. DeAngelo Williams was first with 20, followed by Michael Turner with 17.
- Ran for 73 yards on 11 carries with 2 touchdowns vs. Baltimore (11/16), to help the Giants rush for 207 yards against the NFL's No. 1 run defense, which had allowed an average of 65.4 rushing yards a game and not more than 76 yards in any game… It was the Giants' 3rd consecutive 200-yard game…Jacobs' 2 touchdowns came in the 1st quarter on 1-yard runs and increased his season total to a career-high 11, two more than he had in 2006. He became the 1st Giant to score double-digit touchdowns since Plaxico Burress caught 10 touchdowns passes in 2006 and the 1st to run for at least 10 scores since Barber ran for 13 in 2004. It was the 11th time in Giants history a player reached double digits in rushing touchdowns in a season…Had a career-long 44-yard run vs. Seattle (10/5).
- Had a career-high 3 rushing touchdowns vs. Carolina (12/21), to become the 1st Giant to score 3 touchdowns in a game since Burress caught 3 touchdown passes at Dallas on Sept. 9, 2007 and the 1st to run for 3 scores since Barber did it at Washington on Dec. 30, 2006.
- In 2007, he played in 11 regular season games with 9 starts and started all 4 postseason games. Jacobs rushed for 1,009 yards and 4 touchdowns on 202 carries, despite missing 5 games and most of a 6th with knee and hamstring injuries. Jacobs was the 1st Giants back other than Barber to rush for more than 1,000 yards since Gary Brown in 1998

(1,063)…Rushed for at least 100 yards 5 times.
- Jacobs combined with Burress (1,025 receiving yards) to give the Giants a 1,000-yard rusher and receiver in the same season for the 7th time in their history.
- During the 2007 postseason, Jacobs rushed for a touchdown in each of the Giants' first 2 postseason victories and became the 1st Giant to run for a touchdown in consecutive postseason games since Ottis Anderson on Jan. 25, 1987 (Super Bowl XXI) and Jan. 7, 1990 (NFC Divisional Playoff Game)…Jacobs scored the Giants' first 2 touchdowns at Tampa Bay on a 5-yard pass from Eli Manning and an 8-yard run to become the 1st Giant in history to score a rushing and a receiving touchdown in the same postseason game…Jacobs was the 1st Giants running back to catch a touchdown pass in a postseason game since fullback Greg Comella in the 2000 NFC Championship Game. Prior to that, the last Giants back with a postseason touchdown catch was Leon Bright at Philadelphia on Dec. 27, 1981.
- Missed 3 games in September 2007 with a knee injury suffered on opening night in Dallas, where he rushed for 26 yards on 6 carries.
- Was named NFC Offensive Player of the Month for October 2007, when the Giants were 4-0, scored an NFC-high 112 points and led the NFL with 705 rushing yards. Jacobs – and the offensive line that opened the holes for him – were key components to that success…Jacobs led the League with 424 rushing yards during the month. He set career highs 3 times with the first 3 100-yard games of his career. Jacobs averaged 5.7 yards on his 74 carries, caught 6 passes for 24 yards and scored 2 touchdowns in October.
- Returned to action after missing 3-plus games with a knee injury and rushed for 100 yards on 20 carries, including a 19-yard touchdown vs. Jets (10/07). It was the 1st 100-yard game of his career. Jacobs became the first Giant other than Tiki Barber to rush for 100 yards since Ron Dayne ran for 111 yards against New Orleans on Sept. 30, 2001. Barber had the Giants' previous 37 100-yard rushing games (including 1 in the postseason).
- Missed games vs. Minnesota (11/25) and at Chicago (12/2) with a hamstring injury.
- Finished with a career-high 145 yards on 24 carries with 2 touchdowns at Buffalo (12/23)…Scored twice in the 2nd quarter, on runs of 6 and 43 yards, then the longest run of his career… Helped the Giants rush for 289 yards, their highest total since they rushed for 289 yards on Dec. 21, 1985 in a 28-10 victory over Pittsburgh…Bradshaw, then a rookie, rushed for 151 yards and a touchdown to give the Giants 2 100-yard rushers in the same game for the 1st time in their history. The Giants became the first team to have two runners with 140 or more yards in the same game since Nov. 11, 2001, when St. Louis' Marshall Faulk ran for 183 yards and Trung Canidate added 145 in a game against Carolina.
- In 2006, Jacobs played in 15 games (he suited up but did not play vs. New Orleans) and the NFC Wild Card Game at Philadelphia…Finished the season with 96 carries for 423 yards and a team-best 9 rushing touchdowns…Added 11 receptions for 149 yards, with a long catch of 43 yards…Scored touchdowns on runs of 1 and 8 yards on his only 2 carries of the game vs. Chicago (11/12).
- As a rookie in 2005, played in all 16 games…Was used primarily in short-yardage and goal-line situations and on special teams…Finished with 38 carries for 99 yards and 7 touchdowns, with a long run of 21 yards…Converted 20 of 32 opportunities on rushing attempts of 4 or less yards to go…Jacobs was the 1st Giants rookie to score 7 touchdowns since Bobby Johnson in 1984 and the 1st to rush for 7 touchdowns since Bill Paschal ran for 10 scores in 1943…Scored touchdowns in each of his first 2 games, the 1st Giants rookie to accomplish that feat since Barber in 1997. Scored on a 5-yard run vs. Arizona (9/11) and a 1-yard run at New Orleans (9/19)…Carried 6 times for season-high 39 yards and a touchdown in his NFL debut vs. the Cardinals.

COLLEGE:
- Played at 3 schools: Coffeyville (Kan.) Community College, Auburn and Southern Illinois. In 42 games at the 3 stops, he rushed for 4,003 yards with 52 touchdowns on 595 carries (6.7-yard avg.), caught 12 passes for 136 yards (11.3-yard avg.) and returned 6 kickoffs for 140 yards (23.3-yard avg.).
- Jacobs was perhaps the most highly-touted transfer in Southern Illinois history. He joined fellow transfers Terry Jackson (Minnesota) and Arkee Whitlock (Coffeyville) to form one of the most explosive backfields in college football, one that accounted for 42 of the team's 65 touchdowns and 3,404 of the squad's 6,032 yards in total offense in 2004, his only season with the Salukis.
- Began his collegiate career in 2001 at Coffeyville, where he rushed for 927 yards and 13 touchdowns on 130 carries (7.1-yard avg.) in 10 regular season games, then added 422 yards and 4 scores in playoff action en route to being named to the All-Jayhawk Conference team. The following year, Jacobs led the conference in rushing with 1,638 yards and 17 touchdowns on 243 carries (6.7-yard avg.), and added another 258 yards and 3 scores on 24 carries in the playoffs.
- In 2003 at Auburn, he shared time at halfback with Ronnie Brown and Carnell Williams, who became 2 of the top 9 picks in the 2005 draft. He was 2nd on the team with 72 carries for 446 yards (6.2-yard avg.) and 3 touchdowns.
- Hoping to get an opportunity for more playing time, Jacobs again transferred, this time to Southern Illinois. In his one season there, Jacobs rushed for 922 yards and 19 touchdowns on 150 carries, averages of 6.6 yards a carry and 122.1 yards a game.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally signed as a rookie free agent by the Giants on May 8, 2009.

GIANTS NOTES:

- Overcame long odds as a rookie free agent to make the final roster…Played in every game and became one of the secondary's most consistent contributors.

CAREER-HIGHLIGHTS:

- As a rookie in 2009, played in all 16 games with 4 starts…Contributed 35 tackles (27 solo), 2 interceptions, a sack, 10 passes defensed and 2 forced fumbles…Also had 10 special teams tackles (7 solo)…In his 2nd pro game (at Dallas, 9/20), Johnson scored the Giants' 1st touchdown when he intercepted a Tony Romo pass intended for Roy Williams and returned it 34 yards for a touchdown with 2:46 remaining in the first quarter. The score gave the Giants a 10-7 lead…It was the Giants' first touchdown on an interception return since Nov. 16, 2008, when Aaron Ross brought one back 50 yards for a score in a victory over Baltimore…Johnson's touchdown was reminiscent of a score under similar circumstances 4 years prior. On Oct. 23, 2006, Kevin Dockery – like Johnson, a rookie free agent cornerback – picked off a Romo pass and ran it back for a touchdown.
- Made his 1st career start vs. Philadelphia (12/13)…Finished with 2 tackles and his 1st career sack, a 12-yarder on which he forced Donovan McNabb to fumble. The ball was recovered by Fred Robbins…Intercepted his 2nd pass of the season at Washington (12/21) when he picked off punter Hunter Smith at the end of the 1st half.

COLLEGE:

- Finished career at Miami with 74 tackles (57 solo), 2 interceptions and 14 pass breakups…As a senior, played in 12 games with 11 starts at right cornerback, missing a start at N.C. State...Second-leading tackler among defensive backs with 29 (24 solo).

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:

- Joined Coach Coughlin to host local children fighting cancer and blood disorders for the Jay Fund Ice Cream Social at the Timex Performance Center.
- Attended David Diehl's annual barbeque with Project Sunshine for children at Woodhull Hospital in Brooklyn, N.Y.
- Joined NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell and Giants President John Mara to install new fitness equipment at Lyndhurst High School with the United Way of Bergen County and The American Heart Association as part of the 2009 "Hometown Huddle."
- Joined Danny Clark as he hosted kids from Abbott House for a holiday shopping spree at Wal-Mart.
- Attended a fundraiser dinner hosted by Coach Peter Giunta for Holy Spirit School.
- Hosted Giants fans and season ticket holders during the team's Draft Day Party at New Meadowlands Stadium.
- Attended the Giants Kickoff Luncheon benefitting St. Vincent's Medical Center.

PERSONAL:

- As a senior at Suwannee High School in Florida, had 61 tackles (44 solo), 1 sack, 17 assists, 1 forced fumble, 3 recovered fumbles, 12 pass breakups and 2 interceptions.

- Started at right defensive end vs. Chicago (11/12), and finished with 3 tackles (2 solo), 2 quarterback hurries and 1 interception…Picked off a Rex Grossman pass intended for Rashied Davis for his 1st career interception and returned it 32 yards to set up Brandon Jacobs' 1-yard touchdown run.
- Started at left defensive end vs. Dallas (12/3), and finished with 8 tackles (6 solo), 1 sack, 2 QB hits, 1 interception, a pass defensed and a forced fumble…Intercepted his 2nd pass of the season when he caught a tipped throw from Tony Romo. Returned the interception 12 yards before fumbling the ball, which was recovered by Dallas WR Sam Hurd…His 2-yard sack and forced fumble of Romo in the 2nd quarter was his 3rd of the season.
- Started in the NFC Wild Card game at Philadelphia (1/7/07) and finished with a team-high 7 tackles (5 solo).

COLLEGE:
- Played in 49 games with 38 starts for Boston College…Kiwanuka recorded 245 tackles (155 solo) and set school records with 37.5 sacks for minus 215 yards and 64.5 stops for losses of 297 yards. He recovered 2 fumbles, including 1 for a 49-yard score, and had 3 forced fumbles. Also deflected 13 passes and intercepted 3 others, returning one 32 yards for a touchdown. Kiwanuka's 37.5 sacks topped the previous mark of 29 by Outland Trophy winner Mike Ruth (1982-85).
- As a redshirt freshman in 2002, he appeared in every game, starting the first 2 at left defensive end. He made 44 tackles (27 solo) with 5 sacks and 7.5 stops for losses.
- In 2003, he earned All-Big East honors while leading the conference with 11.5 sacks…Named Big East Defensive Player of the Year in 2004, as he produced 11.5 sacks, 24.5 stops for losses and 67 tackles (36 solo). Kiwanuka also picked off 2 passes, returning one 32 yards for a touchdown.

- As a senior in 2005 he was limited by a knee injury, but registered 51 tackles (34 solo) with 9.5 sacks and 16.5 stops behind the line of scrimmage.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 1st round (1st pick overall) draft choice by the San Diego Chargers in 2004. Obtained by the Giants in a trade for quarterback Philip Rivers (whom the Giants had taken with the 4th pick), the Giants' 2004 3rd-round pick and 2005 1st and 5th-round picks.

GIANTS NOTES:

- Followed his father, Archie, and brother, Peyton, into the NFL…Archie was the 2nd pick of the 1971 draft and played 14 years with New Orleans, Houston and Minnesota. Peyton was the 1st choice of the 1998 draft, is a 4-time NFL Most Valuable Player and was the winning quarterback in Super Bowl XLI.
- Manning was named the Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XLII after completing 19 of 34 passes for 255 yards, two touchdowns and an interception that caromed off Steve Smith's hands. It was the 22nd time in Super Bowl history a quarterback was named MVP and the 2nd year in a row a Manning won the award.
- Manning was the 27th different starting quarterback to win a Super Bowl (the total is now 28) and the 2nd Manning. Peyton led the Indianapolis Colts to the title in 2006. The Mannings were the 18th set of brothers to play in the Super Bowl and the 1st pair of brothers to play quarterback.
- Manning joined Phil Simms in Super Bowl XXI and Ottis Anderson in Super Bowl XXV as Giants who have won the Super Bowl MVP award.
- Manning was the 7th quarterback taken with the 1st overall selection in the NFL Draft to start a Super Bowl. The others are Terry Bradshaw (4-0 in Super Bowls), Jim Plunkett (2-0), John Elway (2-3), Troy Aikman (3-0), Drew Bledsoe (0-1) and Peyton Manning (1-0). The former No. 1 choices are 13-5 in Super Bowls.
- Manning was the 4th starting quarterback for the Giants in their 4 Super Bowls. The others were Phil Simms, Jeff Hostetler and Kerry Collins. The Giants are the 1st team to start a different quarterback in each of their first 4 Super Bowls. Only 2 other teams have started 4 different quarterbacks in a Super Bowl, though not in the franchise's first 4 games. The Raiders started Daryle Lamonica, Ken Stabler, Jim Plunkett and Rich Gannon. Washington's 4 Super Bowl quarterbacks were Billy Kilmer, Joe Theismann, Doug Williams and Mark Rypien.
- Manning was the 1st quarterback to wear No. 10 and win a Super Bowl. The only other starting quarterback to wear No. 10 in a Super Bowl was Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton in Super Bowls VIII, IX and XI.
- Manning's arrival marked the 1st time the Giants came out of a draft with the top player selected since 1965, when they chose Auburn running back Tucker Fredrickson.
- Record as a starting quarterback is 50-37 (.575) in the regular season and 4-3 (.571) in the postseason. The 50 victories are the 2nd-most by a Giants quarterback in the Giants Stadium era (since 1976). Simms won 95 games from 1979-93. Manning is 38-26 against the NFC and 12-11 vs. the AFC. He is 20-13 in NFC East games, 25-19 at home and 25-18 on the road.
- Manning has started the Giants' last 87 regular season games, the 3rd-longest streak among active quarterbacks at the conclusion of the 2008 season. Brett Favre had started 285 consecutive games and Peyton Manning had started 192 games in a row.
- Manning's 87 consecutive starts is a record for Giants quarterbacks. The previous mark of 69 starts in a row was set by Fran Tarkenton from 1967-71.
- Manning is the 1st Giants quarterback to throw for more than 3,000 yards in 5 consecutive seasons and the 1st to throw at least 20 touchdown passes 5 years in a row.
- Manning is one of four quarterbacks to throw for at least 3,000 yards every season from 2005-09. The others are Drew Brees, Brett Favre and Peyton Manning. He is one of three quarterbacks with at least 20 touchdown passes in each of the last five seasons, joining Brees and Peyton Manning.
- Manning is the 4th quarterback to throw more than 100 touchdown passes in a Giants uniform, joining Simms (199), Charlie Conerly (173) and Tarkenton (103).
- When Manning threw his 100th touchdown pass at Dallas, he became the 111th quarterback in NFL history to reach that mark. Eli and Peyton Manning are the first pair of brothers to each throw for 100 touchdowns in their career.
- Played in his 1st Pro Bowl following the 2008 season to become the 1st Giants quarterback to be selected to the Pro Bowl since Phil Simms in 1993.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Has played in 89 regular season games with starts in his last 87 appearances and has started all 7 postseason games in which he's played. In the regular season, Manning has completed 1,593 of 2,793 pass attempts (57.0 percent) for 18,644 yards with 125 touchdowns, 88 interceptions, a long pass of 78 yards and a career passer rating of 79.2. He is 2nd in franchise history in completions and 3rd in attempts, yards and touchdowns…38 his 125 touchdown passes (30.4 percent) were in the 4th quarter or overtime.
- Manning's 194 career postseason passes, 113 completions and 1,297 yards leave him 2nd on the franchise's playoff lists in all 3 categories. He trails Simms, who threw 279 passes and had 157 completions and 1,679 yards. Manning's 8 postseason touchdown passes leave him 3rd, behind Simms (10) and Collins (9).

- In 2009, Manning started all 16 games for 5th season in a row and completed 317 of 509 passes (62.3 percent) for 4,021 yards, 27 touchdowns, 14 interceptions and a passer rating of 93.1. The completions, percentage, yards, touchdowns and rating were all career highs…The 509 attempts were the 8th-highest single-season total in team history and the 317 completions and completion percentage were both third.
- Manning became the 3rd quarterback in Giants history to throw for more than 4,000 yards in a season, joining Kerry Collins (4,073 in 2002) and Phil Simms (4,044 in 1984). An NFL record 10 quarterbacks broke that barrier in the 2009 season.
- Manning threw at least 1 touchdown pass in every game except the losses in Denver and Minnesota.
- Manning played only the first 5 series in a 44-7 rout of Oakland (10/11) and left the game with a perfect passer rating of 158.3. He completed 8 of 10 passes for 173 yards, 2 touchdowns and no interceptions. The previous Giants quarterback to finish a game with a perfect rating was Collins at Indianapolis on Dec. 22, 2002, when he completed 23 of 29 passes for 366 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions in a 44-27 victory.
- Manning completed 19 of 26 passes for 268 yards, 3 touchdowns and no interceptions at Washington (12/21) for a passer rating of 144.4 that was the 2nd-highest of his career, topped only by his percent 158.3 rating vs. Oakland. His previous best rating on the road was 131.4 at St. Louis on Sept. 14, 2008. That was the 2nd week in a row Manning threw for 3 scores without an interception and was the 2nd time in Manning's career he threw 3 touchdown passes in consecutive games. He did it at Philadelphia and Seattle on Sept. 17 and 24, 2006. The Giants are 10-2 in games in which Manning throws three touchdown passes.
- Manning twice threw for career-high yardage totals in 2009. He passed for 384 yards vs. Atlanta (11/22) and 391 yards vs. Philadelphia (12/13). They were the 9th and 10th 300-yard games of his career, but his first 2 at home. The Giants are 6-4 when Manning throws for at least 300 yards.
- The Giants had 62 pass plays of 20 or more yards in 2009, which left them tied for 5th in the NFL. Manning accounted for 60 of those plays and ranked 5th among the league's quarterbacks.
- Manning threw 4 of the 6 longest touchdown passes of his career in 2009. The longest of the season was a short pass than Brandon Jacobs turned into a 74-yard score vs. Dallas (12/6). Manning also threw long touchdown passes to Hakeem Nicks (68 yards vs. Arizona, 62 yards vs. Philadelphia), plus a 62-yarder to Domenik Hixon against the Eagles. Manning's longest career touchdown pass was a 78-yarder to Plaxico Burress at Oakland on Dec. 31, 2005. He also tossed a 61-yard score to Burress against Philadelphia on Nov. 20, 2005.
- The 74-yard touchdown pass to Jacobs' was the Giants' longest offensive play since the pass to Burress against the Raiders in 2005.
- Manning threw 3 touchdown passes of at least 60 yards in two weeks: one vs. Dallas (12/6) and 2 vs. Philadelphia (12/13). He was the 1st Giants quarterback to throw two touchdown passes of 60 or more yards in the same game since Collins did it vs. the Jets on Dec. 5, 1999 (scores of 61 and 80 yards to Amani Toomer). The last Giants quarterback to accomplish the feat in back-to-back games was Simms on Sept. 2 and 9, 1984, also in home games vs. Philadelphia and Dallas.
- Manning rushed for a career-best 34 yards at Philadelphia on Nov. 1. That was the highest total by a Giants quarterback since Oct. 31, 1999, when Kent Graham ran for 41 yards – also in Philadelphia.
- Manning completed 76 percent of his passes (25 of 33), which tied for the second-best one-game mark of his career vs. San Diego (11/8). Manning hit 79 percent (26 of 33) at Arizona on Nov. 23, 2008 and 76 percent (19 of 25) vs. Seattle on Oct. 5, 2008.
- Manning's 29 completions vs. Carolina (11/27) were his highest total in Giants Stadium. His previous best was 28 completions vs. the Eagles on Dec. 17, 2006. Manning reached his career high of 31 completions in Philadelphia on Sept. 17, 2006.
- In 2008, Manning started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Divisional Playoff Game…He led the Giants to their 2nd NFC East championship in his 4 full seasons as a starter and their 4th consecutive postseason berth, a franchise record. Only 1 other QB had then led his team to the playoffs in 4 consecutive seasons – Peyton Manning.
- Manning completed 289 of 479 passes (60.3 percent) for 3,238 yards, 21 touchdowns and 10 interceptions for a passer rating of 86.4. The completion percentage and rating were career highs. It was the 1st time since Manning's rookie season in 2004 – when he started just 9 games – that he did not throw at least 500 passes. The 10 interceptions are his lowest total since he threw 9 as a rookie and were half his 2007 total.
- Manning twice had single-game career high passer ratings. On Sept. 14 in St. Louis, he completed 20 of 29 passes for 260 yards, 3 touchdowns and no interceptions for a rating of 131.4. Three weeks later vs. Seattle, Manning completed 19 of 25 passes for 267 yards, 2 touchdowns and no interceptions for a rating of 136.6, the highest of his career, including both regular season and postseason games. His previous best in any game had been a 132.4 rating in the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Dallas on Jan. 13.
- When Manning's 4th pass at Cleveland (10/13) was intercepted by safety Brodney Pool it ended a streak of 108 consecutive throws without a pick, the 2nd-longest streak of his career. He threw 124 passes without an interception from Sept. 11 to Oct. 16, 2005, a streak ended by Dallas' Anthony Henry.
- Manning completed 21 of 34 passes for 305 yards, a touchdown and an interception at Washington (11/30). It was his 1st 300-yard game since Oct. 15, 2007.
- Manning was named the NFC Offensive Player of the Month in November and Sporting News' 2008 Pro Athlete of the Year.
- In 2007, Manning started all 16 regular season games and 4 postseason games and led the Giants to victory in Super Bowl XLII…Completed 297 of 529 passes for 3,336 yards, 23 touchdowns and 20 interceptions. In 4 postseason games, Manning completed 72 of 119 passes (60.5 percent) for 854 yards, 6 touchdowns and 1 interception.
- Tied a career high – and set a personal best in a road game - by throwing 4 touchdown passes while completing 28 of 41 throws for 312 yards at Dallas (9/9). Three of the scoring passes went to Burress, the other to Derrick Ward…Left the game in the 4th quarter with a bruised shoulder…Despite the injury, Manning started the next week vs. Green Bay.
- Led the Giants to their 1st victory of the season at Washington (9/23), where he completed 21 of 36 passes, including the game-winning 33-yard touchdown pass to Burress in the 4th quarter.

- Manning threw a career high-tying 4 touchdown passes vs. New England (12/29). Two of the scores went to Burress and 1 each to Brandon Jacobs and Kevin Boss…Completed 22 of 32 passes for 251 yards and 1 interception for a passer rating of 118.6.

- Opened postseason play by completing 20 of 27 passes for 185 yards, 2 touchdowns and no interceptions in NFC Wild Card Game victory at Tampa Bay (1/6)…Became the 5th Giants QB to win a postseason game in the Giants Stadium era (since 1976), joining Simms, Jeff Hostetler, Collins and Scott Brunner.

- Completed 12 of 18 passes for 163 yards and 2 touchdowns to Amani Toomer in NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Dallas (1/13)…Manning's rating of 132.4 was then the highest of his career…His 52-yard touchdown pass to Toomer was his longest postseason completion…Successfully engineered a 2-minute drive in the 2nd quarter by completing 4 pass for 56 yards on a 7-play 71-yard drive in just 46 seconds that resulted in a 4-yard touchdown pass to Toomer to tie the game at 14-14 at halftime.

- Played another turnover-free game and set career postseason highs with 40 passes and 21 completions while throwing for 251 yards in minus-23 degree wind chill in the NFC Championship Game victory in Green Bay (1/20)…Increased his streak to 101 consecutive postseason passes without an interception.

- Manning was named the Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XLII after completing 19 of 34 for a career postseason-high 255 yards, 2 touchdowns and an interception that caromed off Steve Smith's hands in the Giants' victory over the New England Patriots…Led the Giants on their game-winning 4th quarter drive by completing 5 of 9 passes for 77 yards and a 13-yard touchdown pass to Burress. The most memorable play on the drive was a 32-yard completion to David Tyree, who secured the ball against his helmet after Manning eluded the grasp of numerous Patriots defensive lineman…Threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Tyree early in the 4th quarter that was set up by passes of 45 yards to Kevin Boss and 17 yards to Smith…Manning was intercepted by cornerback Ellis Hobbs with 11:53 remaining in the 2nd quarter. It was the Giants' 1st offensive turnover in their 4-game postseason. The offense had gone 34 possessions and run 213 plays without turning over the ball. The previous turnover had been in the regular season finale against the Patriots – also an interception by Hobbs of a Manning pass. Manning had thrown 103 consecutive passes without an interception, including 95 in the postseason. He had thrown 111 postseason passes in a row without a pick…Manning threw 2 interceptions in the Giants' last 5 games and Hobbs had both of them.

- In 2006, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card Game…Completed 301 of 522 regular season passes for 3,244 yards, 24 touchdowns, 18 interceptions and 77.0 QB rating…Manning's 24 touchdown passes matched his 2005 total and left him tied for 4th in the NFL with St. Louis Pro Bowler Marc Bulger…Manning was the 1st Giants quarterback to throw at least 20 touchdown passes in consecutive seasons since Simms did it 3 years in a row from 1984-86.

- Completed a career-high 31 passes on 43 attempts for 371 yards with 3 touchdowns, 1 interception and a rating of 111.7 at Philadelphia (9/17)…In overtime, Manning completed 8-of-8 passes for 83 yards, including a 31-yard touchdown pass to Burress to give the Giants a 30-24 comeback victory after they trailed by 17 at the start of the 4th quarter.

- Finished with 17 completions on 33 attempts for 172 yards with 3 touchdowns, 0 interceptions, a long pass of 45 yards and a QB rating of 97.0 at Carolina (12/10)…Game long 45-yard pass to Burress was followed by a 28-yard touchdown pass to the same receiver in the 2nd quarter…Threw a season-long 55-yard touchdown pass to Burress vs. New Orleans (12/24).

- Finished with 16 completions on 27 attempts for 161 yards with 2 touchdowns and 1 interception in the NFC Wild Card Game at Philadelphia (1/7/07)…The Giants scored on their opening possession when Manning threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Burress…Tied the game at 20-20 with an 11-yard touchdown pass to Burress in the 4th quarter.

- In 2005, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card Game in his 1st full season as the starting quarterback…Led the Giants to the NFC East championship…Completed 294 of 557 passes for 3,762 yards with 24 touchdowns, 17 interceptions, a long completion of 78 yards and a QB rating of 75.9…Manning's 24 touchdown passes were the most by a Giant since Fran Tarkenton had 29 in 1967. - Completed 12 of 24 passes for 204 yards, 1 touchdown and no interceptions in a victory at Oakland (12/31) that clinched the division title…Threw a career-long 78-yard touchdown pass to Burress.

- Scored on a 1-yard quarterback sneak in the 2nd quarter at Philadelphia (12/11), the 1st rushing touchdown of Manning's career and the 1st by a Giants quarterback since Kurt Warner scored on a 1-yard run vs. Cleveland (9/26/04).

- Threw a career-high 53 passes (completing 29) for 344 yards, 2 touchdowns and 1 interception at Seattle (11/27). The 53 passes were the most thrown by the Giants since Collins had 59 at New England (10/12/03). It was the 12th consecutive game in which Manning threw at least 1 touchdown pass, 3 shy of the Giants record set by Y.A. Tittle from 1962-64.

- Completed 23 of 42 passes for 214 yards, 2 touchdowns and 1 interception vs. Denver (10/23). Led the Giants on 2 touchdown drives in the 4th quarter to secure his 2nd career 4th quarter come-from-behind-victory. His 2-yard touchdown pass to Toomer with 5 seconds remaining in the game gave the Giants a 24-23 victory. On the game-winning 83-yard drive, Manning completed 8 of 13 passes for 68 yards.

- Completed 19 of 35 passes for 296 yards and 4 touchdowns vs. St. Louis (10/2) to become the 1st Giants quarterback to throw 4 touchdown passes in a regular-season game since Collins did it at Indianapolis (12/22/02). Collins matched the feat in an NFC Wild Card playoff game at San Francisco (1/5/03).

- Played in 9 games as a rookie in 2004, including starts in the final 7 games…Rookie record as a starter was 1-6…Improved markedly down the stretch and finished with 95 completions in 197 attempts for 1,043 yards, 6 touchdowns and 9 interceptions.

- Earned his 1st NFL victory in the 2004 season finale vs. Dallas, completing 18 of 27 passes for 144 yards, 3 touchdowns, 1 interception and a rating of 101.5…Manning threw touchdown passes of 2 yards to Visanthe Shiancoe in the 2nd quarter, 15 yards to Tyree and 3 yards to Tiki Barber, both in the 4th quarter. Completed a 23-yard pass to Barber to start the Giants' game-winning drive and called a run at the line on which Barber scored the deciding touchdown on a 3-yard run with 11 seconds remaining.

- Completed 16 of 23 passes for 182 yards, 2 touchdowns, 1 interception, a long-pass of 49 yards and a season-high rating of 103.9 vs. Pittsburgh (12/18). Threw his 2nd touchdown pass of the season in the 1st quarter, a 2-yarder to Shockey.

- Made his 1st NFL start vs. Atlanta (11/21) and completed 17 of 37 passes for 162 yards, 1 touchdown and 2 interceptions. His 1st NFL touchdown pass was a 6-yarder to Shockey. Coincidently, the initial pro scoring pass for all 3 Manning quarterbacks was 6 yards long. Archie Manning threw a 6-yarder to Dave Parks in 1971. Peyton Manning's 6-yard touchdown pass went to Marvin Harrison on Sept. 6, 1998.
- Manning was the 18th quarterback to start a game for the Giants in the Giants Stadium era (including Craig Morton and Norm Snead, who joined the team earlier and were still on the team when the stadium opened in 1976). He was the 4th quarterback in a row to lose his debut, joining Kerry Collins, Jesse Palmer and Kurt Warner…Of the 14 quarterbacks selected with the No. 1 overall pick in the NFL Draft since 1970, he was the 13th to make his starting debut as a rookie (Cincinnati's Carson Palmer was the exception). The 13 quarterbacks taken with the top pick who started as rookies are 4-9 in their debuts.
- Saw his 1st NFL regular season action when he replaced Warner with 2:37 remaining in the 4th quarter at Philadelphia (9/12), with the Giants trailing, 31-10. Completed 3 of 9 passes for 66 yards, including a 34-yarder, no touchdowns and no interceptions. Was sacked once and fumbled after being blindsided by Jerome McDougle. On his 1st career snap, he handed the ball off to Barber, who ran 72 yards for a touchdown. Manning's long completion of 34 yards was a short screen pass to Barber on the final drive of the game.

NEW YORK FOOTBALL GIANTS

TRANSACTIONS: Originally a 3rd round (95th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2008.

GIANTS NOTES:
Talented receiver emerged as a consistent playmaker in 2009, when his 57 catches and 822 yards were the second-highest totals on the teams…His rookie season was curtailed due to injuries suffered in training camp.

CAREER NOTES:
- Has played in 22 games with 10 starts and has career totals of 61 receptions for 848 yards (a 13.9-yard average) and 5 touchdowns.
- In 2009, played in 14 games with 10 starts…Inactive at Philadelphia (11/1) and at Minnesota (1/3) due to shoulder injury…Caught at least 1 pass in every game in which he played.
- Finished second on the Giants with 57 catches, 822 yards and a 14.4-yard average and tied for 3rd (with Kevin Boss) with 5 touchdown receptions.
- Manningham posted 2 100-yard games: 150 yards at Kansas City (10/4) and 126 yards vs. Atlanta (11/22).
- Manningham had career-high totals of 10 receptions for 150 yards at Kansas City, the same game in which Steve Smith had 10 receptions for 134 yards.
They were the 1st pair of receivers in Giants history to have double-digit receptions in the same game.
- It was the first career 100-yard game for each player. They were the first pair of Giants receivers with at least 100 yards apiece in the same game since Sept. 17, 2006, when Amani Toomer had 137 yards on 12 catches and Plaxico Burress had 114 yards on 6 receptions in an overtime victory in Philadelphia.
- Manningham caught 6 passes vs. San Diego (11/8), vs. Atlanta (11/22) and vs. Carolina (12/27).
- Opened the season vs. Washington (9/13), with 3 catches for 58 yards, including a 30-yard touchdown, the 1st of his career.
- Made his 1st career start at Tampa Bay (9/17) and had 4 catches for 55 yards.
- In 2008, played in 8 games as a rookie and contributed 4 receptions for 26 yards, 1 rush for a 12-yard loss and 2 special teams tackles…Suffered a quad injury that forced him to miss the majority of training camp.
- Made his regular season debut vs. Seattle (10/5) and finished with 1 reception for 4 yards…Saw extensive playing time at wide receiver in the 2nd half at Minnesota (12/28) and had 2 receptions for 21 yards.

COLLEGE:
- Played in 34 games with 24 starts for the Wolverines…In 3 years, he caught 137 passes for 2,310 yards (16.9-yard average) and 27 touchdowns…Ranks 4th in school history with 27 touchdown catches…His 2,310 yards receiving rank 5th in Michigan history…Manningham's 137 receptions placed him 9th on the Wolverine all-time record list…Scored 12 times on receptions in 2007, the 6th-best season total in school history…Manningham's 72 receptions in 2007 placed him 6th on UM's season-record list and his 1,174 yards receiving in 2007 rank 2nd in school annals behind Braylon Edwards' 1,330 yards in 2004…Set a school record with 6 straight 100-yard receiving games in 2007 (vs. Northwestern, Purdue, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan State and Wisconsin), breaking Edwards' old mark of four (both in 2003 and '04)…His 3 touchdown catches vs. Notre Dame in 2006 were 1 shy of the school record of 4…With his 106 yards gained receiving vs. Wisconsin in 2005, Manningham joined Toomer (1992), John Kolesar (1985), Carter (1979) and Dick Rifenburg (1944) as the only true freshmen in Michigan history to gain 100 receiving yards in a game…His 97-yard touchdown catch vs. Wisconsin in 2007 set a school record, topping the previous long of 90 yards by Alexander vs. Illinois in 1993…That 97-yarder was the 4th-longest reception in Big Ten history, ranking behind 99-yard catches by Thomas Lewis of Indiana (vs. Penn State, 1993), Vinny Sutherland of Purdue (vs. Northwestern, 1999) and Lee Evans of Wisconsin (vs. Akron, 2003).

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:

NEW YORK FOOTBALL GIANTS

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 3rd round (79th pick overall) draft choice by the Jets in 2001…Signed by the Giants as an unrestricted free agent on March 4, 2005.

GIANTS NOTE:

- McKenzie has blocked for 4 NFL running backs who rushed for more than 1,000 yards in a season – Curtis Martin with the Jets and Tiki Barber, Brandon Jacobs and Derrick Ward with the Giants.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Has played in 129 career regular season games with 121 starts and started all 11 postseason games in which he's played…Started every game in which he has played the previous 8 seasons…Has played every game in a season 5 times…In his 1st 5 seasons with the Giants, McKenzie started all 73 regular season games and 7 postseason games in which he played at right tackle.
- In 2009, McKenzie started all 12 games in which he played at right tackle…Inactive vs. Arizona (10/25) due to groin injury. When McKenzie was unable to play vs. the Cardinals, the Giants had a different starter on the offensive line for the first time in a regular season game since the 2006 finale. McKenzie, Chris Snee, Shaun O'Hara, Rich Seubert and David Diehl had started 38 consecutive regular season games together, the longest streak by five offensive linemen since the 1970 merger. The previous mark was 32 games by the Kansas City Chiefs' offensive line in 2002-03…Suffered a sprained MCL in the 2nd quarter vs. Philadelphia (12/13). Did not return and was inactive for the final 3 games… Run and pass blocking helped the Giants average 366.0 yards a game, the NFL's 8th-highest figure…Line allowed only 32 sacks, tied for 7th-best in the league.
- In 2008, McKenzie started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at right tackle. The Giants were the only team to start the same 5 linemen in all 32 regular season games in 2007-08.
- McKenzie was an integral part of an offense that helped the Giants finish with 427 points and 338 first downs, both the 2nd-highest totals in franchise history. The Giants gained 5,695 yards, the 3rd-highest total in their history. The line's blocking enabled the Giants to lead the NFL and set franchise records in both rushing yards per game (157.4) and yards per carry (5.0). With McKenzie and the line opening holes, Brandon Jacobs (1,089) and Derrick Ward (1,025) became the 4th pair of running back teammates to rush for 1,000 yards in the same season.
- With the line opening holes, the Giants rushed for 301 yards in a victory over Carolina (12/21) that clinched the top seed in the NFC playoffs. It was the 5th-highest total in Giants history.
- McKenzie and the line allowed just 2 sacks in a 5-game period from Sept. 21-Oct. 26.
- In 2007, started all 16 regular season games and all 4 of the Giants' postseason games at right tackle…Blocking by McKenzie and the O-line enabled the Giants to finish 4th in the NFL in rushing yardage with an average of 134.3 yards a game. In their 4-game postseason surge that culminated in a Super Bowl XLII victory, the Giants averaged 305.5 yards, including 103.8 on the ground.
- In 2006, started all 15 regular season games in which he played and the NFC Wild Card Game at right tackle…Was active but did not play vs. Houston (11/5) because of migraine headaches.
- The offensive line helped the Giants rush for 2,156 yards, the 7th-highest total in the NFL…The O-line cleared the holes for the Giants' 261-yard rushing attack at Washington (12/30), including a franchise-record 234 yards by Tiki Barber.
- In 2005, started all 14 regular season games in which he played and the NFC Wild Card Game at right tackle in his 1st season with the Giants…Was inactive for 2 games with a hamstring injury (vs. Kansas City (12/17) and at Washington (12/24)…Offensive line provided enough run blocking for Barber to rush for a franchise-record 1,860 yards…The pass blocking enabled Eli Manning to throw for 3,762 yards, the 5th-highest total in franchise history…The O-line's outstanding run blocking enabled the Giants to rush for 262 yards vs. Washington (10/30).
- From 2002-04, started every game at right tackle for the Jets. In 2004, also started 2 postseason games and his blocking helped Curtis Martin lead the NFL in rushing with 1,697 yards…The line's blocking helped the Jets gain 396 yards, including 296 passing yards by Chad Pennington, in an AFC Wild Card victory at San Diego (1/8/05).
- In 2003, started all 16 games at right tackle and helped Martin rush for 1,308 yards.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 1st round (29th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2009.

GIANTS NOTE:

- Nicks immediately established himself as 1 of the Giants' finest receivers and made the kind of contribution as a rookie all teams would like to get from their 1st-round draft choice.

CAREER NOTES:

- As a rookie in 2009, played in 14 games with 6 starts…Inactive at Dallas (9/20) and at Tampa Bay (9/27) with a foot injury…Started for the 1st time at Philadelphia (11/1)…Finished the season with 47 receptions for 790 yards, which were 3rd on the team in both categories…Led the team with a 16.8-yard average…His 6 receiving touchdowns were 2nd on the team to Steve Smith (7)…His 68-yard touchdown reception vs. Philadelphia (12/13) was the longest by a Giants wide receiver in 2009.
- The 47 catches and 790 yards were both the 3rd-highest total in history by a Giants rookie. Jeremy Shockey had 74 catches for 894 yards in 2002 and Bobby Johnson had 48 for 795 in 1984…Nicks' 6 touchdown receptions were the most by a Giants rookie since Johnson had 7. Bill Swiacki holds the Giants rookie record with 10 in 1948….Nicks' 790 yards tied for first among all NFL rookies with Minnesota's Percy Harvin…From Oct. 18 through Dec. 21, Nicks had a catch longer than 20 yards in 9 straight games to become the 1st rookie to accomplish that feat since Miami's Nat Moore in 1974…Nicks had two 100-yards games: 114 at New Orleans (10/18) and 110 vs. Philadelphia (12/13). His 100-yard performance vs. the Saints was the first by a Giants rookie receiver since Jamaar Taylor had 102 yards (on just 2 catches) on Nov. 28, 2004 vs. Philadelphia.
- Nicks caught a touchdown pass in 4 consecutive games from Oct. 4 through Oct. 25, the first Giant to do so since Plaxico Burress scored in each of the first 6 games of the 2007 season. He was the first Giants rookie to score touchdowns in 4 consecutive games since Bob Gaiters scored in 5 straight games in 1961. Nicks was the 1st Giants rookie with a touchdown reception in 4 consecutive games since Swiacki in '48. In addition, Nicks was the 1st NFL rookie with a touchdown catch in 4 straight games since Buffalo's Lee Evans in 2004.
- Nicks was named the NFL's Offensive Rookie of the Month for October. In 4 games, he caught 14 passes for 297 yards (a 21.2-yard average) and 4 touchdowns, 1 in each game. He was the 1st Giant to win a Rookie of the Month award since October 2004, when safety Gibril Wilson received the defensive honor. The last Giant to be named Offensive Rookie of the Month was Jeremy Shockey in November 2002.
- Returned 1 kickoff for 16 yards vs. Washington (9/13).

COLLEGE:

- Nicks started all 36 games he played for North Carolina and led the team in receptions in each of his 3 seasons…Was the 1st UNC underclassman to declare for the NFL Draft since defensive end Julius Peppers in 2001…Set 14 school records, including catches, receiving yards and touchdown catches…His 181 receptions topped the old record of 177 by Jarwarski Pollock (2001-05) and rank 13th in Atlantic Coast Conference history…Nicks' 2,840 yards receiving broke the previous UNC mark of 2,447 yards by Corey Holliday (1989-93) and placed Nicks 11th on the ACC career-record chart…His 21 touchdown receptions bettered the former record of 19 by Octavus Barnes (1994-97)…Nicks set another school record with 74 receptions in 2007, topping the previous record of 71 by Pollock in 2003…In 2008, he became the 1st player in school history to gain over 1,000 yards receiving in a season with 1,222 yards (on 68 catches), topping the former record of 990 yards by Sam Aiken in 2003…His 12 touchdown catches in 2008 broke the old record of 9 by Marcus Wall in 1994…Had 10 games with at least 100 receiving yards…Nicks' 217 yards vs. West Virginia in the 2009 Meineke Car Care Bowl were the 2nd most by a Tar Heel, and he became just the 3rd player in school history to post a 200-yard receiving game. Nicks joined Randy Marriott (247 vs. Georgia Tech in 1987) and Octavus Barnes (211 vs. Ohio in 1995).

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:

- Participated in the Giants Foundation 2009 Golf Outing.
- Joined Coach Coughlin to host local children fighting cancer and blood disorders for the Jay Fund Ice Cream Social at the Timex Performance Center.
- Joined Eli Manning to attend The Baby Ball benefitting the Eli and Abby Manning Birthing Center at St. Vincent's Medical Center.
- Participated in Justin Tuck's R.U.S.H. for Literacy fundraiser pool tournament.

He started every regular season game in the previous 3 seasons.
- In 2009. O'Hara started all 16 regular season games…Was selected to his 2nd consecutive Pro Bowl and started the game for the NFC team…Was joined at the Pro Bowl by guard Chris Snee and tackle David Diehl, the 1st time the Giants had 3 players from the same position group in the game since 1962 (when offensive linemen Rosie Brown, Darrell Dess and Ray Wietecha – also a tackle, guard and center – all received the honor…O'Hara and Snee were the 1st Giants to be selected to back-to-back Pro Bowls since Tiki Barber and Jeremy Shockey in 2005-06 and they were the 1st Giants offensive lineman to go in consecutive seasons since guard Ron Stone in 2000 and 2001. O'Hara was the 1st Giants center selected to successive Pro Bowls since Bart Oates in 1990-91…Run and pass blocking helped the Giants average 366.0 yards a game, the NFL's 8th-highest figure…Line allowed only 32 sacks, tied for 7th-best in the league.
- In 2008, O'Hara started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at center. The Giants were the only team to start the same 5 linemen in all 32 regular season games in 2007-08…O'Hara was selected to his 1st Pro Bowl and was named 1st team All-Pro by Sports Illustrated and The Sporting News, 1st team All-NFC by the Pro Football Writers Association and 2nd team All-Pro by the Associated Press.
- O'Hara was an integral part of an offense that helped the Giants finish with 427 points and 338 first downs, both the 2nd-highest totals in franchise history. The Giants gained 5,695 yards, the 3rd-highest total in their history. The line's blocking enabled the Giants to lead the NFL and set franchise records in both rushing yards per game (157.4) and yards per carry (5.0). With McKenzie and the line opening holes, Brandon Jacobs (1,089) and Derrick Ward (1,025) became the 4th pair of running back teammates to rush for 1,000 yards in the same season.
- With the line opening holes, the Giants rushed for 301 yards in a victory over Carolina (12/21) that clinched the top seed in the NFC playoffs. It was the 5th-highest total Giants history.
- O'Hara and the line allowed just 2 sacks in a 5-game period from Sept. 21-Oct. 26.
- In 2007, started all 16 regular season games and the Giants' final 3 postseason games at center. Did not play in the NFC Wild Card Game at Tampa Bay due to a knee injury suffered in the regular season finale vs. New England.
- Was one of the Giants' team captains for the 2007 season, with Eli Manning, Michael Strahan, Antonio Pierce and Jeff Feagles.
- Blocking by O'Hara and the O-line enabled the Giants to finish 4th in the NFL in rushing yardage with an average of 134.3 yards a game. In their 4-game postseason surge that culminated in a Super Bowl XLII victory, the Giants averaged 305.5 yards, including 103.8 on the ground.
- In 2006, O'Hara started all 15 regular season games in which he played and the NFC Wild Card Game at center…Inactive due to an ankle injury vs. Philadelphia (12/17).
- In 2005, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card Game at center…Was selected as a 3rd alternate to the NFC Pro Bowl squad…Blocking by the O-line helped Tiki Barber rush for a franchise record 1,860 yards…Blocking at Oakland (12/31) helped Barber rush for 203 yards, including a team-record 95-yard touchdown.
- In 2004, started all 12 games in which he played in at center…Inactive at Minnesota (10/31) and vs. Chicago (11/7) with leg infection that forced him to be hospitalized for a week. Inactive vs. Atlanta (11/21) and vs. Philadelphia (11/28) with an ankle injury…Key member of a line that provided the blocking to enable Barber to set a then-franchise single-season rushing record with 1,518 yards
- In 2003, started all 14 games in which he played for the Browns, 8 at left guard and 6 at right guard…Started at right guard at Cincinnati (12/28) as the Browns rushed for a season-high 264 yards, including 186 and 2 touchdowns by Lee Suggs.
- In 2002, started all 16 regular season games for the 1st time in his career, 13 at right guard and 3 at center…Also started at right guard in the AFC Wild Card Game at Pittsburgh (1/5/03) as the offensive line gave Kelly Holcomb enough time to throw for 429 yards and 3 touchdowns.
- In 2001, played in all 16 games, including starts in the final 4 games at left guard…Majority of action came in a backup role at center and guard, on special teams and as a tackle eligible on the goal-line unit…Made his 1st start at left guard (previous starts were at center) vs. Jacksonville (12/16)…Scored his 1st career touchdown vs. Detroit (9/23) when he lined up as a tackle eligible in the 2nd quarter and caught a 2-yard pass from Tim Couch to give the Browns a 14-0 lead in the 2nd quarter. Cleveland won, 24-14.

- In 2000, earned a roster spot as a rookie free agent during training camp and played in 8 games, including 4 starts at center…Made his NFL debut playing on special teams vs. Cincinnati (10/29)…Made his 1st career start at center at Baltimore (11/26).

COLLEGE:

- Former walk-on at Rutgers was selected All-Big East 1st-team tackle as a senior in 1999, when he was a team captain…Earned 2nd team All-Big East accolades as a junior in 1998…Also served as the Scarlet Knights' long snapper on all field goal, PAT and punt attempts.
- Originally earned a spot on the Scarlet Knights roster as a walk-on in 1995 and built himself into an outstanding offensive lineman through hard work and effort, starting the last 31 games of his career.

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:

- In 2009, O'Hara started the Shaun O'Hara Foundation to Help to Increase Knowledge and Education (HIKE) in life-threatening diseases for which there is limited funding. O'Hara serves as an Ambassador of Hope for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, a role in which he meets with children and young adults living with the disease whenever he can to help keep their spirits high. He also is very active in events designed to help raise awareness of the CF Foundation's fundraising efforts to find a cure. Some of the events in which O'Hara has participated include Strides Across America, where people pledge money based on the amount of miles they plan to walk over an established course. He's also been an active participant in the Giants Sports Challenge, which sees adults and children with CF come out to Giants Stadium to compete in different team-oriented activities. Cystic Fibrosis is a genetic, potentially life-threatening disease affecting the lungs and digestive system. CF causes the body to produce unusually thick, sticky mucus that clogs the lungs and leads to life-threatening infections and obstructs the pancreas, preventing natural enzymes from helping the body break down and absorb food.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 1st round (20th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2007.

GIANTS NOTE:

- Ross started 9 games in 2007, the 2nd year in a row the Giants' first-round draft choice started that number of regular season games. Mathias Kiwanuka started 9 games in 2006.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Ross has played in 34 regular season games with 25 starts (24 at left cornerback and 1 at strong safety) and in 5 postseason games with 4 starts at cornerback. In 3 seasons, he has 115 tackles (75 solo) 1.5 sacks, 6 interceptions and 17 passes defensed.
- In 2009, Ross played in 4 games with 1 start…Suffered a hamstring injury in training camp that forced him to miss the entire preseason and the first 9 games of the regular season…Finished with 15 tackles (9 solo)…Made season debut on special teams and in sub defenses vs. Atlanta (11/22) and had 3 tackles…Made 1st career start at strong safety vs. Philadelphia (12/13) and had 7 tackles (3 solo)…Ross was inactive for the next 2 games and placed on injured reserve (12/30).
- In 2008, started all 15 games in which he played and finished with 57 tackles (30 solo), 3 interceptions and 8 passes defensed. Inactive in the season finale at Minnesota (12/28) due to a concussion…Contributed a season-high 8 tackles (3 solo), 1 QB hit and 1 pass defensed vs. Washington (9/4)…Had 7 tackles (4 solo), 1 QB hurry and 2 passes defensed vs. Seattle (10/5)…Finished with 4 solo tackles and 2 interceptions vs. Baltimore (11/16). Scored his 2nd career touchdown on a 50-yard interception return late in the 3rd quarter. It was his 2nd interception of the game.
- As a rookie in 2007, played in 15 games with 9 starts and in all 4 postseason games with 3 starts…Finished with 53 tackles (36 solo), 1.5 sacks, 3 interceptions and 9 passes defensed…In the postseason, he had 13 tackles (9 solo), and 1 pass defensed.
- Had 1 solo tackle in his NFL debut at Dallas (9/9).
- Made his 1st career start vs. Philadelphia (9/30) and finished with 6 tackles (4 solo) and 2 passes defensed.
- Did not play in the 1st half vs. the Jets (10/7) because he was disciplined after violating an undisclosed team rule. But Ross twice intercepted Chad Pennington in the 4th quarter, his first 2 NFL picks. The first was at the goal line, likely prevented a Jets touchdown and led to the Giants' go-ahead score. Ross returned the second interception 43 yards for a touchdown for the Giants' final points with 3:15 remaining. It was the Giants' 1st touchdown on an interception return since Oct. 23, 2006, when Kevin Dockery – who was also a rookie – picked off a Tony Romo pass in Dallas and returned it 96 yards for a score. Ross was the 1st Giant with 2 interceptions in a game since Gibril Wilson had 2 at Carolina on Dec. 10, 2006…Finished with 3 tackles (1 solo), 3 passes defensed and 2 interceptions.
- Started at left cornerback at Atlanta (10/15) and recorded his 3rd interception of the season when he picked off a Joey Harrington attempt in the end zone to end the 2nd quarter…Also split a 6-yard sack of Harrington with DE Michael Strahan.
- Did not play at Chicago (12/2) due to hamstring injury.
- Started in the NFC Wild Card Game at Tampa Bay (1/6) and had 6 solo tackles.
- Started in the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Dallas and finished with 5 tackles (3 solo) before being forced from the game in the 2nd quarter with a shoulder injury…Returned in the 3rd quarter but was forced to leave again.
- Started vs. New England in Super Bowl XLII and had 1 assisted tackle.

COLLEGE:

- Ross played in 51 games with 15 starts at Texas. He registered 205 tackles (145 solo) with a 1-yard sack, 5 stops for losses of 21 yards and a quarterback pressure. He forced 3 fumbles and recovered 2 others, returning 1 for a touchdown. Ross batted away 33 passes and intercepted 10 others for 111 yards in returns (11.1-yard avg.). He also returned 76 punts for 893 yards (11.8-yard avg.) and 3 scores and added 53 yards on a pair of kickoff returns.
- Ross' 76 punt returns ranked 6th on the Longhorns' career-record chart and his 893 career punt return yards ranked 5th…His career average of 11.8 yards per punt return ranked 4th in Texas history.

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:

- Seubert has been a significant contributor as both a starter and reserve. He has played in 88 regular season games with 72 starts and 8 postseason games with 7 starts…Suffered a serious leg fracture on Oct. 19, 2003 that forced him to miss the remainder of that year and the entire 2004 season…Returned to action in 2005.
- In 2009, Seubert started all 14 games in which he played at left guard…Suffered a knee injury in the 2nd quarter at Washington (12/21) and was forced to leave that game and sit out the final 2 games of the season… Run and pass blocking helped the Giants average 366.0 yards a game, the NFL's 8th-highest figure…Line allowed only 32 sacks, tied for 7th-best in the league.
- In 2008, Seubert started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at left guard. The Giants were the only team to start the same 5 linemen in all 32 regular season games in 2007-08…Seubert was an integral member of an offensive line that helped the Giants finish with 427 points and 338 first downs, both the 2nd-highest totals in franchise history. The Giants gained 5,695 yards, the 3rd-highest total in their history. The line's blocking enabled the Giants to lead the NFL and set franchise records in both rushing yards per game (157.4) and yards per carry (5.0). With Seubert and the line opening holes, Brandon Jacobs (1,089) and Derrick Ward (1,025) became the 4th pair of running back teammates to rush for 1,000 yards in the same season.
- The line's blocking helped the Giants rush for 301 yards in a victory over Carolina (12/21) that clinched the top seed in the NFC playoffs. It was the 5th-highest total in Giants history…Seubert and the line allowed just 2 sacks in a 5-game period from Sept. 21-Oct. 26.
- In 2007, started all 16 regular season games for the 2nd time in his career and all 4 of the Giants' postseason games at left guard…Blocking by Seubert and the O-line enabled the Giants to finish 4th in the NFL in rushing yardage with an average of 134.3 yards a game. In their 4-game postseason surge that culminated in a Super Bowl XLII victory, the Giants averaged 305.5 yards, including 103.8 on the ground.
- In 2006, played in 14 games with 3 starts…Also started the NFC Wild Card Game at left guard…Used as a 2nd tight end throughout the season…Was inactive for 2 games (vs. New Orleans, 12/24, at Washington, 12/30) with a shin injury.
- Started at left guard in the NFC Wild Card game at Philadelphia (1/7)…Offensive line allowed 1 sack and provided the blocks that enabled the Giants to rush for 151 yards on 31 carries…Started at center in place of injured Shaun O'Hara vs. Philadelphia (12/17)…Left the game for 1 play due to a knee injury in the 4th quarter but later returned…Started as a 2nd tight end for the 2nd straight week at Carolina (12/10)…Played center in the 1st half when O'Hara left the game due to injury…Played the entire 2nd half at left guard in place of David Diehl, who was at right tackle in place of the injured Kareem McKenzie.
- In 2005, returned to action after missing the entire 2004 season while recovering from 3 fractures in his right leg suffered in 2003…Played in 4 games with 1 start…When he started at left guard vs. the Chiefs it was his 1st playing time on the offensive line since Oct. 19, 2003, when he suffered a severely fractured right leg against the Eagles. The line's run blocking enabled Tiki Barber to rush for a then-franchise record 220 yards.
- In 2004, missed the entire season after being placed on the physically unable to perform list as a result of the fractured right leg he suffered in 2003.
- In 2003, started the first 6 games at left guard before suffering an injury that forced him to miss the rest of the season…Fractured the right fibula, tibia and ankle late in the 1st quarter vs. Philadelphia (10/19). He was placed on injured reserve the following week.
- In the 5 full games he played, the Giants offense averaged 355 total yards (including 399 at Washington and 381 at New England) and allowed just 8 sacks.
- In 2002, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card game at left guard…Was 1 of 3 undrafted free agents to start on the offensive line, joining Chris Bober at center and Jason Whittle at right guard…The line gave up only 24 sacks all season.
- As a rookie in 2001, played in 2 games, with no starts…Played only on special teams…Suited up for a 3rd game but did not play and was inactive for 13 games.

COLLEGE:

- Named 1st-team All-Gateway Conference as a senior in 2000…Helped Leathernecks to the 21st-ranked rushing attack in the country…Began career as a tight end before moving to offensive line full-time as a junior in 1999…Started all 11 games at tight end as a true freshman in 1997…Caught 2 passes for 17 yards…Started first 5 games at tight end as a sophomore and caught 4 passes for 58 yards…Started the remainder of the season at guard. Switched to tackle as a junior.

NEW YORK FOOTBALL GIANTS

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 2nd round (51st pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2007.

GIANTS NOTE:

- Smith's 107 receptions in 2009 shattered the Giants' previous single-season record of 82, set by Amani Toomer in 2002. Prior to Smith's breakout season, the Giants were one of 7 teams that have never had a receiver catch at least 100 passes in a season. Now there are six: Cleveland, Miami, New Orleans, the Jets, Seattle and Philadelphia.
- Smith was the 1st Giants wide receiver to play in the Pro Bowl since Homer Jones in 1968 (not including David Tyree, who was the NFC special teams player in 2005).
- Smith made one of the biggest plays of the Giants' 2007 postseason when he caught a short Eli Manning pass and turned it into a 12-yard gain and a first down on a 3rd-and-11 in the waning moments of Super Bowl XLII. On the next play, Manning threw the 13-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress that gave the Giants their upset victory over New England.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Smith has played in 37 games with 19 starts, recording 172 receptions for 1,857 yards and 8 touchdowns…Also played in 5 postseason games with 1 start, totaling 16 catches for 169 yards.
- In 2009, played in all 16 regular season games with 15 starts. Smith led the NFC and was 2nd in the NFL with a Giants-record 107 receptions, 25 more than the franchise's previous single-season mark (Amani Toomer had 82 in 2002) and 50 more than 2009 runner-up Mario Manningham.
- Smith was the first Giant to stand alone at the top of the NFC since tight end Bob Tucker led the conference with 59 catches in 1971, two less than AFC leader Fred Biletnikoff of Oakland. Wide receiver Earnest Gray's 78 receptions left him in a three-way tie for the conference receptions title in 1983 (with St. Louis' Roy Green and Washington's Charlie Brown), but they all trailed Raiders tight end Todd Christensen by 14 catches.
- Smith was once of 6 NFL players with at least 100 catches in 2009.
- Smith was 3rd in the NFC and 8th in the NFL with 1,220 receiving yards, the 2nd-highest total in franchise history. Toomer had 1,343 in 2002. Smith joins Toomer, Plaxico Burress (1,214 yards in 2005) and Homer Jones (1,209 yards in 1967) as the only Giants with 1,200-yard receiving seasons.
- Smith's 11.4-yard average per catch was a career high.
- Smith led the Giants with 7 touchdown receptions, 6 more than he had in his first 2 seasons combined.
- Smith, originally a 1st alternate, was added to the NFC Pro Bowl team as a replacement for Arizona's Larry Fitzgerald, who did not play because of injury. He was the first Giants wide receiver to play in the game since Jones in 1968 (though David Tyree, who was the NFC special teams player in 2005).
- Smith was the NFL's 3rd-down receptions leader with 38, three more than Miami's Davone Bess. They accounted for 457 yards and 3 touchdowns.
- Smith has at least one reception in 33 consecutive regular season games. He caught at least 4 passes in every game but one in 2009 (3 vs. Oakland).
- Smith had 3 games with double-digit receptions: 11 at Kansas City and 10 at Dallas and Minnesota. He also had three 100-yard games: 134 at both Dallas and Kansas City and 110 vs. Philadelphia. Smith scored 2 touchdowns at Kansas City.
- Smith's 11 receptions vs. the Chiefs were tied for the 3rd-highest total in franchise history and the 2nd-highest by a wide receiver (the most in a non-overtime game). Running back Tiki Barber holds the Giants record with 13 catches at Dallas on Jan. 2, 2000. The Giants have had three 12-reception games: Tight end Mark Bavaro at Cincinnati on Oct. 13, 1985, Jeremy Shockey vs. Dallas on Nov. 11, 2007 and Toomer in an overtime victory at Philadelphia on Sept. 15, 2006. Smith was the 8th Giant to have exactly 11 catches in a game, a feat last accomplished by Shockey on Oct. 5, 2003.
- In 2008, played in all 16 regular season games with 4 starts and started the NFC Divisional Playoff Game…Led the Giants with 57 receptions (9 more than Toomer) and was 3rd with 574 receiving yards…Had season-high totals of 9 catches for 94 yards at Cleveland (10/13)…Scored his 1st career touchdown on a 5-yard reception from Eli Manning in the 1st quarter vs. Dallas (11/2).
- As a rookie in 2007, he played in 5 regular season games and in all 4 postseason games…Was inactive for 11 games with a fractured scapula suffered vs. Green Bay (9/16) and then with a hamstring injury…Returned to action vs. Washington (12/16)… Finished the regular season with 8 receptions for 63 yards…Was outstanding in the postseason, when he caught 14 passes for 152 yards.
- Caught his first 3 NFL passes at Dallas (9/9)…Had 3 receptions for 29 yards in action as the 3rd receiver at Tampa Bay in the NFC Wild Card Game (1/6)…His 21-yard reception on 3-and-1 in the 2nd quarter helped set up the Brandon Jacobs' 8-yard touchdown run.

- Finished tied for the team lead with 4 catches for 48 yards at Dallas in the NFC Divisional Playoff Game (1/13)…Had 22 and 11-yard receptions on consecutive plays on the Giants' 2-minute drive before the half that resulted in Toomer's 4-yard touchdown reception that tied the game 14-14 at halftime…Smith's 11-yard reception on 3rd-and-6 in the 4th quarter extended a drive that resulted in Jacobs' 1-yard touchdown that gave the Giants a 21-17 lead.
- Caught 2 passes for 25 yards in the NFC Championship Game at Green Bay (1/20)…Contributed 5 receptions for 50 yards with a long catch of 17 yards in Super Bowl XXLII vs. New England (2/3)…Converted two 3rd downs with receptions of 8 and 9 yards on the Giants' 1st drive to help set up a Lawrence Tynes' 32-yard field goal…Smith's 17-yard reception on 3rd-and-4 extended a drive that resulted in David Tyree's 5-yard touchdown…His key 12-yard catch on 3rd-and-11 set up Manning's 13-yard game-winning touchdown pass to Burress.

COLLEGE:
- Played in 46 games with 27 starts for the Trojans…Finished career with 190 receptions for 3,019 yards (15.9-yard avg.) and 22 touchdowns, with a long catch of 73 yards…Averaged 4.13 receptions and 65.6 yards a game…Smith's 190 catches placed him 5th in school history and his 3,019 yards receiving ranked 4th…Smith became the 6th receiver in school history to catch at least 20 touchdown passes in a career.

OFF-THE-FIELD ACTIVITY:
- Serves as a member of the Chelsea Piers Scholarship Fund Advisory Board, which provides financial assistance to New York City kids to participate in athletics.
- Attended The Joe Girardi Catch 25 Foundation's "Remember When, Remember Now" Alzheimer's research benefit.
- Joined Eli Manning to attend The Baby Ball benefitting the Eli and Abby Manning Birthing Center at St. Vincent's Medical Center.
- Participated in the March of Dimes March for Babies fundraiser walk in New York City.
- Attended the Giants Kickoff Luncheon benefitting St. Vincent's Medical Center.

PERSONAL:
- Attended Taft High School (Woodland Hills, Calif.)…In his 3-year varsity career, he caught 271 passes for 4,545 yards (16.8-yard avg.), both California state records
- Earned 2002 Parade All-America (and top wide receiver), USA Today All-USA first-team, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Student Sports All-American first-team, Tom Lemming All-American and The Insiders.com All-American 2nd-team honors…Member of the Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, The Sporting News Hot 100, FOX Sports 50, Tom Lemming Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-West, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and Orange County Register Fab 15 first-team…Also named Cal-Hi Sports All-State Wide Receiver MVP, All-L.A. City Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Star 1st-team, Los Angeles Times All-San Fernando Valley 1st-team and Los Angeles Daily News All-Area 1st-team as a senior wide receiver and defensive back.

TRANSACTIONS:
- Originally a 2nd round (34th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2004.

GIANTS NOTE:
- Snee enters the 2010 season with 80 consecutive regular season starts, the 3rd-longest streak on the Giants behind David Diehl (112) and Eli Manning (87).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:
- Has started every game in which he's played (91 regular season and 7 postseason) at right guard.
- In 2009, started all 16 games at right guard for the 5th consecutive season…Played in his 2nd consecutive Pro Bowl, the 1st Giants guard to play in the game in back-to-back seasons since Ron Stone in 2000 and 2001… Was joined at the Pro Bowl by center Shaun O'Hara and tackle David Diehl, the 1st time the Giants had 3 players from the same position group in the game since 1962 (when offensive linemen Rosie Brown, Darrell Dess and Ray Wietecha – also a tackle, guard and center – all received the honor)…Snee and O'Hara were the 1st Giants to be selected to consecutive Pro Bowls since Tiki Barber and Jeremy Shockey in 2005-06…Run and pass blocking helped the Giants average 366.0 yards a game, the NFL's 8th-highest figure…Line allowed only 32 sacks, tied for 7th-best in the league.
- In 2008, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at right guard. The Giants were the only team to start the same 5 linemen in all 32 regular season games in 2007 and 08…Snee was selected to his 1st Pro Bowl, as the starting right guard for the NFC…Was also named a 1st-team All-Pro by the Associated Press and The Sporting News and 1st-team All-NFL and All-NFC by the Pro Football Writers Association…Snee was an integral member of the offensive line that helped the Giants finish with 427 points and 338 first downs, both the 2nd-highest totals in franchise history. The Giants gained 5,695 yards, the 3rd-highest total in their history. The line's blocking enabled the Giants to lead the NFL and set franchise records in both rushing yards per game (157.4) and yards per carry (5.0). With Snee and the line opening holes, Brandon Jacobs (1,089) and Derrick Ward (1,025) became the 4th pair of running back teammates to rush for 1,000 yards in the same season.
- The line's blocking helped the Giants rush for 301 yards in a victory over Carolina (12/21) that clinched the top seed in the NFC playoffs. It was the 5th-highest total in Giants history…Snee and the line allowed just 2 sacks in a 5-game period from Sept. 21-Oct. 26.
- In 2007, he started all 16 regular season games and all 4 of the Giants' postseason games at right guard…Selected as a 2nd alternate to the NFC Pro Bowl team.
- Blocking by Snee and the O-line enabled the Giants to finish 4th in the NFL in rushing yardage with an average of 134.3 yards a game. In their 4-game postseason surge that culminated in a Super Bowl XLII victory, the Giants averaged 305.5 yards, including 103.8 on the ground.
- In 2006, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card Game at right guard…Offensive line provided enough run blocking for the Giants offense to rush for 2,156 yards, the 7th-highest total in the NFL.
- In 2005, started all 16 regular season games for the 1st time and the NFC Wild Card Game at right guard…Offensive line provided enough run blocking for Tiki Barber to rush for a franchise record 1,860 yards and the pass blocking enabled Eli Manning to pass for 3,762 yards, the 5th-highest total in franchise history.
- As a rookie in 2004, started all 11 games in which he played at right guard, a job he won in training camp…Missed the final 5 games of the season after waking up the morning of the game at Washington (12/5) with an inflamed gland just beneath his jaw...Arrived at the stadium early, but there was no progress in his condition prior to the time the Giants had to submit their list of inactive players...The condition did not improve enough for him to play again in 2004.
- Made his NFL debut at Philadelphia (9/12), where the line's blocking helped Barber rush for 125 yards on 9 carries, including a 72-yard score.
- Gave up his final year of college eligibility to make himself eligible for the NFL Draft.

TRANSACTIONS:

- Originally a 2nd round (56th pick overall) draft choice by the Giants in 2003.

GIANTS NOTE:

- Set a Giants franchise record with 6.0 sacks vs. Philadelphia on Sept. 23, 2007, surpassing surpassed the old mark of 4.5 sacks by Pepper Johnson at Tampa Bay on Nov. 24, 1991.
- Umenyiora has led the Giants in sacks 5 of the last 6 seasons, missing only 2008, when he sat out the entire season after undergoing knee surgery. He was the team sack leader in 4 consecutive seasons with 7.0 in 2004, 14.5 in 2005, 6.0 in 2006 and 13.0 in 2007 and again with 7.0 in 2009. He was the 1st Giant to top the team in sacks 4 years in a row since Lawrence Taylor led the team in 5 consecutive seasons from 1986-90. Michael Strahan was No. 1 in sacks each season from 1995-98, but shared the 1996 lead with Chad Bratzke.
- Has 48.5 career sacks, which place him 5th on the Giants' official career list (since 1982, when sacks were first recognized).
- Umenyiora is the only player in Giants history with 3 touchdowns on fumble returns.
- Was voted to the Pro Bowl following the 2005 and 2007 seasons.

- Has played in 88 regular season games with 62 starts and started all 6 postseason games in which he's played at right defensive end…He has 283 tackles (183 solo), 48.5 sacks, 9 passes defensed, 18 forced fumbles and 12 fumble recoveries…Has been named NFC Defensive Player of the Week twice and Special Teams Player of the Week once.
- In 2009, played in all 16 games with 11 starts at defensive right end…Finished the season with 45 tackles (19 solo), a team-high 7.0 sacks, 4 forced fumbles (tied with Justin Tuck for the team lead) and a team-high 4 fumble recoveries…Led the team in sacks for the 5th time in 6 seasons...Had a season-high 2 sacks at Kansas City (10/4) and a season-best 5 tackles at New Orleans (10/18)…Tallied 3 tackles and a sack vs. Washington (9/13)…On one play in the 2nd quarter, he had a sack, forced fumble, fumble recovery and return for a touchdown. On 2nd-and-8 from the Giants' 42-yard line, Umenyiora sacked Jason Campbell for an 11-yard loss. He forced Campbell to cough up the ball, which Umenyiora scooped up and returned 37 yards for a touchdown. It was Umenyiora's 3rd career touchdown, and all of them have been on returns after fumble recoveries. He brought one back 50 yards at Baltimore on Dec. 12, 2004 and 75 yards vs. San Francisco on Oct. 21, 2007.
- Umenyiora missed the entire 2008 season after undergoing knee surgery…He suffered a torn lateral meniscus cartilage in his left knee in a preseason game vs. the Jets on Aug. 23….Underwent surgery and was placed on injured reserve 3 days later.
- In 2007, started all 16 regular season games and 4 postseason games at right defensive end…Umenyiora was the only member of the Super Bowl champion Giants selected to the Pro Bowl, the 2nd time he was chosen…Led the team in sacks for the 4th consecutive season with 13.0 for 87 yards…Also had 53 tackles (33 solo), 2 pass defensed, 5 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries…Was twice named NFC Defensive Player of the Week…Added 10 tackles (7 solo) and a fumble recovery in the playoffs.
- Set a Giants record with 6.0 sacks vs. Philadelphia (9/30). The old record of 4.5 sacks was set by Pepper Johnson at Tampa Bay on Nov. 24, 1991. The NFL record of 7.0 sacks was set by the late Hall of Famer Derrick Thomas for Kansas City against Seattle on Nov. 11, 1990. Umenyiora is tied for 2nd in league history with San Francisco's Fred Dean (6.0 sacks vs. New Orleans on Nov. 13, 1983) and Thomas (6.0 sacks vs. Oakland on Sept. 6, 1998)…Umenyiora's previous career high was 2.0 sacks, which he had accomplished 6 times…He entered the game with no sacks in 2007 and just 1 sack in his last 8 games dating back to 2006 – not counting his sack in the Giants' postseason loss to Philadelphia…In addition to his 6 sacks, he forced 2 fumbles and had 4 QB hurries…Contributed to a defense that set a team record for sacks with 12.0…The previous Giants record was 9 sacks, which they accomplished 3 times. Two of the three games were at home against the Eagles, most recently on Aug. 31, 1997. They also had nine sacks on Dec. 6, 1987 against Philadelphia and Dec. 14, 1986 vs. the St. Louis Cardinals…Was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week.
- Finished with 4 solo tackles, 1 sack, 3 QB hurries and 3 QB hits vs. the Jets (10/7)…Recorded his 7th sack of the season when he dropped Chad Pennington for a 7-yard loss in the 4th quarter.
- Had 3 tackles (2 solo), 1 sack, 2 QB hits, 1 forced fumble and 2 fumble recoveries vs. San Francisco (10/21)…Scored the Giants' 3rd touchdown of the game when he sacked Trent Dilfer for a 10-yard loss, forced a fumble that he recovered and returned 75 yards for a score in the 3rd quarter. It was the longest fumble return for a touchdown by a Giant since Sept. 9, 1984, when linebacker Andy Headen brought one back 81 yards in a victory over Dallas…The performance earned Umenyiora his 2nd Player of the Week award in 2007.
- Posted his second 2-sack game of the season vs. Minnesota (11/25)…Also had sacks in each of the next 2 games, at Chicago (12/2) and at Philadelphia (12/9)…Contributed 6 tackles (4 solo) and a 10-yard sack in the Giants' playoff-clinching victory at Buffalo (12/23).

- Made a big contribution in Super Bowl XLII vs. New England (2/3), with 3 tackles (2 solo), 2 QB hurries and a team-high 5 QB hits. Also recovered a Tom Brady fumble after the quarterback was hit by Justin Tuck and lost the ball in the 2nd quarter...Tackled RB Laurence Maroney for losses of 3 yards in the 2nd quarter and 2 yards in the 3rd quarter.
- In 2006, started all 11 regular season games in which he played and the NFC Wild Card Game at right defensive end…Led the team with 6.0 sacks despite missing 5 games with a strained hip flexor…Finished the season with 39 tackles (27 solo), 16 QB hurries, 12 QB hits, 1 pass defensed and 1 forced fumble.
- Contributed 4 tackles, 1 sack and 3 QB hurries in the NFC Wild Card game at Philadelphia (1/7/07)…In 2005, started all 16 regular season games and the NFC Wild Card Game vs. Carolina at right defensive end…Finished with 70 tackles (49 solo), 14.5 sacks, 3 passes defensed, 4 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries
- His 14.5 sacks placed him 1st in the NFC and 2nd in the NFL and was the highest total by a Giant other than Michael Strahan since Hall of Famer Lawrence Taylor had 15 in 1989…Umenyiora and Strahan combined for 26 sacks, the most by any pair of NFL teammates…Umenyiora was selected to his 1st Pro Bowl and was named 1st-team All-Pro by both the Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly and was selected the NFL's Most Improved Player by Pro Football Weekly.
- Umenyiora and Strahan became the 1st tandem of defensive ends from the same team to go to the Pro Bowl together since Jason Taylor and Trace Armstrong of the Miami Dolphins in 2000.
- Finished with 5 tackles (4 solo), 2 sacks and a forced fumble at Oakland (12/31)…Dropped Kerry Collins for a 12-yard loss in the 2nd quarter and recorded his 2nd sack of the game in the 4th quarter when he stripped Collins of the ball for a 9-yard loss.
- In 2004, played in 16 games with 7 starts at defensive right end…Led the team with 7.0 sacks, 4 fumble recoveries (including 1 he returned for a touchdown) and 3 forced fumbles along with 58 tackles (42 solo) and 3 passes defensed.
- Recorded 9 tackles, 1 sack and a forced fumble vs. Dallas (1/2)… Sacked Vinny Testaverde and forced a fumble in the 4th quarter that was recovered by Reggie Torbor and led to Tiki Barber's 3-yard touchdown reception…Did not start at Baltimore (12/12), but recorded 4 tackles, a half-sack, 2 passes defensed and a fumble recovery. Scored the 1st touchdown of his career when he recovered a Kyle Boller fumble that was forced by a Reggie Torbor sack and returned it 50 yards in the 2nd quarter.
- As a rookie in 2003, played in 13 games with 1 start...Finished with 19 tackles (15 solo), 1 sack and one special teams tackle in rookie season.
- Set up all 3 Giants touchdowns in season finale against Carolina (12/28), the first 2 with blocked punts and the third with a sack and forced fumble that was recovered for a score by Keith Washington. Umenyiora's feat was the first time the Giants blocked 2 punts in 1 game since Oct. 9, 1943 against the Phil-Pitt Steagles, a team made up of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia players during World War II. Named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week. He finished with 4 tackles (1 solo) and a sack for a loss of 17 yards.

COLLEGE:

- Played in 48 games with 46 starts for Troy, recording 276 tackles (129 solo) with 25 sacks for minus-140 yards, 39 stops for losses of 168 yards, 71 quarterback pressures, 7 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and a pass deflection…He was a teammate of Lawrence Tynes.
- As a senior, was named All-America honorable mention and All-Independent 1st team selection by The NFL Draft Report…Started every game at right defensive end, recording 57 tackles (35 solo) with 3 forced fumbles…Set school records with 43 quarterback pressures and 16 sacks for minus 81 yards.

THE VINCE LOMBARDI TROPHY

GETTY IMAGES

The Giants raise the Lombardi Trophy during the postgame ceremonies at Super Bowl XLII

The Vince Lombardi Trophy is the trophy awarded each year to the winning team of the National Football League's annual championship game, the Super Bowl. It is considered to be the NFL's most prestigious award. The trophy was originally called the "World Championship Game Trophy" when the Super Bowl was originally named the AFL-NFL World Championship Game. It was renamed in 1970 in honor of legendary Green Bay Packers head coach Vince Lombardi.

Since Super Bowl XXX, it is presented to the winning team's owner on the field following the game. Previously, the trophy was presented inside the winning team's locker room.

Unlike trophies such as the Stanley Cup and the Grey Cup, a new Vince Lombardi Trophy is made every year and the winning team maintains permanent possession of that trophy.

Each trophy is handcrafted by Tiffany & Co. master artisans at their workshop in Parsippany, New Jersey. The trophy depicts a regulation-size football in kicking position that is made entirely of sterling silver. It stands 22 inches (55 cm) tall, weighs seven pounds (3 kg), and takes approximately four months and 72 man-hours to create. The words "Vince Lombardi Trophy" and the NFL logo are engraved on the base. After the trophy is awarded, it is sent back to Tiffany & Co. to be engraved with the winning team's name, score, logo and roster if the team wishes.

GIANTS 2009 SEASON IN REVIEW

By Michael Eisen

When the Giants embarked on their 2009 season, the popular belief was that they could succeed because of the strength of a retooled defense, particularly the reinforced front, and a running game that had been the NFL's best in 2008. If a weakness, or at least a unit with multiple questions, existed, it was the untested group of wide receivers.

But someone shredded that script when the games began. The defense did not play as well as anticipated and the rushing attack wasn't as productive as it had been in previous seasons. But the passing game, with Eli Manning having the finest year of his career and record-setting Steve Smith leading a group of receives that exceeded expectations, was the strongest facet of the team.

The Giants' fortunes unfolded in a similarly unexpected fashion. Playing their 34th and final season in Giants Stadium, they hoped to win their second consecutive NFC East title and extended their franchise record with a fifth consecutive postseason berth. The journey began smoothly, as the Giants won their first five games. But they soon took a wrong turn, veered completely off course and ultimately hit a dead end. The Giants won just three times after that burst from the gate and finished with an 8-8 record and in third place in the division. They finished out of the playoffs for the first time since Tom Coughlin's inaugural season as head coach in 2004.

The Giants were hit by a debilitating series of injuries. Safety Kenny Phillips, their first round draft choice in 2008, played superbly in the first two games but missed the rest of the season because of an arthritic condition i nhis knee that required surgery. Middle linebacker Antonio Pierce, a team leader, captain and the top tackler, sat out the final seven games with a bulging disk in his neck. Two of the free agents acquired to strengthen the defense, Chris Canty and Michael Boley, missed significant chunks of the season with injuries. Defensive tackle Jay Alford missed the entire year with a knee injury. Gerris Wilkinson led the team in special teams tackles when he was placed on injured reserve with a wrist injury. Running backs Brandon Jacobs and Ahmad Bradshaw and defensive end Justin Tuck played hurt ,most of the year and offensive linemen Rich Seubert and Kareem McKenzie were sidelined at the end of the season with injuries.

Manning finished the season with 317 completions in 509 attempts (62.3 percent) for 4,021 yards, 27 touchdowns, 14 interceptions and a passer rating of 93.1. The completions, percentage, yards, touchdowns and rating were all career highs. Manning is the third quarterback in Giants history to throw for more than 4,000 yards in a season, joining Kerry Collins (4,073 in 2002) and Phil Simms (4,044 in 1984).

Smith was first in the NFC and second in the NFL with 107 receptions, 25 more than the franchise's previous single-season record-holder (Amani Toomer had 82 in 2002) and 50 more than this season's runner-up, Mario Manningham. Smith's 1,220 receiving yards were the second-highest total in franchise history. Toomer had 1,343 in 2002. Smith joined Toomer, Plaxico Burress (1,214 yards in 2005) and Homer Jones (1,209 yards in 1967) as the only Giants with 1,200-yard receiving seasons. Smith led the NFL with 38 receptions on third down.

Manningham had a break through season with 57 catches (in 14 games) and Hakeem Nicks had 47 receptions for 790 yards, both the third-highest total in history among Giants rookies. Nicks' six touchdown receptions were the most by a Giants rookie since Johnson had seven.

Center Shaun O'Hara and guard Chris Snee were selected to their second consecutive Pro Bowls and tackle David Diehl to his first. Tight end Kevin Boss had a solid season with 42 catches and five touchdowns. Cornerback Terrell Thomas started every game and led the team with 101 tackles (67 solo). Defensive end Osi Umenyiora returned from the knee surgery that cost him the 2008 season to record a team-high 7.0 sacks, the fifth time in six seasons he has led the team. Kicker Lawrence Tynes scored a career-high 126 points and Chase Blackburn and Bryan Kehl tied for the team lead with 16 special teams tackles.

The Giants finished with a record of 155-117 in regular season games in Giants Stadium, including 4-4 in 2009. They were 7-4 in postseason games for a total record of 162-121.

Giants Stadium hosted 477 NFL regular season game played in Giants Stadium, easily the most in league history. Chicago's Wrigley Field is second with 365.

The Giants opened the 2009 season at home against the Washington Redskins on Sept. 13, when a 17-point second-quarter lead evaporated into a six-point advantage with 90 seconds remaining. But the Giants recovered an onside kick and walked away with a 23-17 victory. It was the second year in a row the Giants defeated their NFC East rivals in the season's first game.

Bradshaw averaged 5.0 yards a carry and led the Giants with 60 rushing yards. Manning completed 20 of 29 passes for 256 yards and a touchdown. The wide receivers caught 12 passes and Smith and Manningham (first career touchdown) each came through with big grabs. Umenyiora (touchdown on a fumble return) and Tuck (1.5 sacks) had big games. Tuck was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week. Tynes kicked field goals of 28, 45 and 28 yards.

Manningham scored the Giants' first touchdown of the season by turning a short Manning pass into a spectacular 30-yard score in the second quarter. On third-and-seven, Manning threw a 10-yard pass to Manningham on the right sideline. The second-year receiver faked his way past cornerback Fred Smoot, then stopped on a dime as DeAngelo Hall ran right past him before Manningham continued to the end zone.

The Giants' next score was just as exciting as Umenyiora scooped up a fumble and ran away from everyone for a 37-yard touchdown that increased the Giants lead to 17-0. It was Umenyiora's third career touchdown, and all of them on returns after fumble recoveries. He brought one back 50 yards at Baltimore on Dec. 12, 2004 and 75 yards vs. San Francisco on Oct. 21, 2007.

Washington began to chip away at the Giants' lead late in the second quarter. Scott Suisham lined up for what appeared to be a 26-yard field goal attempt. But after the ball was snapped, Suisham stepped forward, swung his leg and deliberately missed the ball as holder Hunter Smith picked it up and ran to the right for a touchdown with 21 seconds remaining in the half. Officially, it was an eight-yard run.

Suisham's 27-yard field goal late in the third quarter pulled the Redskins to within 17-10. The Giants countered with Tynes' 45-yarder early in the fourth quarter. His second 28-yarder gave the Giants a seemingly-safe 23-10 lead with 3:12 remaining. But Washington went to the no-huddle and put together its best drive of the game, going 72 yards in just seven plays and 1:42. When Campbell threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to tight end Chris Cooley with 1:30 left, the Redskins were with six points. The suspense ended, however, when Smith recovered the onside kick for the Giants.

The Giants were never so happy to spoil someone else's party as they were in Week 2. On the night the Dallas Cowboys opened their gaudy new $1.1 billion stadium with much pomp and fanfare, it was the Giants who celebrated. They overcame four deficits to defeat their NFC East rivals, 33-31 on Tynes' 37-yard field goal as time expired. Tynes' fourth field goal capped a terrific 56-yard drive by the Giants in the game's final 3:34, gave the game its eighth lead change and deflated the Dallas faithful in the NFL-record crowd of 105,121

The Giants had a lengthy list of standouts. Manning completed 25 of 38 passes for 330 yards, two touchdowns and no interceptions. Manningham and Smith caught 10 passes apiece and each scored on a 22-yard pass from Manning. Manningham, who took over in the first half after Domenik Hixon left the game with an ankle injury, had 150 receiving yards and Smith added 134 as they became the first pair of Giants to have double-digit reception totals in the same game and the first pair with at least 100 yards in three years.

Phillips set up both touchdowns with interceptions of Tony Romo passes. It was Phillips' last appearance of the season, as later that week he was diagnosed with patella femoral arthritis in his left knee and was placed on injured reserve. Rookie Bruce Johnson scored on a 34-yard interception return. Boley played his first game in a Giants uniform and had seven tackles.

Tynes tied a career high with four field goals, from 30, 28, 36 and 37 yards. But he was also wide left on a 29-yard try.

On Sept. 27, the Giants went back to basics to pulverize Tampa Bay and improve their record to 3-0.

Using a strong rushing attack and dominating defense, the Giants overpowered the Buccaneers, 24-0, in steamy Raymond James Stadium. It was the Giants' first shutout victory since Oct. 30, 2005, when they blanked the Redskins, 36-0. They had last held an opponent scoreless on the road on Nov. 20, 1983, a 23-0 triumph at Philadelphia.

The Giants scored on Jacobs' six-yard run, Manning touchdown passes of four yards to Smith and 18 yards to Sinorice Moss and Tynes' 26-yard field goal.

The Giants ran for 226 yards, including 104 by Bradshaw and 92 by Jacobs. They averaged a healthy 4.6 yards a carry.

Meanwhile, the Giants' defense eviscerated the overmatched Buccaneers. The visitors held sizeable advantages in plays (76-36), yards (397-86), rushing yards (226-28), first downs (27-5) and time of possession (43:38-16:22). Tampa Bay did not pick up a first down until the third quarter. The Bucs failed on all nine of their third down conversion attempts. The Bucs' longest run was 15 yards. So was their longest pass. Their leading rusher was backup quarterback Josh Johnson, who scrambled for 15 yards in the fourth quarter. Carnell Williams gained eight yards on two carries. Former Giant Derrick Ward had five rushes. . .for two yards.

Tampa Bay had 10 offensive possessions. Eight of the first nine ended in three or fewer plays. The Bucs did have an 11-play drive that included a first-and-goal at the Giants' five in the fourth quarter. But Johnson threw four straight incomplete passes and the shutout was preserved.

The Giants joined some very select company when they traveled to Kansas City on Oct. 4 and not just because they reached the quarter pole of the NFL season with a perfect record.

A 27-16 defeat of the Chiefs in Arrowhead Stadium gave the Giants a sweep of their three-game road trip through Dallas, Tampa Bay and Kansas City. They became just the eighth team of the 108 since 1990 that played three consecutive road games to win them all. The Giants won their first three road games for the first time since 1990.

The Giants and Tom Coughlin both make the impressive list twice. The Giants swept a three-game journey in 1994 and Coughlin's Jacksonville Jaguars did the same in 2001.

The Giants, who led 27-3 early in the fourth quarter, improved to 4-0 for the second season in a row, the first time they've done that in back-to-back seasons since 1989-90.

Manning threw touchdown passes of three and 25 yards to Smith and 54 yards to Nicks and Tynes kicked field goals of 25 and 40 yards in his return to Kansas City.

Manning suffered an injury to his right plantar fascia in the fourth quarter. He threw the touchdown to Nicks after sustaining the injury and then was replaced on the next offensive series by David Carr. Manning missed no playing time because of the injury.

Smith caught 11 passes, the second-highest total by a wide receiver in Giants history and the most in a non-overtime game. Amani Toomer had 12 catches in an overtime victory at Philadelphia on Sept. 17, 2006. The team record for most receptions in a game is 13, by running back Tiki Barber at Dallas on Jan. 2, 2000.

Ryan Succop's first-quarter 34-yard field goal and Matt Cassel's fourth-quarter touchdown passes to Sean Ryan and Bobby Wade accounted for the Chiefs' points.

Manning played less than a half in the next game against Oakland on Oct. 11, but it was more than enough time for the Giants and far too much for the Raiders. He threw two scoring passes and led the Giants to touchdowns on each of their first four offensive possessions following a week of speculation that he might not start because of the injury. The early dominance sent the Giants on their way to a 44-7 rout of the overmatched Raiders.

The Giants improved to 5-0 for the first time since 1990 and just the third time in their history (also 1941).

Bradshaw rushed for two touchdowns, backup quarterback David Carr ran in for another, Manning connected with Manningham and Nicks for two more scores and Tynes kicked three field goals for the Giants.

Manning, who missed the Wednesday and Thursday practices prior to the game, started his 76th consecutive regular season game. He played five series and completed eight of 10 passes for 173 yards in his shortest stint as a starter. But he finished with a perfect 158.3 rating, the first by a Giants quarterback since Kerry Collins in 2002. Manning was relieved late in the second quarter by Carr, who completed nine of 14 passes for 90 yards and ran four times for 27 yards.

The Giants overwhelmed the Raiders, enjoying huge advantages in total yards (483-124) and first downs (27-7). Oakland converted only one of nine third down opportunities. The Giants sacked JaMarcus Russell six times, forcing and recovering fumbles on three of them.

The following week's game wasn't nearly as enjoyable for the Giants. They traveled to the Louisiana Superdome for a battle of unbeaten teams. But the Saints got touchdowns from seven different players, gained almost 500 yards and led by 28 points on their way to a 48-27 victory. The Giants fell to 5-1 while giving up more points in a game than they had in a decade. Washington scored 50 on Sept. 19, 1999 in Giants Stadium.

Manning, making his NFL debut in his hometown and playing for the first time ever in the Superdome – where he spent many Sundays of his youth cheering for the Saints – was forced to play from behind all day.

The Saints improved to 5-0 and gained 493 yards, the most allowed by the Giants since the Cardinals had 495 on Nov. 11, 1988. New Orleans scored five first-half touchdowns, including one on each of its first four possessions. Drew Brees completed 23 of 30 passes for 369 yards and threw touchdowns to four different receivers – Marques Colston (12 yards), Jeremy Shockey (one), Lance Moore (12) and Robert Meachem (36). Colston caught eight passes for 166 yards, the highest yardage total by a Giants opponent since Randy Moss had 171 eight years ago. The Saints converted seven of 13 third down opportunities and Brees was not sacked.

The Saints also had a productive ground game, rushing for 133 yards. Pierre Thomas led the way with 72 yards and Mike Bell (two yards), Reggie Bush (seven) and Heath Evans (two) all ran for touchdowns.

The Giants gained 325 yards and Manning completed 14 of 31 passes for 178 yards. He was intercepted once and lost a fumble. Manning threw a touchdown pass to Manningham and Carr tossed one to Nicks. Bradshaw ran in for another score and Tynes kicked three field goals.

The Giants trailed at halftime, 34-17. The 34 points were the most allowed by the Giants in a first half since Seattle scored 35 on Sept. 24, 2006, in a 42-30 Seahawks victory.

Despite the large deficit, the Giants seemed to gain some momentum late in the half with a goal-line stand by the defense that included third and fourth-down stops from the one-yard line. An unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the Saints moved the ball out to the 16 and Manning quickly completed an 18-yard pass to Manningham. But on the next play, Manning was sacked by blitzing cornerback Roman Harper, who forced a fumble that linebacker Scott Shanle returned to the Giants' seven-yard line. Shanle lost the ball and Boss recovered in the end zone for the Giants. The ruling on the field was that Shanle was down, a call the Giants hoped would be overturned after a replay review. But the call on the field stood and two snaps later, Bush scooted around left end for the Saints' fifth touchdown of the half.

The Giants returned home the following week, but couldn't get untracked on offense and had four turnovers – two in the final 3:52 - and fell to the Arizona Cardinals, 24-17, in a battle of the previous two NFC champions. The Giants held a 14-10 halftime lead, but failed to reach the end zone goal in the second half.

The Giants twice had a chance late in the game to tie the game and send it to overtime. But after running for 14 yards, Bradshaw fumbled and the ball was recovered by Arizona safety Matt Ware at the Cards' 42 with less than four minutes remaining.

The defense forced Arizona to go three-and-out and the Giants took possession at their nine-yard line with 2:52 remaining and possessing all of their timeouts, plus the two-minute warning. They got as far as the Arizona 39 with 1:15 left, but Manning's pass to the right sideline for Smith was picked off by Antrel Rolle (who is now a Giant), ensuring the Giants' defeat.

Manning completed 19 of 37 passes for 243 yards. The Giants totaled 327 yards, but eight of their 14 possessions (not counting a kneel-down at the end of the half), lasted no more than three plays. The Giants converted only four of 15 third down opportunities and Jeff Feagles punted seven times.

The Giants scored on Jacobs' four-yard touchdown run and Manning's 62-yard pass to Hakeem Nicks in the second quarter, and Tynes' 20-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

They played without right tackle Kareem McKenzie, who was inactive because of a groin injury he suffered the previous week in New Orleans. It was the first time since the 2006 season finale that one of the Giants' five offensive line starters missed a regular season game. Rookie William Beatty played the entire game in McKenzie's place.

Arizona got touchdown runs of 13 yards from rookie Beanie Wells and one yard from Tim Hightower, Kurt Warner's six-yard scoring pass to another back, Jason Wright, and Neil Rackers' 30-yard field goal.

The Giants suffered their third consecutive loss the following week to the Eagles in Lincoln Financial Field, 40-17, which ended their four-game regular season winning streak in Philadelphia end. They trailed 16-0 in the second quarter, 30-7 at halftime and 33-7 in the third quarter.

Manning completed 20 of 39 passes for 22 yards and a touchdown to Boss. But he was intercepted twice and both picks led to Eagles touchdowns in the first half. The Giants also scored on Bradshaw's one-yard run and Tynes' 42-yard field goal.

Donovan McNabb threw three touchdown passes – one each to Brent Celek, DeSean Jackson and Jeremy Maclin, Leonard Weaver (41 yards) and LeSean McCoy (66) had long touchdown runs and David Akers kicked two field goals for the Eagles.

Behind by 23 points, the Giants thought they'd get the ball to start the second half. But Hixon fumbled the kickoff, which was recovered by Moise Fokou on the 21. The Eagles gained only four yards on three plays and Akers came on to kick a 35-yard field goal to increase the lead to 33-7.

The Giants thought they had a touchdown midway through the quarter when Bruce Johnson sacked McNabb and forced him to fumble. Robbins recovered the ball and lumbered for 13 yards before flipped a lateral at the 35 to Umenyiora, who ran untouched to the end zone.

Philadelphia coach Andy Reid challenged the play, apparently hoping McNabb's action would be ruled a forward pass. He didn't get that, but the touchdown was nullified when referee Carl Cheffers ruled that Robbins' lateral was an illegal forward pass, which is a five-yard penalty. The Giants took possession at the Philadelphia 42-yard line and Manning's 14-yard pass to Smith set up Tynes' field goal.

A heartbreaking home loss on Nov. 8 left the Giants skidding into their bye week.

Philip Rivers' third touchdown pass of the game – an 18-yarder to Vincent Jackson with just 21 seconds remaining - completed an 80-yard drive and lifted the San Diego Chargers to a 21-20 victory over the Giants in Giants Stadium. The Giants lost their fourth consecutive game after a 5-0 start despite outgaining San Diego, 304-226, holding the Chargers to 34 rushing yards (22 by LaDainian Tomlinson on 12 carries) and owning the ball for a whopping 37:37.

Manning completed 25 of 33 passes for 215 yards, touchdowns to Smith and Boss and no interceptions. He completed 76 percent of his passes, tied for the second-best one-game mark of his career

But the Giants twice settled for field goals from in close in the fourth quarter, most notably after Terrell Thomas intercepted Rivers and returned the ball to the four-yard line with 3:14 left and the Giants leading, 17-14. A touchdown there would have all but clinched the victory.

Chris Snee was penalized for holding on Jacobs' three-yard run, pushing the Giants back to the 14 – one of nine Giants penalties. The Giants made it back to the four, but Tynes kicked a 22-yard field goal for a 20-14 lead.

The Chargers took possession at their own 20 with 2:05 remaining. They covered the 80 yards in eight plays, and never once faced a third down. The big play occurred just prior to the touchdown, when Rivers flipped a short pass that Darren Sproles turned into a 21-yard gain to the 18. On the next play, Jackson scored his second touchdown of the game when Rivers hit him on the right side of the end zone.

The Giants got the ball back one more time – at their 29 with 15 seconds left – but after two incomplete passes, Manning was sacked on third down to end the game.

Following their bye, the Giants returned to the win column with a 34-31 overtime victory over the Atlanta Falcons on Nov. 22 in Giants Stadium.

The Giants wasted a 14-point fourth-quarter lead, but won the overtime coin toss, which led to Tynes' game-winning 36-yard field goal with 3:54 elapsed in the extra period.

Manning threw for a then-career high 384 yards and three touchdowns.

Manning's three-yard touchdown pass to Madison Hedgecock increased the Giants' lead to 31-17 early in the fourth quarter. But the Falcons responded with a 12-play, 65-yard drive that ended with Matt Ryan throwing a four-yard touchdown pass to Eric Weems. The Giants then held the ball for less than three minutes before punting.

Atlanta took possession at its own 24-yard line with 3:42 remaining. Ryan converted two third downs on another 12-play drive and threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Tony Gonzalez to tie the score at 31-31 with only 28 seconds remaining.

When the captains met at midfield for the overtime coin toss, Ryan called tails, as he did prior to the opening kickoff. It came up heads for the second time and the Giants got the ball for what would be the only possession in overtime.

On third-and-two, Manning hit Nicks for a seven-yard gain to the Giants' 48-yard line. The next play was a 29-yard pass up the right side to Mannigham (six catches for 126 yards). The Giants gained five more yards before Tynes came on to kick the field goal that gave the Giants their much-needed win.

Manning, who had his first 300-yard passing game at home after eight on the road, threw two touchdown passes of 28 and four yards to Boss and the short one to Hedgecock, Jacobs scored on a two-yard run and Tynes kicked two field goals for the Giants.

In addition to Ryan's touchdown passes, Atlanta scored on a pair of rushing touchdowns by Jason Snelling and Jason Elam's field goal. Snelling started because both Michael Turner and Jerious Norwood were inactive with injuries.

Thanksgiving proved to be a real turkey of a day for the Giants, who played on the holiday for the first time in 17 years and lost to the Denver Broncos in Invesco Field at Mile High, 26-6. It was the Giants' fifth defeat in six games and dropped their record to 6-5.

The six points was the Giants' lowest regular season point total since a 27-6 loss to Philadelphia on Nov. 28, 2004.

The Giants rushed for only 57 yards, their lowest output in three years, and totaled 267 yards, including 84 on a series in the final 1:39, after the outcome had been decided. Their only points came from Tynes field goals of 39 and 52 yards.

Defensively, the Giants limited the Broncos to two touchdowns - a one-yard run by rookie Knowshon Moreno and Kyle Orton's 17-yard pass to Brandon Stokley. But Matt Prater kicked field goals of 26, 32, 47 and 24 yards and Denver owned the ball for 35:30.

Stokley's touchdown with 10:15 remaining in the fourth quarter broke the game open. On third-and-eight, Stokley was all alone at the six-yard line when he caught Orton's pass and stepped into the end zone for a 23-6 lead. Denver drove 64 yards in nine plays, including Moreno runs of 11 and 12 yards and Orton's 12-yard pass to Jabar Gaffney.

On the Giants' ensuing possession, Manning was sacked by Elvis Dumervil and fumbled. The ball was recovered by linebacker D.J. Williams at the Giants' 36-yard line. Four minutes later, Prater scored Denver's final points on a 24-yard field goal.

The Giants trailed at halftime, 16-0. It was the first time they did not score a first-half point since Jan. 8, 2006, when they lost to Carolina in the NFC Wild Card Game, 23-0. They were last shutout in the first half of a regular season game on Dec. 4, 2004, when they trailed at Washington, 21-0, in a game they lost, 31-7. The Giants had scored points in the first half of 78 consecutive regular season games before Thursday night.

The Giants rallied from the negativity caused by their 1-5 rut, the dismal outing in Denver and two deficits to defeat the Dallas Cowboys, 31-24, on Dec. 6 in raucous Giants Stadium. The Giants improved to 7-5 and swept their season series with the Cowboys for the first time since 2004.

The Giants got big plays from a defense that held Dallas to 45 rushing yards (after the Cowboys ran for 251 in the teams' first meeting), an offense that scored three touchdowns, including a 74-yard catch-and-run by Brandon Jacobs and the special teams, which scored on Hixon's 74-yard runback in the fourth quarter. The Giants also scored on Nicks' 21-yard touchdown catch, Jacobs' one-yard run and Tynes' 23-yard field goal.

The Giants made three lineup changes on defense as tackle Chris Canty, end Mathias Kiwanuka and middle linebacker Jonathan Goff stepped in for Fred Robbins, Osi Umenyiora and Chase Blackburn.

For Dallas, Tony Romo threw scoring passes of four and five yards to Roy Williams and 22 yards to Miles Austin and Nick Folk's 34-yard field goal. Folk also missed attempts of 57 and 42 yards.

Jacobs' long run after a short throw gave the Giants back the lead at 21-17 with 3:39 remaining in the third quarter.

On the first play after the Cowboys had scored, Manning threw to Jacobs on the left side. The big back caught ball at the 30-yard line and started to motor up the left sideline. He didn't stop until he reached the end zone for the third regular season receiving touchdown of his career and first since 2007. It was 31 yards further than his previous career long reception.

The 74-yard play was the Giants' longest since Manning threw a 78-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress at Oakland on Dec. 31, 2005. It was the second-longest touchdown pass of Manning's career, surpassed only by the throw to Burress.

Tynes' field goal midway through the fourth quarter stretched the Giants' lead to 24-17. Dallas went three-and-out and Hixon fielded Mat McBriar's punt at the 21, where he seemed to be hemmed in by about six Cowboys. But he ducked and faked his way through and around the crowd and sprinted up the sideline for the score and a two-touchdown lead. It was the first punt return touchdown of Hixon's career and the Giants' first since Sept. 11, 2005, when Chad Morton brought one back 52 yards vs. Arizona.

The Cowboys kept coming and Romo's 22-yard touchdown pass to Austin with 58 seconds left lifted them to within a touchdown. But Dallas' Sam Hurd touched the onsides kick before it traveled 10 yards and the Giants ran out the clock.

When the Giants hosted the Eagles in a Sunday night game on Dec. 13, everyone expected an old-fashioned NFC East slugfest. What they got was a display of big and exciting plays and lots of scoring. The Giants gained 512 yards and Manning threw for a career-high 391 yards, but the Eagles made plays when they counted and walked out of Giants Stadium with a 45-38 victory that left the Giants' postseason hopes teetering on the brink.

The Giants took the field knowing first place was theirs if they beat the Eagles. But they quickly fell behind, 14-0 and led for all of 15 seconds in the game.

The Giants scored on Manning touchdown passes of 68 yards to Nicks, 61 yards to Hixon and four yards to Boss (with 1:31 remaining in the game), short touchdown runs by Jacobs and Bradshaw and Tynes' 26-yard field goal.

Philadelphia hurt the Giants with three big-play touchdowns – Sheldon Brown's 44-yard fumble return, Jackson's 72-yard punt return and 60-yard touchdown catch from McNabb – who also threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Celek. Michael Vick added a one-yard run and Akers' kicked a 20-yard field goal.

The Eagles' 85 points in two games were the most allowed by the Giants to one team in a single season since the 1970 merger. The Giants' 38 points were their most ever in a home loss.

The Giants, who faced three separate deficits of at least 13 points, fought back to take a 31-30 lead when Hixon took Manning's short pass and scored his second long touchdown in as many weeks with 5:13 remaining in the third quarter.

On second-and-12 form the Giants' 39, Hixon caught Manning's pass at the 42, sidestepped tackle attempts by Will Witherspoon and Sean Jones and sprinted to the end zone to cap a two-play drive.

Philadelphia, however, needed only one play to recapture the lead. On the first play of the next possession, McNabb threw down the field for Jackson, who caught the ball behind a diving Aaron Ross and stepped into the end zone, giving the lead back to the Eagles at 37-31 just 15 seconds after the Giants had moved ahead.

The Giants punted twice before the Eagles took possession at their own nine-yard line with 13:12 remaining. Philadelphia methodically drove 91 yards in 12 plays – not one a third down - and 7:24.

The series ended with Weaver's one-yard touchdown run and McNabb's pass to Jason Avant for the two-point conversion that gave Philly a 45-31 lead with 5:48 left.

The Giants responded with their own 11-play, 75-yard march that concluded with Manning's touchdown pass to Boss. But Tynes' onside kick went out of bounds and when the Giants lined up for the game's final possession, they were on their own five-yard line, 28 seconds remained and they had no timeouts.

The Giants played one of their most complete games of the season in their lone Monday night appearance and pummeled the Washington Redskins, 45-12, on Dec. 21 in FedEx Field. They scored on their first four and six of their first seven possessions. The Giants scored six touchdowns in a game for the first time in more than four years (Sept. 11, 2005 vs. Arizona) and finished with their highest point total in 14 years (a 45-29 victory over New Orleans on Sept. 29, 1995). They converted 11 of 15 third down opportunities in the game, Eli Manning threw three touchdowns without an interception for the second week in a row and his 144.4 passer rating was the second-highest of his career.

The defense throttled Washington with five sacks, three interceptions and a shutout in the first half and the coverage teams kept the Redskins returners bottled up all night.

The Giants scored on Bradshaw touchdown runs of three and four yards, Manning touchdown passes of six yards to Smith, 23 yards to Derek Hagan (his first as a Giant) and 25 yards to Manningham, as well as Thomas' 14-yard interception return and Tynes' 38-yard field goal. The Giants did not commit a turnover.

Perhaps most impressively, the Giants won with a depleted lineup. Three players who started the previous week did not suit up because of injuries: Webster (knee), safety Aaron Ross (hamstring) and McKenzie. Left guard Rich Seubert joined them on the sideline with a knee injury he suffered on the Giants' first touchdown. All four of those players missed the rest of the season.

The Redskins scored on Jason Campbell's 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Fred Davis and Quinton Ganther's one-yard run, both in the third quarter.

The Giants seized control immediately, thanks in part to then-Washington coach Jim Zorn's decision to defer his option to receive despite winning the coin toss. The visitors took a 7-0 lead when Bradshaw scored on a three-yard touchdown run to conclude the game's first series. On third-and-goal, Bradshaw took a handoff and bulled his through the line and into the end zone.

After fielding the opening kickoff, the Giants drove 80 yards in 16 plays and 9:13. It was the Giants' initial opening possession touchdown – and their first six-pointer in a first quarter – in nine games, since their victory over the Raiders on Oct. 11. The Giants converted four third downs on the drive, including the touchdown, and Bradshaw was responsible for every one of them. He ran for four yards on third-and-two, turned a short pass into a 14-yard pass when six yards were needed (the longest play of the drive), gained seven yards on another pass on third-and-three and scored the touchdown against the NFL's best red zone defense.

The series also featured receptions by three different tight ends: Bear Pascoe caught a nine-yarder on the game's first play, following quickly by a 13-yard throw to Boss. Four plays later, Beckum grabbed a four-yard pass.

After the Redskins went three-and-out, the Giants embarked on another impressive drive, moving 63 yards in 11 plays spanning the first and second quarters. Bradshaw again scored the touchdown, on a four-yard run off left tackle. On the drive, Manning completed passes of 21 yards to Nicks and 14 yards to Smith.

The Giants again moved the ball well on their next series, when Manning threw for gains of 11 yards to Smith and eight yards to Bradshaw and Jacobs ran for 10 yards. But on third down from the Washington 10-yard line, Manning was sacked for a 10-yard loss by Albert Haynesworth. Tynes then came on to kick a 38-yard field goal.

After the Redskins had another three-play offensive series, the Giants kept the ball for four snaps – but that's all they needed to score another touchdown.

The series started on the Giants' 44-yard line. Manning threw to Smith for five and two plays later, Nicks took a short pass and with some outstanding open-field running, turned it into a 45-yard gain to the six-yard line. On the next play, Manning lofted a touchdown pass to Smith in the back left corner of the end zone for a 24-0 lead they took into the locker room at halftime.

But the Giants were unable to carry the momentum of their win in Washington into their next game vs. Carolina. As a result, the Giants' last day in Giants Stadium was just about their worst.

Playing in their home of 34 years for the final time, and with a chance to keep pace in the NFC postseason race, the Giants were thoroughly outplayed and suffered an ugly 41-9 loss to the Carolina Panthers on Dec. 27.

The Giants were officially eliminated from postseason contention later that night, when Dallas defeated the Redskins in Washington.

The Giants allowed more than 40 points for the second consecutive home game, as well as 247 yards rushing, the most ever given up by the Giants in Giants Stadium. And the Panthers were without leading rusher DeAngelo Williams, who was inactive with an ankle sprain. Jonathan Stewart started in his place and ran for 206 yards, the third-highest individual total ever allowed by the Giants. Quarterback Matt Moore, who is starting in place of the injured Jake Delhomme, completed 15 of 20 passes for 171 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions. Carolina converted 10 of 15 third down opportunities.

Stewart scored on a 29-yard run, Brad Hoover added a one-yarder, Moore threw touchdown passes of 22 yards to Muhsin Muhammad, two yards to Jeff King and 27 yards to Steve Smith, and John Kasay kicked field goals of 38 and 27 yards for the Panthers.

The Giants were no better offensively. They got shut out in the first half, didn't reach the end zone until the fourth quarter and rushed for only 60 yards. Jacobs gained one yard on six rushing attempts. Manning threw a touchdown pass to Smith and Tynes kicked a field goal.

The Giants hoped to rebound in their season finale, but suffered another bad loss, 44-7, to the Vikings in Minnesota. It was the Giants' worst loss since a 38-point defeat (45-7) at New Orleans on Dec. 14, 2003.

The Vikings scored the game's first 44 points and outgained the Giants, 487-181. Minnesota held the Giants to 35 rushing yards and 11 first downs and scored on eight of its first nine possessions – all after traveling inside the Giants' 20-yard line.

Brett Favre threw four touchdown passes for Minnesota: 10 yards to Visanthe Shiancoe, four and 12 yards to Sidney Rice and one yard to Naufahu Tahu. The Vikings also scored on Adrian Peterson's one-yard run and Ryan Longwell field goals of 36, 24 and 27 yards.

Ware's one-yard touchdown run with 9:11 remaining in the fourth quarter prevented the shutout.

Minnesota ran away from the Giants in a lopsided first half in which the Vikings held huge advantages in points (31-0), yards (343-82) and first downs (20-4).

GAME 1 - WASHINGTON VS. GIANTS

SEPT. 13, 2009

GIANTS 23, REDSKINS 17

The Giants started out on easy street, but ultimately traveled a hard road to victory in their 2009 season opener. A 17-point second-quarter lead evaporated into a six-point advantage with 90 seconds remaining. But the Giants recovered an onside kick and walked away with a 23-17 victory over Washington in their final season opener in Giants Stadium.

Eli Manning completed 20 of 29 passes for 256 yards and a touchdown. Ahmad Bradshaw averaged 5.0 yards a carry and led the Giants with 60 rushing yards. Steve Smith and Mario Manningham (first career touchdown) each had important catches. Defensive ends Osi Umenyiora (touchdown on a fumble return) and Justin Tuck (1.5 sacks) had big games. Lawrence Tynes kicked field goals of 28, 45 and 28 yards.

The Giants jumped to a 17-0 lead on Tynes' first field goal and spectacular touchdowns by Manningham and Umenyiora. Manningham scored the Giants' first touchdown of the season by turning a short Manning pass into a 30-yard score with 10:10 left in the second quarter. Umenyiora soon stretched the lead to 17 points when he sacked Jason Campbell for an 11-yard loss, forced the Washington quarterback to fumble, picked up the ball and ran untouched to the end zone, scoring with 2:11 remaining in the second quarter.

Washington scored its first points when Hunter Smith ran for an 8-yard touchdown on a fake field goal with 21 seconds left in the half. Scott Suisham's 27-yard field goal late in the third quarter pulled the Redskins to within 17-10. The Giants countered with Tynes field goals of 45 and 28 yards, to take a 23-10 lead with 3:12 remaining. But Campbell's 16-yard touchdown pass to Chris Cooley pulled the Redskins to within 6 points. Smith ended the suspense by recovering the onside kick.

GAME 2 - GIANTS AT DALLAS

GIANTS 33, COWBOYS 31

The Giants were never so happy to spoil someone else's party as they were in defeating Dallas, 33-31, in the first regular season game in the Cowboys' new stadium. They overcame four deficits to defeat their NFC East rivals as Lawrence Tynes scored the game-winning points on a 37-yard field goal as time expired. Tynes' fourth field goal capped a terrific 56-yard drive by the Giants in the game's final 3:34, gave the game its eighth lead change and deflated the Dallas faithful in the NFL-record crowd of 105,121.

The Giants had a lengthy list of standouts. Eli Manning completed 25 of 38 passes for 330 yards, two touchdowns and no interceptions. Mario Manningham and Steve Smith caught 10 passes apiece and each scored on a 22-yard pass from Manning. Manningham, who took over in the first half after Domenik Hixon left the game with an ankle injury, had 150 receiving yards and Smith added 134 as they became the first pair of Giants to have double-digit reception totals in the same game.

Kenny Phillips set up both touchdowns with interceptions of Tony Romo passes. Rookie Bruce Johnson scored on a 34-yard interception return. Michael Boley played his first game in a Giants uniform and had seven tackles. Tynes tied a career high with four field goals, from 30, 28, 36 and 37 yards. He had to kick the game-winner twice. Just prior to the snap on the first try, Dallas Coach Wade Phillips called timeout. The kick was good. So Tynes calmly stepped up and did it again.

GAME 3 - GIANTS AT TAMPA BAY

GIANTS 24, BUCS 0

The Giants went back to basics to pulverize Tampa Bay and improve their record to 3-0. Using a strong rushing attack and dominating defense, the Giants overpowered the Buccaneers, 24-0, in steamy Raymond James Stadium. It was the Giants' first shutout victory since Oct. 30, 2005, when they blanked the Redskins, 36-0. They had last held an opponent scoreless on the road on Nov. 20, 1983, a 23-0 triumph at Philadelphia.

The Giants scored on Brandon Jacobs' six-yard run, Eli Manning touchdown passes of four yards to Steve Smith and 18 yards to Sinorice Moss and Lawrence Tynes' 26-yard field goal. They ran for 226 yards, including 104 by Bradshaw and 92 by Jacobs.

Meanwhile, the Giants' defense eviscerated the overmatched Buccaneers. The visitors held sizeable advantages in plays (76-36), yards (397-86), rushing yards (226-28), first downs (27-5) and time of possession (43:38-16:22). Tampa Bay did not pick up a first down until the third quarter. The Bucs failed on all nine of their third down conversion attempts. Their longest run was 15 yards. So was their longest pass. Their leading rusher was backup quarterback Josh Johnson, who scrambled for 15 yards in the fourth quarter. Carnell Williams gained eight yards on two carries. Former Giant Derrick Ward had five rushes…for two yards.

Tampa Bay had 10 offensive possessions. Eight of the first nine ended in three or fewer plays. The Bucs did have an 11-play drive that included a first-and-goal at the Giants' five in the fourth quarter. But Johnson threw four straight incomplete passes and the shutout was preserved.

GAME 4 - GIANTS AT KANSAS CITY

OCT. 4, 2009

GIANTS 27, CHEIFS 16

The Giants joined some very select company when they traveled to Kansas City on Oct. 4 and not just because they reached the quarter pole of the NFL season with a perfect record. A 27-16 defeat of the Chiefs in Arrowhead Stadium gave the Giants a sweep of their three-game road trip through Dallas, Tampa Bay and Kansas City. They became just the eighth team of the 108 since 1990 that played three consecutive road games to win them all. The Giants won their first three road games for the first time since 1990.

The Giants, who led 27-3 early in the fourth quarter, improved to 4-0 for the second season in a row, the first time they've done that in back-to-back seasons since 1989-90.

Eli Manning threw touchdown passes of three and 25 yards to Steve Smith and 54 yards to Hakeem Nicks and Lawrence Tynes kicked field goals of 25 and 40 yards in his return to Kansas City.

Smith caught 11 passes, the second-highest total by a wide receiver in Giants history and the most in a non-overtime game.

Manning suffered an injury to his right plantar fascia in the fourth quarter. He threw the touchdown to Nicks after sustaining the injury and then was replaced on the next offensive series by David Carr. Manning missed no playing time because of the injury.

Ryan Succop's first-quarter 34-yard field goal and Matt Cassel's fourth-quarter touchdown passes to Sean Ryan and Bobby Wade accounted for the Chiefs' points.

GAME 5 - OAKLAND VS. GIANTS

OCT. 11, 2009

GIANTS 44, RAIDERS 7

Eli Manning played less than a half against Oakland but it was more than enough time for the Giants and far too much for the Raiders. He threw two scoring passes and led the Giants to touchdowns on each of their first four offensive possessions following a week of speculation that he might not start because of a foot injury. The early dominance sent the Giants on their way to a 44-7 rout of the overmatched Raiders.

The Giants improved to 5-0 for the first time since 1990 and just the third time in their history (also 1941). Early in the second quarter, the Giants had a 28-0 lead and the Raiders had nine total yards.

Ahmad Bradshaw rushed for two touchdowns, backup quarterback David Carr ran in for another, Manning connected with Mario Manningham and Hakeem Nicks for two more scores and Lawrence Tynes kicked three field goals for the Giants.

Manning, who missed the Wednesday and Thursday practices prior to the game, played five series and completed eight of 10 passes for 173 yards in his shortest stint as a starter. But he finished with a perfect 158.3 rating, the first by a Giants quarterback since Kerry Collins in 2002. Manning was relieved late in the second quarter by Carr, who completed nine of 14 passes for 90 yards and ran four times for 27 yards.

The Giants overwhelmed the Raiders, enjoying huge advantages in total yards (483-124) and first downs (27-7). Oakland converted only one of nine third down opportunities. The Giants sacked JaMarcus Russell six times, forcing and recovering fumbles on three of them.

GAME 6 - GIANTS AT NEW ORLEANS

SAINTS 48, GIANTS 27

The Giants suffered their first defeat of the season in resounding fashion when they fell in the Louisiana Superdome in a battle of unbeaten teams. The Saints got touchdowns from seven different players, gained almost 500 yards and led by 28 points on their way to a 48-27 victory. The Giants fell to 5-1 while giving up more points in a game than they had since Washington scored 50 on Sept. 19, 1999.

The Saints gained 493 yards, the most allowed by the Giants since the Cardinals had 495 on Nov. 11, 1988. New Orleans scored five first-half touchdowns, including one on each of its first four possessions. Drew Brees completed 23 of 30 passes for 369 yards and threw touchdowns to four different receivers – Marques Colston (12 yards), Jeremy Shockey (one), Lance Moore (12) and Robert Meachem (36). Colston caught eight passes for 166 yards. The Saints converted seven of 13 third down opportunities and Brees was not sacked.

New Orleans also had a productive ground game, rushing for 133 yards. Pierre Thomas led the way with 72 yards and Mike Bell (two yards), Reggie Bush (seven) and Heath Evans (two) all ran for touchdowns.

Eli Manning, making his NFL debut in his hometown and playing for the first time ever in the Superdome – where he spent many Sundays of his youth cheering for the Saints – was forced to play from behind all day. He completed 14 of 31 passes for 178 yards. He was intercepted once and lost a fumble. Manning threw a touchdown pass to Mario Manningham and David Carr tossed one to Hakeem Nicks. Ahmad Bradshaw ran in for another score and Lawrence Tynes kicked three field goals.

GAME 7 - ARIZONA VS. GIANTS

CARDINALS 24, GIANTS 17

In a battle of the previous two NFC champions, the Giants couldn't get untracked on offense and had four turnovers – two in the final 3:52 - and fell to the Arizona Cardinals, 24-17, in Giants Stadium. The Giants held a 14-10 halftime lead, but failed to reach the end zone goal in the second half.

The Giants had two late chances to tie the game and send it to overtime. But Ahmad Bradshaw's fumble was recovered by safety Matt Ware at the Cards' 42 with less than four minutes remaining. The defense forced Arizona to go three-and-out and the Giants took possession at their nine-yard line with 2:52 remaining and owning all of their timeouts, plus the two-minute warning. They got as far as the Arizona 39 with 1:15 left, but Eli Manning's pass to the right sideline for Smith was picked off by Antrel Rolle, ensuring the Giants' defeat.

Manning completed 19 of 37 passes for 243 yards. The Giants totaled 327 yards, but eight of their 14 possessions (not counting a kneel-down at the end of the half), lasted no more than three plays. The Giants converted only four of 15 third down opportunities and Jeff Feagles punted seven times.

The Giants scored on Jacobs' four-yard touchdown run and Manning's 62-yard pass to Hakeem Nicks in the second quarter, and Tynes' 20-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

Arizona got touchdown runs of 13 yards from rookie Beanie Wells and one yard from Tim Hightower, Kurt Warner's six-yard scoring pass to another back, Jason Wright, and Neil Rackers' 30-yard field goal.

GAME 8 - GIANTS AT PHILADELPHIA

NOV. 1, 2009

EAGLES 40, GIANTS 17

The Giants suffered their third consecutive loss when they fell, 40-17, to the Eagles in Lincoln Financial Field on Nov. 1. The defeat ended their four-game regular season winning streak in Philadelphia end. The Giants trailed 16-0 in the second quarter, 30-7 at halftime and 33-7 in the third quarter.

Eli Manning completed 20 of 39 passes for 222 yards and a touchdown to Kevin Boss. But he was intercepted twice and both picks led to Eagles touchdowns in the first half. The Giants also scored on Ahmad Bradshaw's one-yard run and Lawrence Tynes' 42-yard field goal.

Donovan McNabb threw three touchdown passes – one each to Brent Celek, DeSean Jackson and Jeremy Maclin, Leonard Weaver (41 yards) and LeSean McCoy (66) had long touchdown runs and David Akers kicked two field goals for the Eagles.

Behind by 23 points, the Giants thought they'd get the ball to start the second half. But Domenik Hixon fumbled the kickoff, which was recovered by Moise Fokou on the 21. The Eagles gained only four yards on three plays and Akers came on to kick a 35-yard field goal to increase the lead to 33-7.

The Giants appeared to score a touchdown midway through the quarter when Bruce Johnson sacked McNabb and forced him to fumble. Robbins recovered the ball and lumbered for 13 yards before flipped a lateral at the 35 to Umenyiora, who ran untouched to the end zone. Philadelphia coach Andy Reid challenged the play, hoping it would be ruled a forward pass. He didn't get that, but the touchdown was nullified when referee Carl Cheffers said Robbins' lateral was an illegal forward pass, which is a five-yard penalty.

GAME 9 - SAN DIEGO VS. GIANTS

CHARGERS 21, GIANTS 20

A heartbreaking home loss on Nov. 8 left the Giants skidding into their bye week.Philip Rivers' third touchdown pass of the game – an 18-yarder to Vincent Jackson with just 21 seconds remaining - completed an 80-yard drive and lifted the Chargers to a 21-20 victory in Giants Stadium. The Giants lost their fourth consecutive game despite outgaining San Diego, 304-226, holding the Chargers to 34 rushing yards and owning the ball for a whopping 37:37.

Eli Manning completed 25 of 33 passes for 215 yards, touchdowns to Steve Smith and Kevin Boss and no interceptions. But the Giants twice settled for field goals from in close in the fourth quarter, most notably after Terrell Thomas intercepted Rivers and returned the ball to the four-yard line with 3:14 left and the Giants leading, 17-14. A touchdown there would have all but clinched the victory.

Chris Snee was penalized for holding on Brandon Jacobs' three-yard run, pushing the Giants back to the 14 – one of nine Giants penalties. The Giants made it back to the four, but Tynes kicked a 22-yard field goal for a 20-14 lead.

The Chargers took possession at their own 20 with 2:05 remaining. They covered the 80 yards in eight plays, and never once faced a third down. The big play occurred just prior to the touchdown, when Rivers flipped a short pass that Darren Sproles turned into a 21-yard gain to the 18. On the next play, Jackson scored his second touchdown of the game when Rivers hit him on the right side of the end zone.

GAME 10 - ATLANTA VS. GIANTS

GIANTS 34, FALCONS 31 (OT)

Following their bye, the Giants broke a four-game losing streak with a 34-31 overtime victory over Atlanta on Nov. 22 in Giants Stadium. The Giants wasted a 14-point fourth-quarter lead, but won the overtime coin toss, which led to Lawrence Tynes' game-winning 36-yard field goal with 3:54 elapsed in the extra period.

Eli Manning threw for a then-career high 384 yards and three touchdowns. It was his first 300-yard game at home after eight on the road. Manning's three-yard touchdown pass to Madison Hedgecock increased the Giants' lead to 31-17 early in the fourth quarter. But the Falcons responded with a 12-play, 65-yard drive that ended with Matt Ryan throwing a four-yard touchdown pass to Eric Weems. The Giants then held the ball for less than three minutes before punting.

Atlanta took possession at its own 24-yard line with 3:42 remaining. Ryan converted two third downs on another 12-play drive and threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Tony Gonzalez to tie the score at 31-31 with only 28 seconds remaining.

When the captains met at midfield for the overtime coin toss, Ryan called tails, as he did prior to the opening kickoff. It came up heads for the second time and the Giants got the ball for what would be the only possession in overtime. On third-and-two, Manning hit Hakeem Nicks for a seven-yard gain to the Giants' 48-yard line. The next play was a 29-yard pass up the right side to Mario Mannigham. The Giants gained five more yards before Tynes kicked the game-winner.

GAME 11 - GIANTS AT DENVER

BRONCOS 26, GIANTS 6

Thanksgiving proved to be a real turkey of a day for the Giants, who played on the holiday for the first time in 17 years and lost in Denver, 26-6, their fifth defeat in six games. The six points was the Giants' lowest regular season point total since a 27-6 loss to Philadelphia on Nov. 28, 2004.

The Giants rushed for only 57 yards, their lowest output in three years, and totaled 267 yards, including 84 on a series in the final 1:39, after the outcome had been decided. Their only points came from Lawrence Tynes field goals of 39 and 52 yards.

Defensively, the Giants limited the Broncos to two touchdowns - a one-yard run by rookie Knowshon Moreno and Kyle Orton's 17-yard pass to Brandon Stokley. But Matt Prater kicked field goals of 26, 32, 47 and 24 yards and Denver owned the ball for 35:30.

Stokley's touchdown with 10:15 remaining in the fourth quarter broke the game open. On third-and-eight, Stokley was all alone at the six-yard line when he caught Orton's pass and stepped into the end zone for a 23-6 lead. Denver drove 64 yards in nine plays, including Moreno runs of 11 and 12 yards and Orton's 12-yard pass to Jabar Gaffney.

On the Giants' ensuing possession, Eli Manning was sacked by Elvis Dumervil and fumbled. The ball was recovered by linebacker D.J. Williams at the Giants' 36-yard line. Four minutes later, Prater scored Denver's final points on a 24-yard field goal.

The Giants trailed at halftime, 16-0. It was the first time they did not score a first-half point in a regular season game since Dec. 4, 2004, when they trailed at Washington, 21-0, in a game they lost, 31-7.

GAME 12 - DALLAS VS. GIANTS

DEC. 6, 2009

GIANTS 31, COWBOYS 24

The Giants rallied from two deficits to defeat Dallas, 31-24, in raucous Giants Stadium. They swept their season series with the Cowboys for the first time since 2004.

The defense contributed several big plays in holding Dallas to 45 rushing yards (after the Cowboys ran for 251 in the teams' first meeting), the offense scored three touchdowns, including a 74-yard catch-and-run by Brandon Jacobs and the special teams chipped in with Domenik Hixon's 74-yard punt return in the fourth quarter. The Giants also scored on Hakeem Nicks' 21-yard touchdown catch, Brandon Jacobs' one-yard run and Lawrence Tynes' 23-yard field goal.

The Giants made three lineup changes on defense as tackle Chris Canty, end Mathias Kiwanuka and middle linebacker Jonathan Goff stepped in for Fred Robbins, Osi Umenyiora and Chase Blackburn.

For Dallas, Tony Romo threw scoring passes of four and five yards to Roy Williams and 22 yards to Miles Austin and Nick Folk's 34-yard field goal. Folk also missed attempts of 57 and 42 yards.

Jacobs' long run after a short throw gave the Giants back the lead at 21-17 with 3:39 remaining in the third quarter. On the first play after the Cowboys scored, Manning threw to Jacobs on the left side. The big back caught ball at the 30-yard line and started to motor up the left sideline. He didn't stop until he reached the end zone for the third regular season receiving touchdown of his career and first since 2007. It was 31 yards further than his previous career long reception.

The 74-yard play was the Giants' longest since Manning threw a 78-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress at Oakland on Dec. 31, 2005.

GAME 13 - EAGLES VS. GIANTS

EAGLES 45, GIANTS 38

When the Giants hosted the Eagles in a Sunday night game on Dec. 13, everyone expected an old-fashioned NFC East slugfest. What they got was a display of big and exciting plays and lots of scoring. The Giants gained 512 yards and Eli Manning threw for a career-high 391 yards, but the Eagles made plays when they counted and walked out of Giants Stadium with a 45-38 victory.

The Giants took the field knowing first place was theirs if they beat the Eagles. But they quickly fell behind, 14-0 and trailed for almost the entire game. The Giants, who faced three separate deficits of at least 13 points, fought back to take a 31-30 lead when Domenik Hixon took Manning's short pass and turned it into a 61-yard touchdown with 5:13 remaining in the third quarter.

But Philadelphia needed only one play to recapture the lead. On the first play of the next possession, Donovan McNabb threw down the field for DeSean Jackson, who caught the ball behind a diving Aaron Ross and stepped into the end zone, giving the lead back to the Eagles at 37-31 just 15 seconds after the Giants had moved ahead.

Manning also threw touchdown passes of 68 yards to Hakeem Nicks and four yards to Kevin Boss. Brandon Jacobs and Ahmad Bradshaw scored on short runs and Lawrence Tynes kicked a 26-yard field goal.

Philadelphia hurt the Giants with three big-play touchdowns – Sheldon Brown's 44-yard fumble return and Jackson's 72-yard punt return and 60-yard catch from McNabb – who also threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Celek. Michael Vick added a one-yard run and Akers' kicked a 20-yard field goal.

GAME 14 - GIANTS AT WASHINGTON

GIANTS 45, REDSKINS 12

The Giants played one of their most complete games of the season in their lone Monday night appearance and pummeled Washington, 45-12, in FedEx Field. They scored on their first four and six of their first seven possessions. The Giants scored six touchdowns in a game for the first time in more than four years (Sept. 11, 2005 vs. Arizona) and finished with their highest point total in 14 years (a 45-29 victory over New Orleans on Sept. 29, 1995). They converted 11 of 15 third down opportunities in the game, Eli Manning threw three touchdowns without an interception for the second week in a row and his 144.4 passer rating was the second-highest of his career.

The defense throttled Washington with five sacks, three interceptions and a shutout in the first half and the coverage teams kept the Redskins returners bottled up all night.

The Giants scored on Ahmad Bradshaw touchdown runs of three and four yards, Manning touchdown passes of six yards to Steve Smith, 23 yards to Derek Hagan (his first as a Giant) and 25 yards to Mario Manningham, as well as Terrell Thomas' 14-yard interception return and Lawrence Tynes' 38-yard field goal. The Giants did not commit a turnover.

Perhaps most impressively, the Giants won with a depleted lineup. Three players who started the previous week did not suit up because of injuries: cornerback Corey Webster (knee), safety Aaron Ross (hamstring) and tackle Kareem McKenzie. Left guard Rich Seubert joined them on the sideline with a knee injury he suffered on the Giants' first touchdown. All four of those players missed the rest of the season.

The Redskins scored on Jason Campbell's 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Fred Davis and Quinton Ganther's one-yard run, both in the third quarter.

GAME 15 - CAROLINA VS. GIANTS

PANTHERS 41, GIANTS 9

The Giants' last day in Giants Stadium was just about their worst. Playing in their home of 34 years for the final time, the Giants were thoroughly outplayed and suffered an ugly 41-9 loss to Carolina Panthers.

The Panthers rushed for 247 yards, the most ever allowed by the Giants in Giants Stadium. And the Panthers were without leading rusher DeAngelo Williams, who was inactive with an ankle sprain. Jonathan Stewart started in his place and ran for 206 yards, the third-highest individual total ever against the Giants. Quarterback Matt Moore, who started in place of Jake Delhomme, completed 15 of 20 passes for 171 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions. Carolina converted 10 of 15 third down opportunities.

Stewart scored on a 29-yard run, Brad Hoover added a one-yarder, Moore threw touchdown passes of 22 yards to Muhsin Muhammad, two yards to Jeff King and 27 yards to Steve Smith, and John Kasay kicked field goals of 38 and 27 yards for the Panthers.

Carolina owned a commanding 24-point halftime lead and put the game out of reach by taking the second half kickoff and driving 71 yards in only four plays and two minutes to increase their lead to 31-0. The touchdown was the pass to Smith, who suffered a fractured arm on the play.

The Giants struggled offensively. They got shut out in the first half, didn't reach the end zone until the fourth quarter and rushed for only 60 yards. Brandon Jacobs gained one yard on six rushing attempts. Eli Manning threw a touchdown pass to Smith and Tynes kicked a field goal.

GAME 16 - GIANTS VS. MINNESOTA

VIKINGS 44, GIANTS 7

Hoping to finish with a winning record and playing to boost their collective pride, the Giants were routed by the Vikings in the Metrodome, 44-7, in their season finale. It was the Giants' worst loss since a 38-point defeat (45-7) at New Orleans on Dec. 14, 2003.

The Vikings scored the game's first 44 points and outgained the Giants, 487-181. Minnesota held the Giants to 35 rushing yards and 11 first downs and scored on eight of its first nine possessions – all after traveling inside the Giants' 20-yard line.

The Vikings' 44 points increased the total allowed by the Giants in 2009 to 427, the second-highest in franchise history (the 1966 team gave up 501). On Sunday, the Giants never sacked Favre and gave up 7.1 yards per play.

Brett Favre threw four touchdown passes for Minnesota: 10 yards to Visanthe Shiancoe, four and 12 yards to Sidney Rice and one yard to Naufahu Tahu. The Vikings also scored on Adrian Peterson's one-yard run and Ryan Longwell field goals of 36, 24 and 27 yards. Minnesota ran away from the Giants in a lopsided first half in which the Vikings held huge advantages in points (31-0), yards (343-82) and first downs (20-4).

D.J. Ware's one-yard touchdown run with 9:11 remaining in the fourth quarter prevented the shutout.

Aug. 17, 2009
Giants Stadium

The Giants opened their preseason schedule with a 24-14 victory over the Panthers in Giants Stadium. Running backs Ahmad Bradshaw and Danny Ware combined for 116 yards of total offense and scored a touchdown apiece. Bradshaw rushed for 35 yards on five carries, including a 19-yard score, and added two catches fore 17 yards. Ware, playing behind a reserve line, contributed 21 rushing yards and had two receptions for 43 yards, including a spectacular 36-yard catch-and-run touchdown. The Giants' starting units played briefly, but well. The offensive drove 77 yards in six plays on its second possession, which ended with Bradshaw's touchdown. Manning played the game's first two series and completed two of three passes for 31 yards. The first-team defense held Carolina to 56 yards and forced punts on all three of its series. The game had a bizarre ending as the Giants scored the game-winning points on the final play when Leger Douzable sacked quarterback Hunter Cantwell, forcing a fumble that was plucked out of the air by rookie free agent defensive end Tommie Hill – who returned it 18 yards for a touchdown as time expired.

GIANTS 3, BEARS 17

Soldier Field

The Giants fared poorly in their first preseason game in Chicago in 15 years, falling to the Bears, 17-3. All of the game's points were scored in the first half. Chicago got a 32-yard touchdown run from Matt Forte, Jay Cutler's one-yard pass to tight end Desmond Clark and Robbie Gould's 44-yard field goal. Lawrence Tynes produced the Giants' only points with a 42-yard field goal later in the second quarter. Eli Manning was on the field with the starting offense for four series. During that time, the Giants gained a total of 78 yards. Manning completed seven of 10 passes for 62 yards and was sacked twice for 11 yards. The Bears dominated the first half, when they had touchdown drives of 80 and 92 yards. Chicago held big advantages in total yards (282-99), passing yards (173-51) and first downs (15-5). The Bears converted four of six third-down opportunities in the half. When the third quarter began, the Giants hoped to get back into the game. But they managed only one first down in those 15 minutes. In the fourth quarter, Andre' Woodson's fourth-down pass for Ramses Barden was broken up by Josh Bullocks with 8:40 remaining.

GIANTS 25, JETS 27

Giants Stadium

The Giants played better than they had the previous week, but it wasn't enough as they lost to the Jets, 27-25, in their annual August game. Offensively, the Giants were out of sync much of the night, though they did successfully use a no-huddle offense on their first offensive series, which ended with a touchdown. The starters on both offense and defense played into the third quarter. Eli Manning completed nine of 21 passes for 91 yards. Those numbers would have been vastly better had Steve Smith and Mario Manningham not dropped long passes. Smith was ahead of the field in the first quarter when he couldn't hold Manning's perfectly-thrown pass that sailed 65 yards in the air. Manning threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Jacobs, David Carr threw touchdown passes of 22 and 71 yards to first-round draft choice Hakeem Nicks, and Lawrence Tynes kicked field goals of 38 and 26 yards. The Jets scored on Thomas Jones' one-yard run, Sanchez's 31-yard touchdown pass to Chansi Stuckey, Eric Ainge's 70-yard scoring pass to Aundrae Allison, and Jay Feely field goals of 42 and 25 yards. The Giants trailed, 20-13, with five minutes remaining in what was a pretty routine preseason game before the fireworks began to explode. Carr engineered a 99-yard drive that ended with a 22-yard touchdown pass to Nicks with 4:15 remaining. But a fade pass to Derek Hagan on the two-point conversion that could have given the Giants the lead was incomplete. On the Jets' first play from scrimmage, Allison found an opening in the defense, caught Ainge's pass and worked his way to the end zone, pushing the lead to eight. But the Giants responded again. On third-and-16 from their 29, Carr connected with Nicks, who was streaking down the right sideline, caught the ball at the Jets' 40 and raced to the end zone. Nicks finished with six catches for 144 yards. The Giants' bid to tie the game failed when Allen Patrick was stopped on the two-point try following Nicks' second touchdown.

GIANTS 27, PATRIOTS 38

Gillette Stadium

The Giants had two quarterbacks with perfect passer ratings in their preseason finale and still lost by 11 points. That provides a clue to how unusual the Giants' 38-27 loss to the New England Patriots was. The Giants played their starters early in the game, the Patriots not at all. So the visitors jumped out to a 21-0 lead in Gillette Stadium. But after the game was turned over to reserves and those who didn't survive the roster cuts later in the week, the Giants were outscored 38-6. The top two quarterbacks were outstanding in limited roles against the Patriots. Eli Manning played only the first series, but it was a good one. He led the Giants on a five-play, 73-yard drive that included a 44-yard pass to tight end Kevin Boss and a 23-yard touchdown pass to Sinorice Moss. Manning also threw a nine-yarder to Boss. He left the game three-for-three for 76 yards and the score (two rushes on the drive netted minus-three yards) and a perfect rating of 158.3. Not to be outdone, David Carr played the next two series and completed all six of his passes for 153 yards and two touchdowns – 12 yards to Moss and 64 yards to top draft choice Hakeem Nicks. Carr's rating was also 158.3. Not only did the Giants own that three-touchdown lead at the end of the first quarter, but they had outgained New England, 251-3 (229 to minus-4 in passing yards) and had eight first downs to zero for the Pats. Indeed, they had scored 21 points before 10 minutes had elapsed – after running only 12 offensive plays. They scored on the fifth play of their first drive, the fourth play of the second possession and third play of their third series. But once the frontline players departed, the Giants had trouble functioning. The only points they scored came from Lawrence Tynes field goals of 46 yards in the second quarter and 25 in the fourth.

HISTORY OF THE NEW YORK GIANTS

TIM MARA

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

The city of New York was introduced to professional football on the same day that the city was introduced to the New York Giants. It was a clear sunny October afternoon in 1925 when the Giants took the field to play against the Frankford Yellow Jackets. The Giants lost their home debut by the score of 14-0 to lower their record to 0-3 after opening with two losses on the road. But more importantly, the New York Giants and professional football had arrived.

Tim Mara, a bookmaker (legal at the time) and successful businessman and promoter, purchased the team for a reported $500. In an era when professional football was in the shadows of baseball, boxing and college football, and professional football teams hailed from the towns of Dayton, Rochester and Columbus, league officials believed that a team in a large market such as New York was exactly what was needed to keep pro football alive.

The Giants struggled financially through the first decade but managed to win their first title in only their third season, going 11-1-1 in 1927. With the fall of the Stock Market and the Depression that followed, the 1930s were not off to a great start. Tim Mara suffered substantial losses during the crash that threatened the existence of the Giants. With that fear in mind, Tim Mara handed control of the franchise over to his two sons, Jack Mara, who was twenty-two, and Wellington, who was fourteen. Wellington Mara became the youngest owner of a football team and began his storied career as a major player in the Giants organization.

In 1934 the Giants beat the Chicago Bears, 30-13, in nine-degree temperatures at the Polo Grounds in a game that has become famous as the "Sneakers Game." With the Giants trailing 10-3 at the half, head coach Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy turf. The team responded with four touchdowns in the second half to turn the game into a Giants rout.

If there ever were a time for the National Football League and the New York Giants to fold, it would have come during the years of World War II. The NFL decided to continue during the war despite losing players to military service. Many of the players that stayed behind were older players that were past their prime. Low attendance forced some teams to fold and other teams like the Philadelphia Eagles and the Pittsburgh Steelers to merge into one team. Fortunately, the New York Giants were able to survive the war years and managed to reach three NFL championship games during the 1940s.

The 1950s were filled with Giants players that would become household names and help bring football to a playing field equal to other spectator sports. With the growing interest in professional football, the Giants continued to make strides to attract the most talented players from the college level. By the time the decade was over, Kyle Rote, Eddie Price, Rosie Brown, Frank Gifford, Sam Huff and Tom Landry would send the Giants and professional football into a new era.

The 1960s marked a decade of change for the Giants. Since they were founded in 1925, the Giants had been a talented team filled with success. The 1960s marked a turning point for our country as well as the Giants. After reaching the title games of 1961, 1962, and 1963 the Giants were hit with injuries and a series of retirements to key players that sent the team through a period of mediocrity.

The Giants in the 1970s could best be described as a team in transition. The team called four different stadiums home, played in three different states, and did not play in one postseason game. Teams like the Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears, and Giants, so strong in the NFL's formative years, gave way to new powers like Dallas, Pittsburgh and Minnesota.

The Giants ended almost two decades of losing with one of their most prosperous decades in the 1980s. After finishing in last place or next-to-last eight times in the 1970s,

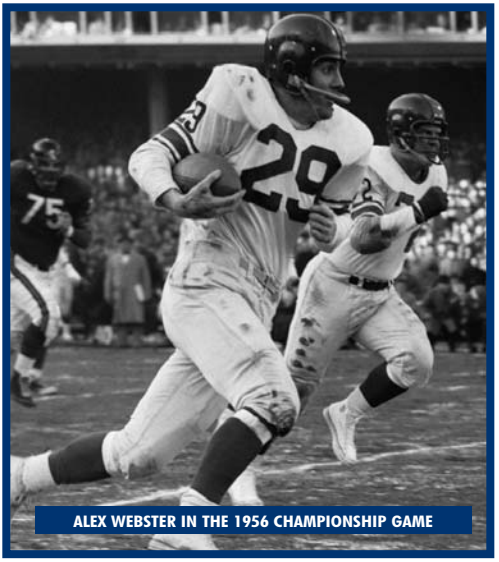

WHY GIANTS? HOW THE NEW YORK FOOTBALL GIANTS GOT ITS NAME

Owner Tim Mara "borrowed" the Giants' name from the city's Major League Baseball team of the same name. This was not unusual among early day pro football franchises. At one time or another there were NFL franchises named the New York Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers, Cleveland Indians, Cincinnati Reds, and Detroit Tigers.

the Giants appeared in three wild card games and won two NFC East division titles. Through the draft and key trades, the Giants slowly built a winning program. By 1986 the championship pieces fit together and the team was back on top with their first Super Bowl appearance and their first world championship since 1956.

The Giants were back on top of the NFL in 1990, winning their second Super Bowl in a dramatic 20-19 win over the Buffalo Bills. The next two years were filled with coaching changes, quarterback controversies, and a step back into the middle of the pack of the National Football League.

In February, 1991, less than a month after winning their second Super Bowl, it was announced that after 66 years of ownership by the Mara family, a 50% interest in the club had been sold to Preston Robert Tisch by Tim Mara. A native of New York City and a lifelong Giants fan, Tisch is one of the country's most successful businessmen.

Dan Reeves was hired as coach before the start of the 1993 season, and he helped bring the Giants back into Super Bowl contention. The Giants finished their first season under Reeves tied with the Detroit Lions for the best turnaround in football, going from 6-10 to 11-5. Reeves was named the NFL Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and others for his efforts.

On January 15, 1997, a new chapter in Giants history began when Jim Fassel was named the 15th head coach. In the first season under Fassel's leadership, the Giants captured the NFC East Championship with a 10-5-1 record. The Giants finished the 1997 season with a 7-0-1 Division record to become the first team ever to go undefeated in NFC East Division play. The Giants fell short of a playoff berth in 1998 after overcoming a 3-7 start to finish with an 8-8 record. The Giants were 7-9 in 2000.

In 2000, the Giants returned to the upper echelon of the NFL. They won the NFC East title and earned home field advantage throughout the playoffs with a 12-4 regular season record. The Giants then beat Philadelphia in the divisional playoffs and routed Minnesota, 41-0, in the NFC Championship Game to advance to the Super Bowl for the third time. But they failed to win the game for the first time, falling to the Baltimore Ravens.

The Giants slipped to 7-9 in 2001, losing their last two games to fall out of playoff contention. In 2002, the Giants won their final four regular season games, including an overtime thriller in the regular season finale against Philadelphia, to clinch a wild card playoff berth. In the third period of the postseason game in San Francisco, the Giants led the 49ers, 38-14. But San Francisco rallied for a 39-38 victory.

Because of their impressive stretch run, the Giants began the 2003 season with high hopes. At midseason, they were in the thick of the playoff race with a 4-4 record. But a second-half collapse against Atlanta set the tone for an eight-game, season-ending losing streak. With two games remaining, the Giants announced that Fassel would not return. On Jan. 6, 2004, Tom Coughlin, a highly-successful head coach at Boston College and with the Jacksonville Jaguars, and a former Giants assistant, was hired as the 16th head coach in Giants history.

In the 2004 NFL Draft, the Giants traded for quarterback Eli Manning, who started the final seven games of his rookie season. The Giants were 6-10 in Coughlin's first year at the helm. In 2005, Manning started every game and the Giants were 11-5 and earned their first playoff berth since 2002 and their first NFC East championship since 2000. The first-place finish was an NFL-record 21st in franchise history. Five Giants were elected to the Pro Bowl, the team's largest contingent since the 1990 Super Bowl champions sent seven. The group was led by running back Tiki Barber, who was second in the NFL in rushing with a team-record 1,860 yards. Barber's 2,390 total yards were the second-highest total in league history.The Giants finished 8-8 in 2006, but made the playoffs as a wild card.

Giants history. The Giants clinched an NFC wild card postseason berth with a victory in Buffalo in their 15th game. The following week, they narrowly lost to the undefeated New England Patriots in the regular season finale to finish 10-6. What followed was one of the greatest postseason runs in NFL history, one that culminated with an upset of the Patriots in an exhilarating Super Bowl XLII. Along the way, the Giants set an NFL single-season record with 11 consecutive victories away from their home stadium.

The Giants, seeded fifth in the conference, opened postseason play with a 24-14 Wild Card victory at Tampa Bay. Brandon Jacobs scored two touchdowns for the Giants. The following week, the Giants avenged two regular season defeats with a 21-17 triumph over the Cowboys in Dallas in a divisional playoff. Amani Toomer caught two touchdown passes, Jacobs scored on a short run and the defense limited the high-scoring Cowboys to three second-half points.

The Giants captured the conference title with a thrilling 23-20 overtime triumph over the Green Bay Packers in frigid Lambeau Field. The temperature at game time was minus-one degree with a wind-chill factor of minus-23, making it the coldest game in Giants history. Lawrence Tynes – who missed his previous two attempts, including one on the final p lay of regulation – kicked a 47-yard field goal 2:35 into overtime for the victory. The field goal was set up by Corey Webster's interception of the last pass of Brett Favre's career. Brandon Jacobs and Ahmad Bradshaw scored touchdowns for the Giants and Tynes added field goals of 29 and 37 yards.

Super Bowl XLII was played in University of Phoenix Stadium in Glendale, Ariz. The Giants were heavy underdogs to a New England team that was 18-0 and was bidding to conclude the second perfect season in NFL history. But it was the Giants who enjoyed a perfect finish. Trailing, 7-3, entering the fourth quarter, they took their first lead of the game on Manning's five-yard touchdown pass to David Tyree. The score was set up by a 45-yard catch-and-run by rookie tight end Kevin Boss. New England took a 14-10 lead on a six-yard touchdown pass from Tom Brady to Randy Moss with just 2:42 remaining.

The Giants took possession at their own 17 with 2:39 left in the game and Manning proceeded to lead them on one of the great drives in NFL postseason history. The highlight of the 12-play, 83-yard march occurred on third-and-five form the Giants' 44. Manning somehow eluded the grasp of the rushing Patriots line and threw downfield for Tyree, who somehow secured the ball against his helmet for a miracle 32-yard gain. Steve Smith picked up a critical first down before Manning threw the game-winning 13-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress with just 35 seconds remaining. The Giants stopped a last desperate New England possession won win their third Super Bowl in one of the biggest upsets in the game's history.

Tim Mara purchased a National Football League franchise for New York for $500. Bob Folwell was named head coach and all-time great Jim Thorpe was signed. Thorpe was later released by the team after the third game of the season. The Giants played their first game at the Polo Grounds, losing to the Frankford Yellow Jackets, 14-0. Later that season, more than 70,000 jammed the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears. The Giants went 8-4 in their first season.

1926
Bob Folwell left and was replaced by Dr. Joseph Alexander as head coach. Despite an 8-4-1 record in 1926, Tim Mara lost $40,000. After the season concluded, the seventh place Giants faced the American Football League champion Philadelphia Quakers. The Giants won convincingly, 31-0.

1927
Earl Potteiger replaced Dr. Joseph Alexander in 1927 and the Giants won their first title with an 11-1-1 record. (Note: until the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933, the team with the league's best record was awarded the championship title.) In the 13-game season the Giants defense posted ten shutouts and allowed only 20 points all year.

After a dismal 4-7-2 season in 1928, Tim Mara decided it was best to clean house. Head coach Earl Potteiger and eighteen players were not asked to return for the following season. Tackle Steve Owen would be the only returning starter from that season. It still ranks as one of the most massive turnovers in football history.

1929
Before the season began, Tim Mara purchased a struggling Detroit Wolverines franchise in order to obtain the rights to quarterback Benny Friedman and the best of the Detroit players for the Giants. LeRoy Andrews became the new head coach. The 13-1-1 Giants averaged 25,000 fans, turned a small profit and narrowly lost the NFL title to the Green Bay Packers, who finished 12-0-1.

1930
For the second consecutive season the Green Bay Packers edged out the Giants for the title. Ownership of the club was turned over to Jack and Wellington Mara, the two sons of the founder. On December 14, the Giants played a team of former Notre Dame All-Stars coached by the legendary Knute Rockne. Fifty-five thousand fans turned out at the Polo Grounds to see the Giants win the contest, 22-0. The proceeds of $115,153 went to the New York Unemployment Fund to help those suffering due to the Great Depression.

After an All-American season at Washington State, center Mel Hein wrote to three NFL teams offering his service. The Giants bid the most at $150 per game and Hein was signed to a contract. Former tackle Steve Owen was named head coach. The Giants finished in 5th place with a 7-6-1 record.

1932
Considered a rebuilding year, the Giants finished the season with a 4-6-2 record. On November 20, the Giants faced the defending champion Green Bay Packers. Expected to be an easy win for the undefeated Packers, 8-0-1 at the time, the Giants displayed promise for the future with a hard-fought, 6-0, victory. End Ray Flaherty became the NFL's first official pass-reception champion with 21 catches.

1933
The Giants won the Eastern Division of the newly-divided NFL with an impressive 11-3 record. 1933 was also the year the NFL established a new playoff system and in the league's first championship game, the Giants lost to the Western Division champion Chicago Bears, 23-21, at Wrigley Field in Chicago.

THE "SNEAKERS GAME"

In what is now known as the "Sneakers Game," the Giants defeated the Chicago Bears 30-13 for the NFL title. Trailing 13-3 in the third quarter, some of the Giants players changed into basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy Polo Grounds turf. The Giants responded with a 27-point fourth quarter to capture the championship.

1935
After beginning the season with a 4-3 record, the Giants rolled off five consecutive victories, shutting out their opponents four times, and finished with a 9-3 record and first place in the Eastern Division. The Giants advanced to their third straight NFL championship game, but lost to the Detroit Lions, 26-7, at Detroit

1936
The initial NFL draft was held in 1936, and the Giants first pick was Art Lewis, a tackle from Ohio University. The Giants finished with a 5-6-1 record, marking only the third time in the team's twelve-year history that it did not have a winning record.

1937
Seventeen rookies helped make up the 25-man roster in 1937, a season that also marked the debut of the now-familiar blue jerseys. The Giants lost to the Washington Redskins on the last day of the season and finished as a runner-up in the Eastern Division with a 6-3-2 record.

1938
A 23-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers produced the Giants third NFL title. A crowd of 48,120 fans attended the title game at the Polo Grounds in New York, a playoff record at the time. With the victory, the Giants earned the distinction of being the first NFL team to win two championship games.

1939
On January 15, the Giants defeated the Pro All-Stars, 13-10, in the first Pro Bowl held at Wrigley Field, Chicago. During the 1939 season, in front of 32,279 fans at Milwaukee State Fair Park, the Green Bay Packers avenged the 1938 loss with a 27-0 drubbing of the Giants in the NFL title game.

1940
The Giants finished third in the East with a 6-4-1 record. Midway through the season, leading rusher Tuffy Leemans was lost for the year with a back injury. Center Mel Hein was the only Giant to win All-Pro honors, accomplishing the feat for the 10th year in a row.

1941
With just 50 seconds to go in the 1941 Eastern Division championship game, the Washington Redskins held a 13-10 lead, but the Giants scored a field goal and a touchdown to win, 20-13, and advance to the NFL title game. In the wake of Pearl Harbor, only 13,341 spectators turned out to see Chicago top the Giants in the title game, 37-9.

After losing many players to the service, the Giants finished with a 5-5-1 record and in third place in the Eastern Division. The Giants recorded a memorable victory in the season opener, defeating the Washington Redskins, 14-7, although they didn't have a first down, gained only one yard rushing and completed just one pass. That pass happened to go for a touchdown. The Giants also scored on an intercepted return and handed the Redskins their only defeat in their championship season.

1943
With the league down to just nine teams due to World War II, the Giants overcame a 2-2-1 start to finish with a 6-3-1 record. The Giants advanced to the Eastern Division championship game where they dropped a 28-0 decision to the Washington Redskins.

1944
Luring quarterback Arnie Herber and back Ken Strong out of retirement, the Giants scored five shutouts en route to the Eastern Division title, but lost the NFL championship game at the Polo Grounds in New York to the Green Bay Packers, 14-7.

1945
The War ended in 1945, but the Giants finished with their worst record to date. The Giants started the year off with a 34-6 win at Pittsburgh, but everything seemed to collapse after the opener. The Giants 3-6-1 record was only one game better than the last place Pittsburgh Steelers.

Quarterback Frankie Filchock, an understudy to Sammy Baugh at Washington, signed with the Giants for a reported $35,000. Filchock and teammate, back Merle Hapes, were questioned about an attempt by a New York man to fix the championship game with the Chicago Bears. Hapes was suspended indefinitely for the alleged gambling involvement, but Filchock was allowed to continue playing. The Giants went on to lose the title game to Chicago, 24-14.

The Giants went from the title game in 1946 to the cellar, finishing with a 2-8-2 record, including a seven-game losing streak. Halfback Frank Reagan tied for the league lead with ten interceptions for 203 yards. Reagan also tied for the league's punting championship with 61 kicks for a 42.8 average.

1948
The Giants renovation was accelerated in 1948 when they acquired quarterback Charlie Conerly from the Washington Redskins. The franchise reached another milestone in its illustrious existence, but it had nothing to do with their 4-8 record. That season, the Giants signed their first black player, defensive back Emlen Tunnell.

1949
Giants head coach Steve Owen switched from the "A" formation to the "T," which helped the Giants improve to a 6-6 record. Allie Sherman was hired to work with quarterback Charlie Conerly. The Giants shared the Polo Grounds with another NFL team, the New York Bulldogs.

1950
The Giants and New York Bulldogs divided the players of the former All-American Football Conference Yankees. The Giants received a young defensive back from Texas, Tom Landry, and a defensive tackle from Washington, Arnie Weinmeister. The Giants finished with a surprising 10-2 record and tied for first place with the Cleveland Browns, their first season above .500 since the Eastern Division championship season of 1946. The Browns defeated the Giants, 8-3, in the American Conference playoff game.

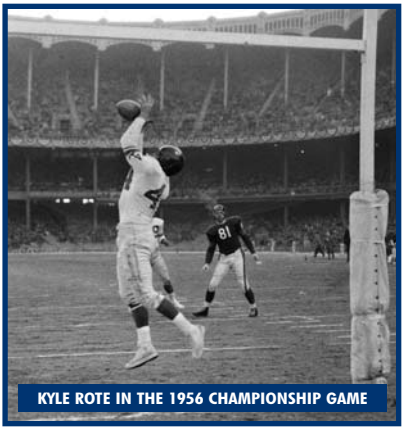

1951
End Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist was the Giants bonus pick in the draft, but he was injured in the preseason and saw little action. The Giants finished in second place with a 9-2-1 record, behind the only team they would lose to all season, the Cleveland Browns. Fullback Eddie Price led the NFL in rushing with 971 yards.

1952
Tailback Frank Gifford of USC was drafted number one. Playing in his fifth year, Emlen Tunnell gained more yardage on kick returns and interceptions (924) than the league's leading rusher, Dan Towler (894), of the Los Angeles Rams.

1953
Tackle Roosevelt "Rosie" Brown Jr. of Morgan State, a future Hall of Famer, was the Giants 27th pick in the 1953 NFL draft. Steve Owen retired at the end of the season after 23 years as the Giants head coach. Owen was asked to keep his affiliation with the Giants as a scout in the personnel department, a position he held for one year.

1954
Former Giants end Jim Lee Howell was promoted from end coach to head coach. The Canadian Football League began a series of raids on NFL teams, signing Giants three-time Pro-Bowl defensive tackle Arnie Weinmeister, among others. In an effort to save the Giants and the NFL, Wellington Mara went out and signed the best player in the CFL, Montreal Alouettes halfback Alex Webster.

1955
On August 28, the sudden-death rule was used for the first time in a preseason game between the Giants and the Los Angeles Rams in Portland, Oregon. The Rams won, 23-17, three minutes into overtime. After opening with three straight losses, the Giants got their act together and finished with a 6-5-1 record.

1956
Defensive end Andy Robustelli was obtained from the Los Angeles Rams. The Giants switched their home games from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium. A 47-7 rout of the Chicago Bears produced New York's first NFL championship since 1938. Linebacker Sam Huff, who was originally drafted as an offensive lineman but was switched to MLB when Ray Beck went down with an injury, was voted Rookie of the Year. Frank Gifford was named NFL Player of the Year and tackle Rosie Brown was named the NFL's Lineman of the Year.

The Giants were still in the running for the title in 1957 until they dropped their final three games. For the second straight season Frank Gifford finished in the top ten in both receiving (fourth) and rushing (tenth), with 588 yards receiving and 528 yards rushing. Gifford also completed four of six passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns.

After completing the season at 9-3, the Giants faced a Cleveland Browns team led by running back Jim Brown in the Eastern Conference playoff game. Brown, who had gained an NFL-record 1,527 yards rushing, was held to just eight yards by the stingy New York defense as the Giants prevailed, 10-0. Advancing to the title game, the Giants lost to the Baltimore Colts, 23-17, in the first sudden death overtime in an NFL championship game. That game has been referred to as, "The Greatest Game Ever Played."

1959

Y.A. TITTLE

1961

The NY logo was added to the helmets for the 1961 season. Allie Sherman replaced the retired Jim Lee Howell as head coach. The Giants obtained quarterback Y.A. Tittle (San Francisco) and end Del Shofner (Los Angeles) in trades. Back Alex Webster gained 928 yards to help the Giants reach the NFL title game. With the league championship on the line, the Giants were no match for the Green Bay Packers, losing 37-0.

1962

Back Frank Gifford, who returned to the team from retirement, quarterback Y.A. Tittle, end Del Shofner and back Alex Webster led the Giants into the NFL title game against the Green Bay Packers. Held in Yankee Stadium, 64,892 fans watched as Green Bay prevailed, 16-7. Defensive end Andy Robustelli was named the NFL's top player.

1963

Quarterback Y.A. Tittle threw 36 touchdown passes and kicker Don Chandler led the league with 106 points (52-pat, 18-fg) in scoring as the Giants romped to their third straight conference title. Halfback Dick Lynch tied for the league lead with nine interceptions for 251 return yards and a record-setting three touchdowns. With Tittle injured in the second quarter, New York lost yet another bid for the league championship, dropping a 14-10 decision to the Chicago Bears.

1964

Defensive end Andy Robustelli ended his long playing career with the Giants and became a full-time defensive coach. For the first time in 17 years, the Giants finished in last place in their conference with a 2-10-2 record. Backs Alex Webster and Frank Gifford announced their retirement at the end of the season.

1965

Quarterback Y.A. Tittle announced his retirement on January 22 at Mamma Leone's restaurant in New York City. Offensive lineman Jack Stroud also retired. On June 15, Jack Mara died after serving as team president for thirty-one years. The Giants rebounded with a 7-7 record, good enough for second place in the Eastern Conference.

1966

Before the season began, tackle Rosie Brown retired after 13 years of service to the team. The Giants had their worst season to date, finishing with a 1-12-1 record. They allowed a then NFL-record 501 points. Kicker Pete Gogolak became the first American Football League player to cross to the NFL.

1967

On March 7, the Giants announced the acquisition of quarterback Fran Tarkenton from the Minnesota Vikings. To get Tarkenton, the Giants gave up their first and second-round picks in 1967, number one pick in 1968, and second-round pick in 1969. Tarkenton's 29 touchdown passes led the Giants to a 7-7 record and a second place finish in the newly named Century Division of the Eastern Conference.

Opening the season with four straight wins and concluding it with four consecutive losses, the Giants finished with a 7-7 record in Allie Sherman's last season as head coach. End Homer Jones became only the second Giant, behind end

Del Shofner, to record 1,000 receiving yards or more in three successive seasons.

1969
The Giants lost, 37-14, to the New York Jets in the first of the annual preseason meetings. Former back Alex Webster replaced Allie Sherman as head coach. After losing seven games in a row, the Giants finished with three straight victories to capture second place in the Century Division with a 6-8 record.

1970
After losing their first three games, the Giants won six in a row, including an upset win over the first place Dallas Cowboys, 23-20. Heading into the final game of the season, the Giants were still in a position to make the playoffs, but they lost a home game against the Los Angeles Rams, 31-3, and were left out of the postseason with a 9-5 record. Running back Ron Johnson became the Giants first 1,000-yard rusher, totaling 1,027 yards.

1971
After a disappointing 4-10 finish in 1971, quarterback Fran Tarkenton asked for a trade. The Giants obliged and traded him back to the Minnesota Vikings for quarterback Norm Snead, two additional players and draft choices. Bob Tucker became the first tight end in Giants history to lead the league in receptions with 59 catches.

1972
Quarterback Norm Snead, obtained in the Fran Tarkenton trade, led the league in passing and the Giants finished above .500 for only the second time in nine years with an 8-6 record. On November 26, the Giants offense scored eight touchdowns against the Philadelphia Eagles, setting a Giants all time one-game scoring record. Kicker Pete Gogolak added a pair of field goals to bring the final score to 62-10.

1973
Prior to the final game of the season, head coach Alex Webster announced his retirement. New York lost the game 31-7 to the Minnesota Vikings to close out the year at 2-11-1. After two games at Yankee Stadium, the Giants played the rest of their home games at the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Connecticut.

1974
Bill Arnsparger was named the Giants ninth head coach. Quarterback Norm Snead was traded to the San Francisco 49ers. In addition, quarterback Craig Morton was obtained from the Dallas Cowboys. For the second straight season, the Giants won only two games and finished in fifth place in the NFC East with a 2-12 record.

1975
The Giants finished in fourth place in the NFC East with a 5-9 record. The team played all of its home games at Shea Stadium while they waited for Giants Stadium to open. DE George Martin made the team as an 11th round draft choice out of Oregon.

1976
Larry Csonka, the former Miami running back who had played in the World Football League, signed as a free agent. Snead was reacquired from San Francisco. The Giants moved to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey. Arnsparger was fired in midseason and replaced by assistant coach John McVay, who signed a long-term contract following the 3-11 season.

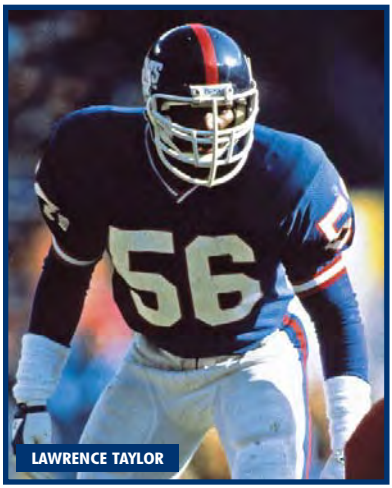

1977
Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.

1978
The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of its final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt were named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979
Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980
A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, the second-highest total in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12.

A highlight was a 38-35 defeat of Dallas that ended an eight-game losing streak. Dave Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

With the second selection in the draft. New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, before obtaining running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. The Giants lost three straight to drop to 5-6. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced an injured Phil Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 overtime defeat of Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982

A wild and turbulent year in which the NFL players' strike shortened the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout until late November, returning to play in just the final five games. On December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants – Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings – were named to the Pro Bowl.

After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an NFL record with 35 field goals.

With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants earned the NFC wild card playoff berth, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second place in the NFC East. Simms set three single-season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson–were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985

With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, 21-0. Five players—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall-were named to the Pro Bowl. There were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set a team records with 1,336 rushing yards and 21 touchdowns. Simms set club marks with 40 completions and 513 passing yards in a game. Marshall added another club mark with 15 1/2 QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

The club's first Super Bowl championship, an all-time final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set a record for all-time composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the 39-20 Super Bowl victory over Denver after completing a playoff record 88% of his passes (22-25). Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta, were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and the team set attendance records at home and on the road.

After winning the Super Bowl, the Giants dropped to a 6-9 record, thanks to an 0-5 start in a season that included a players strike and three games with replacement players. In addition, injuries sidelined 11 starters. While the Giants finished with six wins in its final ten games, it was a case of too little, too late. Despite the final record, four players—Lawrence Taylor, Carl Banks, Harry Carson and Mark Bavaro—were selected to the Pro Bowl and all four also were named to various All-NFL teams.

1988

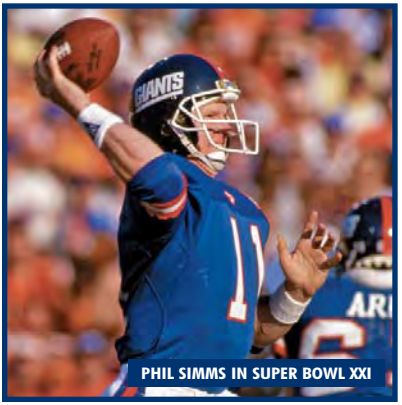

The Giants bounced back and after splitting the first six games, engineered a 7-2 run which had them all alone in first-place in the NFC East with a 10-5 record heading into the final weekend of the season. But an upset loss to the Jets not only knocked the Giants out of first-place, but also cost them a playoff berth. The Giants 10-6 record gave them a five-year mark of 54-32 (.628), including postseason play. Those 54 victories were the most in club history for any five-year span. Joe Morris set a club record with his third 1,000-plus rushing season and Lionel Manuel had his first 1,000-yard receiving year. Morris also surpassed Alex Webster as the Giants' career rushing leader, moving past the 5,000-yard plateau. Lawrence Taylor was named to his eighth straight Pro Bowl and All-NFL designation and safety Terry Kinard was selected for his first Pro Bowl appearance.

1989

Despite the loss of several starters due to injuries, the Giants won their second NFC East championship in four years with a 12-4 record. Ottis Anderson rushed for 1,023 yards at the age of 32 as the replacement for the injured Joe Morris and rookie David Meggett set club marks with 582 punt return yards and a 12.7 average, while also accounting for 1,807 all-purpose yards. Linebacker Lawrence Taylor equaled an NFL record by being named to his ninth consecutive Pro Bowl, and also ran his league record sack total to 104. Meggett also went to the Pro Bowl and scored a TD.

1990

The Giants started the season by winning its first ten games, and eventually won the division with a 13-3 record despite losing Phil Simms late in the year. With Jeff Hostetler at the helm, the club surged through the playoffs to win their second Super Bowl title with a stirring 20-19 win over the Buffalo Bills. Seven Giant players were named to the Pro Bowl, including Lawrence Taylor for a record-setting 10th straight year. Veteran running back Ottis Anderson won Super Bowl MVP honors after rushing for 102 yards. At season's end, the Mara family's sole ownership ended when Tim Mara sold his 50% share of the club to Preston Robert Tisch, who became Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer. In May, 1991, head coach Bill Parcells resigned after a career mark of 85-52-1 and was succeeded by offensive coordinator Ray Handley.

In Ray Handley's first year as head coach, the Giants were in contention for another playoff spot late in the year with a 7-5 record, then dropped three straight to finish at 8-8 and out of the playoffs. Jeff Hostetler became the starting quarterback, but was injured late in the season and Phil Simms finished the campaign. Simms added his 15th club record when he passed Charlie Conerly for career TD passes with 179. Rodney Hampton became the fourth back in club history to rush for 1,000 yards when he finished the year with

Ray Handley's team struggled through a 6–10 season as injuries to key players hurt the team. Phil Simms regained his starting quarterback spot, but was limited to starting the first four games before an elbow injury forced him to miss the rest of the season. Before his injury, Simms became just the 14th player in NFL history to surpass 30,000 passing yards. Jeff Hostetler started the next nine games before being forced to the sidelines with a concussion. In the ninth game of the season against Green Bay, Lawrence Taylor injured his Achilles tendon that placed his career in jeopardy. After announcing plans to retire following the season, Taylor re-considered and decided to re-join the Giants. RB Rodney Hampton turned in another outstanding season, rushing for 1,141 yards and earning his first trip to the Pro Bowl. After dismissing Handley, George Young hired former Denver Broncos head coach Dan Reeves to lead the team in 1993.

Dan Reeves and a rejuvenated Phil Simms led the Giants to an 11-5 regular season record. The Giants finished second to Dallas in the NFC East race, a race that was decided on the final Sunday of the regular season when Dallas defeated the Giants, 16-13, in overtime at Giants Stadium. Reeves became the first Giants head coach to lead his team to the playoffs in his initial campaign since Allie Sherman in 1963. Reeves was selected as NFL Coach of the Year by several organizations, including the Associated Press, which bases its honor on voting by coaches around the league. The Giants earned a wild card berth in the playoffs and defeated the Minnesota Vikings at Giants Stadium, 17-10, in the Wild Card game. San Francisco defeated the Giants, 44-3, at Candlestick Park in an NFC divisional playoff game. Following the San Francisco game, LB Lawrence Taylor announced his retirement, capping a 13-year career that altered the nature of the game. Taylor was elected into the Pro Football Hall of Fame at the conclusion of the 1998 season.

1994

After a 3-7 start, the Giants climbed back into playoff contention with a six-game winning streak that resulted in a 9-7 record. The Giants came into Week 16 needing a victory over the World Champion Dallas Cowboys, combined with a Tampa Bay Buccaneers victory over the Green Bay Packers, to win a wild card berth. The Giants defeated Dallas, 15-10, but the season ended when the Bucs lost to the Packers, 34-19. Dave Brown won the starting quarterback job in training camp and responded by leading the team to a 9-6 record in games that he started. Rodney Hampton finished the season with 1,075 yards to become the first Giant in history to record four career 1,000-yard seasons. The 1994 season was the first in many years that the Giants roster did not include Lawrence Taylor or Phil Simms. Taylor's jersey number 56 was officially retired at halftime of the Giants-Minnesota Monday Night game on Oct. 10. Simms was released on June 15, prior to the start of training camp.

The Giants concluded the 1995 season with a 5-11 record, their worst mark since 1983 when they were 3-12-1. The Giants lost seven games that were decided on the final drive of the game. In six of those games, the Giants were either tied or leading at some point in the fourth quarter. A highlight of the 1995 season was the play of Rodney Hampton, who turned in the best season of his six-year career with 1,182 yards rushing on 306 carries. Hampton became the Giants all-time leading rusher (5,989) on 10-29 at Washington on his third carry of the game, a workmanlike two-yard run for a first down. Phil Simms jersey number 11 was officially retired at halftime of the Giants-Dallas Monday Night game on Sept. 4, 1995.

For the first time since 1982-83, the Giants finished with a losing record in consecutive seasons as they closed out the 1996 campaign with a 6-10 record. Following the 23-22 defeat to New England in the season finale, the Giants dismissed head coach Dan Reeves. On January 15, the Giants hired Jim Fassel as the 15th head coach in the team's history. The Giants stood at 5-7 on December 1 after a 20-6 upset of the defending world champion Dallas Cowboys and headed into a game against the Philadelphia Eagles with a chance at the NFC playoff field. In one of the lowest moments of the year, the Giants were officially eliminated from playoff contention with a 24-0 loss to the Eagles. The Giants improved to 6-8 but dropped two consecutive home contests and secured a last place finish in the NFC East for the first time in a non-strike season since 1983. The Giants defense played solid all season, but the offense struggled, finishing last in the National Football League. The Giants ground game failed to generate a 100-yard rushing performer and averaged just 100.3 yards per game, the lowest non-strike total since the Giants had 100.3 in 1964. The Giants defense held the opposition to 10 points or less in six games and had a streak of 7.5 straight games (30 quarters) without allowing the opponent's offense a touchdown pass.

In his first season as head coach of the Giants, Jim Fassel led his team to a 10-5-1 record and the team's first NFC East Championship since the 1990 Super Bowl season. The Giants started the year with a 1-3 record before rebounding to become the 15th team in NFL history to finish in first place in their division the season after finishing in last place. The Giants finished the 1997 season with a 7-0-1 Division record to become the first team ever to go undefeated in NFC East Division play. Second-year QB Danny Kanell filled in for an injured Dave Brown and led the Giants to a victory over the Dallas Cowboys in Week Six. Kanell was eventually named the new starting quarterback and finished with a 7-2-1 record. His season was highlighted by a three-touchdown performance at Philadelphia in a key NFC East victory on December 7. The Giants defense blossomed into one of the NFL's strongest, finishing first in the league with a franchise-record 44 takeaways. The Giants defense led the league in interceptions with 27 and finished third in the NFL with 54 sacks. The season ended when the Minnesota Vikings overcame a 19-3 second half deficit to pull out a 23-22 victory at Giants Stadium in a Wild Card game. Fassel was named NFL Coach of the Year by numerous publications, including The Sporting News, which is determined by a vote of NFL coaches. Jessie Armstead set a team-record with 134 total tackles and was named a starter on the NFC Pro Bowl squad. DE Michael Strahan set a career-mark in sacks, finishing tied for third in the NFL with 14. Strahan was also named a starter for the NFC Pro Bowl squad. At the end of the season, George Young announced that he was leaving the Giants to become Vice President of Football Operations in the National Football League office. Ernie Accorsi was named the team's new General Manager.

After overcoming a 3-7 start, the Giants remained in the hunt for a playoff berth until the final week and finished with an 8-8 record. The Giants won five out of their last six games, including a 20-16 victory over the previously undefeated (13-0) and eventual Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos. Entering the final game, the Giants needed a victory over Philadelphia, combined with a Tampa Bay loss and an Arizona loss, to qualify as the third wild card participant in the NFC playoff field. The Giants beat the Eagles at Veterans Stadium, but the Buccaneers and Cardinals were victorious to spoil the Giants playoff hopes. Kent Graham replaced Danny Kanell at quarterback after the team fell to 3-7 and finished with a 5-1 record in the starting role. Gary Brown emerged as the Giants top running back, reaching the 1,000-yard mark with a career-best 1,063 yards that included six 100-yard games. Jessie Armstead and Michael Strahan were selected to represent the NFC in the Pro Bowl for the second straight season. Armstead eclipsed the 100-tackle mark for the third straight year with 101 tackles (75 solos). Strahan set a career-high with 15 sacks as he triggered a Giants defense that led the league with 54 sacks.

For the second straight year, the Giants entered the final week of the regular season with a chance to make the NFL's postseason field. The difference between the two seasons is that in 1998 the Giants won five of their last six games. In 1999, victories over the Jets and at Buffalo raised the Giants' record to 7-6; however, the Giants dropped their last three games to finish 7-9. It was the team's first losing season in three years under head coach Jim Fassel. The final blow was a 26-18 loss at Dallas, a game that followed the Giants' elimination from the playoff race with Green Bay's victory over Arizona earlier in the day. In spite of the obvious disappointment, a few bright spots emerged for the Giants in 1999. The Giants set records on offense, led by Amani Toomer, who established a team single-season record with 79 receptions (breaking Earnest Gray's record of 78 receptions set in 1983). Toomer fell 26 yards shy of the team record of 1,209 receiving yards, set by Homer Jones in 1967. Also, for the first time in the 75-year history of the team, the Giants had four receivers record over 50 receptions in a season: Toomer (79), Ike Hilliard (72), Tiki Barber (66), and Pete Mitchell (58). Jessie Armstead and Michael Strahan were selected to represent the NFC in the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive season. Armstead surpassed the 100-tackle mark for the fourth straight year with 124 tackles (97 solos) and recorded a career-high 9.0 sacks. Strahan recorded 56 tackles (41 solos) and posted 5.5 sacks. QB Kerry Collins started the final six games of the season after replacing Kent Graham in the lineup following the 10th game.

The Giants enjoyed their finest season in a decade, winning the NFC East and home-field advantage in the playoffs with a 12-4 record before defeating Philadelphia and Minnesota to advance to Super Bowl XXXV. The highlight of the season was a 41-0 victory over Minnesota in the NFC Championship game at Giants Stadium. In their first Super Bowl appearance in 10 years, the Giants lost to Baltimore, 34-7. The Giants took a seven-game winning streak into the Super Bowl, a surge that began after Jim Fassel issued his now-famous playoff guarantee on November 22. The Giants finished 7-1 in the division and 7-1 away from Giants Stadium. The seven road victories tied a franchise record set in 1930 (when three of the road games were in Newark, Staten Island and Brooklyn) and marked the first time since 1963 that the Giants lost just one game as visitors. The Giants averaged 125.6 rushing yards a game, a robust 37.5-yard gain over the 1999 average. Quarterback Kerry Collins was sacked 28 times; in 1999 Giants quarterbacks were sacked 42 times. Collins had the best season of his career, setting career highs in passes (529), completions (311), completion percentage (58.8) and touchdown passes (22). Halfback Tiki Barber set a Giants record of 2,085 all-purpose yards (1,006 rushing, 719 receiving, 332 punt returns and 28 on kickoff returns). Amani Toomer caught 78 passes (one less than the franchise record he set in 1999. Ike Hilliard led the team with a 14.3-yard average and eight touchdown catches. The defense was second in the NFL against the run (72.3 yards a game) and fifth in points allowed (15.4 per game). In 359 rushing attempts, opponents had an NFL-best two runs of longer than 20 yards. Jessie Armstead led the team with 102 tackles – his fifth consecutive season with more than a hundred tackles – and was selected to his fourth straight Pro Bowl. Defensive tackle Keith Hamilton had the best season of his nine-year career. He was a dominating run-stopper and he led the Giants with 10 sacks, an impressive feat for a tackle. Defensive end Michael Strahan had perhaps his finest all-around season and raised his sack total from 5.5 in 1999 to 9.5.

After a strong 3-1 start, the Giants lost eight of their last 12 games and finished 7-9 and in third place in the NFC East, the third time in as many tries they failed to make the playoffs a season after reaching the Super Bowl. The terrorist attacks in New York and Washington on Sept. 11 – the day after the Giants lost their Monday night opener in Denver – made the rest of season a minor footnote by comparison. After the attacks, many players reached out to victims' families, firefighters, police officers and other rescue workers and their children. Despite the disappointing record, the season included many highlights, notably Michael Strahan setting a new NFL single-season record with 22.5 sacks. Kerry Collins became the first quarterback in league history to throw every one of his team's passes in two consecutive seasons. Collins set team marks for passes (568) and completions (327). Tiki Barber accounted for 1,782 total yards, Mike Barrow set a team record with 135 tackles, Morten Andersen became the second-leading scorer in NFL history, Howard Cross set a new franchise record for games played (207), Amani Toomer caught more than 70 passes for the third season in a row, rookie Rodney Williams established a team record with a 90-yard punt against the Broncos and Jessie Armstead played in his fifth consecutive Pro Bowl (and was joined in Hawaii by Strahan and Ron Stone). Although they struggled with two three-game losing streaks, the Giants thrilled their fans with scintillating last-second victories over Dallas (in overtime), Arizona and Seattle. After the defeat in Denver – and a week off after the NFL's decision not to play the Sunday after the attacks – the Giants won three straight, against Kansas City, New Orleans and Washington. The winning streak was followed by consecutive heartbreaking 1-point losses to St. Louis and Philadelphia, and a defeat at Washington. The Giants then rebounded with victories over Dallas and Arizona before again dropping three straight, to Minnesota, Oakland and Dallas. They played their way back into playoff contention with dramatic triumphs over Arizona and Seattle, but closed the season with losses to Philadelphia and Green Bay.

An exciting and rewarding season concluded with the Giants winning their final four regular season games to finish 10-6 and in second place in the NFC East. More importantly, they earned a Wild Card berth in the NFC playoffs, where they lost a heartbreaking 39-38 game to the San Francisco 49ers. But the game did not diminish the season's many team and individual achievements. The Giants made their 26th appearance in the playoffs, tying them with the Dallas Cowboys for the most postseason appearances in NFL history. They finished the regular season ranked sixth in the NFL in total offense, with 364.1 yards a game. It was their highest ranking and most yards per game since the 1985 Giants finished fifth in total offense with 367.8 yards a game. The Giants improved to 19-5 in regular season December games under Jim Fassel. Many individuals enjoyed outstanding seasons. Kerry Collins completed 335 passes, a Giants record, and was 1st in the NFC and 4th in the NFL with 4,073 passing yards, breaking the previous team record of 4,044, set by Phil Simms in 1984. Collins completed 61.5 percent of his passes, a career-high and the third-best percentage in team history. Tiki Barber was 4th in the NFL and 1st in the NFC with 1,984 yards from scrimmage (1,387 rushing and 597 receiving). He rushed for 1,387 rushing yards, the second-highest total in team history after Joe Morris' 1,516 yards in 1986. Amani Toomer set team records with 82 receptions for 1,343 yards and established a career-high with eight touchdown catches. Pro Bowler Jeremy Shockey caught 74 passes, the fifth-highest total in Giants history, and a team record for both rookies (shattering the mark of 48 set by Bobby Johnson in 1984) and tight ends (eclipsing the 66 passes Mark Bavaro caught in 1986). Michael Strahan was selected to his 4th Pro Bowl in 5 years and from Sept. 22 through Dec. 1, he had at least a half-sack in 10 consecutive games, tying the NFL record set by Denver's Simon Fletcher in 1991 and tied by Tennessee's Jevon Kearse in 1999.

The Giants endured one of their most unpleasant seasons in recent memory, losing their last eight games to finish 4-12. The Giants were 4-4 at midseason. In Game 9, they were tied at halftime with Atlanta, 7-7. But the Falcons scored 20 unanswered second-half points to send the Giants to a defeat from which they would never recover. The Giants finished the season 1-7 at home, the first time since 1983 they won a single home game. Despite their poor record, the Giants had several individual highlights. Michael Strahan led the NFL with 18.5 sacks, the second-highest total of his career, and became the first Giant to twice lead the league in sacks. For the second consecutive year, Strahan and tight end Jeremy Shockey were the only Giants selected to the Pro Bowl. Shockey became the first Giant to be selected to the Pro Bowl in each of his first two seasons since Taylor in 1981-82. Running back Tiki Barber had team-high totals of 1,216 rushing yards (the second-highest total of his career) and 69 receptions. He became the first Giant to lead the team in both rushing and receptions since Joe Dawkins in 1974. Barber finished the season as the franchise's all-time leader in total yards (10,746) and receptions (422) and is second in rushing (5,409 yards). Amani Toomer extended his own team record with his fifth consecutive 1,000-yard season. Quarterbacks Kerry Collins and Jesse Palmer combined to throw a franchise-record 616 passes in 2003. Right guard David Diehl became the first Giants rookie to start all 16 games since Mark Bavaro in 1985. He was one of 14 NFL rookies to start all 16 games in 2003. The team announced with two games remaining that Jim Fassel would not return as head coach. Fassel was replaced by Tom Coughlin on January 6, 2004.

A new era dawned in Giants Stadium in 2004 with the arrival of Tom Coughlin as the 16th head coach in franchise history. With Coughlin at the helm, the Giants revamped their roster and started the season 5-2. But the Giants couldn't sustain the momentum and lost eight consecutive games before winning the season finale against the Dallas Cowboys. The Giants finished in second place in the NFC East with a 6-10 record, a two-game improvement over their 2003 mark. Running back Tiki Barber set four significant team records and was selected to his first Pro Bowl. He finished first in the NFL with a Giants-record 2,096 yards from scrimmage. Barber was fifth in the league and second in the conference with a team-record 1,518 rushing yards, two more than Joe Morris' total in 1986. He set the record on a game-winning three-yard run with 11 seconds remaining in the finale against Dallas. Barber tied a career high by averaging 4.7 yards a carry. Barber rushed for at least 100 yards in nine games, breaking the team's previous single-season record of eight, set by Morris in 1986. Barber finished the season with 6,927 career rushing yards, eclipsing Hampton's former team record of 6,897. The Giants had other standout performers. Willie Ponder's averaged an NFL-best 26.9 yards on kickoff returns, the highest average by a Giant since Leon McQuay averaged 27.6 yards in 1974. The Giants finished first in the NFL with a 25.1-yard kickoff return average, the first time since 1953 they led the NFL in that statistical category. Ponder was the first Giant to lead the NFL in average kickoff return yardage since Clarence Childs in 1964. Jeremy Shockey led the Giants with 61 receptions to become the first tight end to top the team since Mark Bavaro had 55 catches in 1987. Bavaro had 55 catches that season. Shockey's team-leading six touchdown receptions were two more than he had in his first two seasons combined. Amani Toomer led the team's wide receivers with 51 catches for 747 yards. It was the sixth consecutive season Toomer had more than 50 receptions and 700 yards. Eli Manning, selected with the top pick in the 2004 draft and then acquired by the Giants in a trade, started the last seven games and finished the season with 95 completions in 197 attempts for 1,043 yards, six touchdowns and nine interceptions. Osi Umenyiora, a second-year defensive end, led the Giants with 7.0 sacks, six more than he had as a rookie. Linebacker Carlos Emmons led the team with 97 tackles (62 solo) and David Tyree had a team-high 23 special teams tackles.

The 2005 season was marked by soaring success and searing tragedy. The Giants finished 11-5 and earned their first playoff berth since 2002 and their first NFC East championship since 2000 before losing an NFC Wild Card Game to Carolina, 23-0. But the Giants' beloved owners, Wellington Mara and Bob Tisch, passed away within three weeks of each other, both from cancer. Mara, an NFL patriarch who was one of the most respected and influential figures in league history, and who had been with the Giants for their entire 81-year history, died on Oct. 25. Tisch, who purchased 50 percent of the franchise in 1991, was a business titan, renowned philanthropist and nonpareil New York City mover and shaker, died on Nov. 15. The Giants were only the fifth team in NFL history to have five different players score at least seven touchdowns. Tiki Barber scored 11, and Jeremy Shockey, Plaxico Burress, Amani Toomer and Brandon Jacobs scored seven apiece. The Giants had five players selected to the Pro Bowl, their largest contingent since the 1990 Super Bowl champions sent seven players to Hawaii. The Pro Bowlers were Barber, Shockey, Osi Umenyiora, Michael Strahan and David Tyree.

Barber had the greatest season by a running back in Giants history and was selected NFL Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated and a first-team All-Pro by the Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly. He was second in the NFL with a team-record 1,860 rushing yards, shattering the franchise mark of 1,518 he set in 2004. Barber also had 530 receiving yards to become the only player in NFL history with at least 1,800 rushing yards and 500 receiving yards in the same season. His 2,390 total yards were second-most in NFL history. St. Louis' Marshall Faulk had 2,429 yards in 1999 (1,381 rushing, 1,048 receiving). Barber led the NFL in runs of 20 or more yards (16), 40 or more yards (seven) and 50 or more yards (five). His 263 scrimmage yards at Oakland, 220 rushing yards against Kansas City and 95-yard run against the Raiders were all NFL single-game highs in 2005. Barber's 95-yard run at Oakland was the longest in Giants history and broke a record that stood for 75 years – Hap Moran's 91-yard run vs. Green Bay on Nov. 23, 1930.

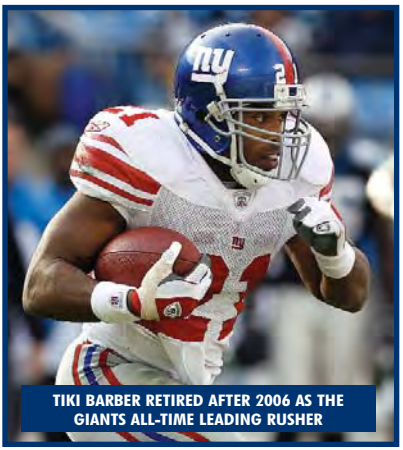

Eli Manning threw 557 passes this season, the second-highest total in team history. His 294 completions place him fourth on the Giants' career list and his 24 touchdown passes were the most by a Giant since Fran Tarkenton had 29 in 1967.

Jacobs was the first Giants rookie to score seven touchdowns since Bobby Johnson in 1984 and the first to rush for seven touchdowns since Bill Paschal ran for 10 scores in 1943.

Umenyiora was selected to his first Pro Bowl and was named first-team All-Pro by both the Associated Press and Pro Football Weekly. He was first in the NFC and second in the NFL with 14.5 sacks, the highest total by a Giants player other than Strahan since Hall of Famer Lawrence Taylor had 15 in 1989.

Strahan was third in the NFC with 11.5 sacks. He and Umenyiora combined for 26 sacks, the most by any pair of NFL teammates.

Jay Feely led all NFL kickers with a team-record and career-high 148 points, the first Giants kicker to hold the top spot since Dan Chandler in 1963 (106 points). Jeff Feagles played in all 16 games for the 18th consecutive season (third with the Giants). On Nov. 27 in Seattle, Feagles played in his 283rd consecutive game, a new NFL record. Former Minnesota defensive end Jim Marshall had held the old mark of 282 since retiring in 1979.

TIKI BARBER RETIRED AFTER 2006 AS THE GIANTS ALL-TIME LEADING RUSHER

WIREIMAGE

Tyree was selected to his first Pro Bowl despite missing three games with an elbow injury, the Giants' first special teams player chosen since Reyna Thompson in 1990.

The Giants finished 8-8 and earned their second consecutive postseason berth, the first time they accomplished that feat since 1989-90. The record was incongruously fashioned with a 3-5 home record and a 5-3 mark away from Giants Stadium.

Tiki Barber ended his record-setting career by rushing for 1,662 yards and catching 58 passes. Eli Manning was tied for fourth in the NFL with 24 touchdown passes. Tight end Jeremy Shockey led the team with 66 receptions and was voted to the Pro Bowl for the fourth time in his five-year career. Plaxico Burress caught 10 touchdown passes, the most by a Giant in 26 years, and was right behind Shockey with 63 catches. Linemen Chris Snee, David Diehl, Shaun O'Hara and Kareem McKenzie played solidly while missing just two games among them.

Defensively, middle linebacker Antonio Pierce led the Giants with 159 tackles (38 more than anyone else on the team), including 93 solo. He was selected to play in his first Pro Bowl as an injury replacement for Brian Urlacher. Safeties Gibril Wilson and Will Demps had 121 and 116 tackles, respectively, Osi Umenyiora led the team in sacks for the third consecutive year (despite missing five games) and tackle Fred Robbins had a solid all-around season.

On the debit side, the Giants were never at full strength in the second half of the season because several key players suffered injuries that forced them to go on injured reserve. The group included wide receiver Amani Toomer (knee),

The 2007 season was one of the most successful, rewarding and memorable in franchise history.

The Giants stumbled to a 0-2 start – then fell behind by two touchdowns at halftime of their third game – before beginning a remarkable turnaround. They rallied to win that game, 14 of their next 18 and concluded the season with an exhilarating and unforgettable 17-14 victory over the New England Patriots in Super Bowl XLII. It was one of the greatest upsets and most exciting championship games in the long history of the National Football League.

Eli Manning threw the game-winning 13-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress with just 35 seconds remaining, giving the Giants a victory over a New England team that entered the game with an 18-0 record, including a three-point win over the Giants in the regular season finale. After New England had taken a 14-10 lead with just 2:42 remaining in the fourth quarter, Manning completed five passes on an 83-yard drive – including a 32-yarder on the greatest play in Super Bowl history, when he slipped the dutches of the Patriots' pass rusher and threw down field to David Tyree, who somehow secured the ball against his helmet and away from safety Rodney Harrison.

Two days after bringing the Vince Lombardi Trophy back to the metropolitan area, the Giants were lauded by more than a million fans at a ticker tape parade up Manhattan's famed Canyon of Heroes, and later at a rally in Giants Stadium.

The Giants triumphed for the third time in four Super Bowl appearances, won their sixth title game and seventh overall championship. They won Super Bowls following the 1986, 1990 and 2007 seasons, NFL Championship Games in 1934, 1938 and 1956 and the league title in 1927, before the advent of championship games.

But this title was the most improbable of all. The Giants were just the fourth team to start a season 0-2 and reach the Super Bowl (and the third to win it). They finished the regular season at 10-6 and became the first six-loss team to win the Super Bowl since the 1988 San Francisco 49ers. The Giants won just three home games – none after October 21 – to become the first team with a losing home record to ever make the Super Bowl. The Giants were the fifth wild card team – and first from the NFC – to win the Super Bowl. They were the third team to reach the Super Bowl by winning three road playoff games, the second such team to win the Super Bowl and the first from the NFC. The Giants sent an NFL single-season record with 11 consecutive victories away from home (seven regular season, four postseason, including the Super Bowl). Many individuals enjoyed outstanding seasons, games or moments. Eli Manning started every game and threw for 3,336 yards and 23 touchdowns to become the first Giants quarterback since Phil Simms (1984-86) to top 3,000 yards and 20 touchdown passes in each of three consecutive seasons. Brandon Jacobs rushed for 1,009 yards despite missing five games and most of a sixth with injuries. Burress was unable to practice virtually the entire season because of an ankle injury, but led the team with 70 receptions for 1,025 yards and 12 touchdowns, the highest total by a Giants receiver since Homer Jones had 13 in 1967. Amani Toomer caught 59 passes and became the franchise's all-time leader in receptions with 620. The offensive line – and fullback Madison Hedgecock, acquired off waivers after he was cut by St. Louis - played well throughout the year, a big reason the Giants finished fourth in the NFL in rushing yards, averaging 134.3 a game.

Under new coordinator Steve Spagnuolo, the defense ranked seventh in the NFL, allowing 305.0 yards a game. The Giants led the NFL with 53.0 sacks and set a franchise record with 12 in a victory over Philadelphia on Sept. 30. Osi Umenyiora was third in the NFC and fifth in the NFL with 13.0 sacks and was the lone Giant voted to the Pro Bowl. Justin Tuck became a force on the defensive line and had 10.0 sacks. Michael Strahan, in the final season of his great career, added 9.0 sacks and moved to fifth on the NFL's career list with 141.5. Middle linebacker Antonio Pierce led the Giants with 116 tackles (63 solo). Corey Webster stepped up to play superbly in the playoffs. R.W. McQuarters has intercepted a pass in each of the first three postseason games.

The special teams also played well. Punter Jeff Feagles was one of the NFL's most effective punters in the 20th season of his remarkable career. Kicker Lawrence Tynes, acquired in an offseason trade with Kansas City, succeeded on 23 of 27 field goal attempts and booted the game-winning 47-yarder in overtime in the NFC Championship Game. Domenik Hixon, acquired off waivers in October, became the primary kickoff returner late in the season and brought one back 74 yards for a touchdown in the regular season game against the Patriots.

When the 2008 NFL season began, the Giants had the Vince Lombardi Trophy on display in their lobby and legions of skeptics and doubters who were convinced they had won it more through luck and timing than skill. A popular refrain was that the Giants had simply become a hot team at the right time in the 2007 playoffs. For evidence, the disbelievers cited the Giants' stirring Super Bowl XLII victory over the previously-undefeated New England Patriots. When it was time to make predictions for the 2008 season, most prognosticators placed the Giants second or third in the NFC East.

But the Giants proved them all wrong. No, they didn't win another Super Bowl. But they did capture the division title and the No. 1 seed in the NFC playoffs. They started the season 11-1 and winning 12 regular season games, they became only the fifth defending Super Bowl champion to win more games the season following a championship than they did on their way to winning the title (not counting the strike-shortened 1982 season).

The Giants achieved their success despite losing several key players from the 2007 championship team, including seven-time Pro Bowl defensive end Michael Strahan (retirement), two-time Pro Bowl defensive end Osi Umenyiora (knee injury suffered in the preseason), four-time Pro Bowl tight end Jeremy Shockey (traded to New Orleans) and wide receiver Plaxico Burress, (who did not play in the season's final month after he was wounded in an accidental shooting).

The day after the season ended with a loss to the Philadelphia Eagles in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game, Coach Tom Coughlin addressed many of the issues that had been raised in training camp.

"What I thought I would start with this morning is to think back to last spring and last summer when all of your questions concerned how this team would respond to winning the Super Bowl," Coughlin said. "Would they be, for lack of a better word, satisfied? Would they be as hungry coming into training camp and beyond training camp as they were in working our way to a Super Bowl championship? I think that our team responded and answered that question. I think we came out, we transitioned, we bridged from the Super Bowl year to the next season very well. Our competitiveness was there, our fire, our attempt to take the success of the Super Bowl season on into the next season was very successful. We were 11-1 and we did come out of camp and play very, very well for a very long time. We, of course, played well and the record stood for that. We didn't finish the season as well as we would have liked to, but I think we answered the questions of what this team was about."

"Twelve and five is not a bad season," general manager Jerry Reese said. "When you set the bar high like that and then all of sudden you get eliminated in the second round it stings. Overall, we had a real good season. It's not where we want it to be, but we said we wanted to be the organization that put our team in position to win the Super Bowl every year. For the last couple of years we have been able to put our team in position to do that. We fell short this time."

The loss to Philadelphia did not mitigate the achievements of a successful regular season. The Giants were one of only two teams to finish in the top nine in both the NFL's offensive and defensive rankings. They rushed for an NFL-leading and franchise record 2,518 yards and also topped the league with a Giants-best 5.0 yards per carry. The Giants were the first team since 1985 to have two running backs rush for 1,000 yards each (Brandon Jacobs and Derrick Ward).

Seven Giants were selected to the NFC Pro Bowl team: Quarterback Eli Manning, center Shaun O'Hara, guard Chris Snee, defensive end Justin Tuck, punter Jeff Feagles and kicker John Carney. Two weeks before the game, long-snapper Zak DeOssie was added as the NFC's need player.

Snee and Tuck were named first-team All-Pro by the Associated Press and fullback Madison Hedgecock, O'Hara and Carney finished second in the voting at their positions. O'Hara, Hedgecock and defensive tackle Fred Robbins were named first-team All-Pro by Sports Illustrated and O'Hara and Snee were selected to The Sporting News' All-Pro first team.

The Giants opened their season at home against NFC East rival Washington in the traditional Thursday night opener showcasing the previous season's Super Bowl champions.

Before the game, the Giants' three Super Bowl championship teams were honored during an inspiring and exciting pre-game ceremony that featured a surprise appearance by Michael Strahan.

A huge inflatable replica of the Lombardi Trophy was wheeled out to midfield as the stadium video boards showed highlights from Super Bowls XXI and XXV. Bob Papa, the voice of the Giants, then introduced the players from those teams that were in attendance: Hall of Famer Harry Carson, Stacy Robinson, Karl Nelson, Brad Benson, Bill Ard, Howard Cross, Rodney Hampton, Ottis Anderson, Carl Banks and Mark Bavaro.

"Giants Stadium, you thought I was never coming back," said Strahan, who had announced his retirement three months previously after 15 stellar seasons with the team. "But I had to come back to celebrate the championship with the greatest fans in all of sports. And for one final time, salute my teammates for an incredible championship run. So what I want you to do is, I want you to get on your feet, I want you to make some noise and I want you to be ready to stomp somebody out and welcome the New York Giants Super Bowl champions."

With that, the 79,742 fans in attendance screamed in delight as the 2008 Giants took the field for the first time. At the other end of the stadium, a championship banner was raised.

STADIUMS OF THE NEW YORK GIANTS

The Giants shared the Polo Grounds with the New York Baseball Giants from the time they entered the league in 1925 until they moved to the larger Yankee Stadium for the start of the 1956 season.

In 1973, the Giants announced plans to move to a new stadium in New Jersey for the 1976 season, and the city of New York announced that Yankee Stadium was planning a two-year renovation after the 1973 baseball season. The Giants were allowed to play their first two games of the 1973 season at Yankee Stadium before moving to a new location.

The Giants spent the offseason searching for a place to play their games. The Giants' first choice was the Yale Bowl, but the Yale Bowl representatives turned down the team's first request because it would have meant a blackout for the local schedule due to the blackout rule. The Giants' next choice was to play at Princeton University, but they also turned down the Giants. Things were so bad that when the league announced the 1973 schedule, it didn't even say where the games would be played. In light of the Giants' problems, Commissioner Pete Rozelle, with the help from national politicians, modified the blackout rule so that the rule was only in effect if the game was not sold out in advance. With the rule change came a change of heart by the Yale Bowl representatives. It was official. The Giants would play their first two games of the 1973 season at Yankee Stadium and would play the rest of the schedule and the 1974 season at the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Connecticut.

After the 1974 season, it was announced that the Giants were going back to New York City to play at Shea Stadium until the opening of Giants Stadium in 1976. The Giants played the first four games of the 1976 season on the road just in case there were any delays with the opening of the new stadium. The Giants made their debut at Giants Stadium on October 10, 1976 against the Dallas Cowboys before a sellout crowd.

In 2010, the Giants moved into a beautiful, new, state-of-the-art stadium built just a few yards from where Giants Stadium sat for more than three decades. The nation's finest football stadium, it seats 82,500 fans. It is one of the NFL's most technologically advanced stadiums and took more than four million man-hours and $1.6 billion to build. The stadium features 10,000 club seats, 222 suites and 130,000 square feet of state-of-the-art club lounges. The first row of seats is just 46 feet from the sidelines and the sightlines are superb. The site of Super Bowl XLVIII, Giants' new home is 2.1 million square feet, compared to Giants Stadium's 900,000 square feet. It has four 30' by 118' high definition video screens, a 350,000 square foot outdoor plaza filled with interactive activities for fans of all ages.

COMMEMORATIVE PATCHES

The Giants have celerated two major anniversaries by wearing uniform patches on its jerseys. The first was in 1999 for its 75th season, the second coming in 2004 commemorating 80 years.

Over the years, the team has honored deceased players and administrators by wearing memorial patches. In 1986, the team wore a patch in rememberance of Carl "Spider" Lockhart. In 2001, a "GBY" patch honored longtime general manager George Bernard Young. Most recently, Wellington T. Mara was remembered during the 2005 season with a "WTM" patch after his passing, and a few weeks later, Preston Robert Tisch was added to a patch with Wellington Mara separated by the NY logo.

The Giants honored Hall of Famer, player and coach, Rosie Brown with a "79" decal on the back of their helmets in after his passing in 2004.

In addition, the team has also worn patches in Super Bowls XXV and XLII. Those patches were representations of the NFL's Super Bowl logos for those years.

WELLINGTON MARA

CO-OWNER
FORDHAM

Wellington Mara, along with CB Mike Haynes, coach Don Shula and C Mike Webster, was a member of the four-man 1997 class of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Mara and his father Tim, who was the founder of the Giants and a charter member of the Hall of Fame, were the first father and son to be accorded pro football's highest honor. Mara was one of the most influential and beloved figures in American sports history. His entire working lifetime was dedicated to the Giants and the NFL and he helped the Giants produce 21 NFL/NFC first place finishes, 27 postseason appearances and six NFL championships during a 68-season tenure that began with his graduation from Fordham in 1937. Mara passed away on Oct. 25, 2005.

TIM MARA

FOUNDER
CHARTER ENSHRINEE IN 1963

Mara introduced the city of New York to pro football when he purchased the franchise for a reported $500 (others claim it was $2,500) in 1925, thus giving the National Football League a vital showcase in the nation's largest city. Mara withstood heavy financial losses his first year until the Giants were saved on the last home game of the season. Mara needed a good showing at the gate to keep the team alive. The most heralded college player of the era, Red Grange, showed up at the Polo Grounds as a Chicago Bear and helped draw a crowd of over 70,000 people to save the Giants. After seeing the crowd that formed, Mara decided that under the right circumstances, professional football could be a big success. Mara bore the brunt of the fight against the rival American Football League in 1926 and the All-American Football Conference from 1946-49. He helped build the Giants into a perennial powerhouse with three NFL and eight divisional titles. He was honored in 1963 as one of 17 charter members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Badgro joined the Giants in 1930 and played six seasons at end. He made a name for himself as a superior defender, excellent blocker and big-play receiver. Badgro helped lead the Giants to the NFL's first championship game in 1933. He scored the first touchdown in NFL Championship Game history in 1933. In the championship game, the Giants spotted the Chicago Bears a 6-0 lead on two field goals at Wrigley Field. The Giants took a 7-6 halftime lead when Badgro caught a 29-yard touchdown pass from QB Harry Newman in the second quarter. He tied for the NFL receiving title in 1934 with 16 receptions for 206 yards, including one touchdown. Badgro was named to the All-NFL team three times: 1931, 1933 and 1934. Before joining the Giants, Badgro played with the Red Grange-led New York Yankees in the American Football League (12 games in 1927 and one game in 1928). He played pro baseball for three season, the first with the Tulsa in the minor leagues and then with the St. Louis Browns for two seasons. Badgro has the distinction of being the oldest player ever to be elected into the Hall of Fame. He was 77 when he was enshrined in 1981.

ROOSEVELT BROWN

TACKLE
ENSHRINED IN 1975

Brown played for the Giants from 1953 through 1965 after joining the team as a 27th round draft choice, regarded as one of the greatest "sleeper" picks of all time. Brown held the starting tackle spot for 13 straight seasons. During that period, he was named to the Pro Bowl nine times and was an All-NFL eight straight seasons. In 1956, when the Giants won the championship game, Brown was named Lineman of the Year by the Associated Press. Brown was known as a big, fast blocker who could make the block downfield. He was also used along the defensive front on goal-line stands. Brown helped the Giants advance to the NFL Championship game in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1961, 1962 and 1963. After his playing career, Brown continued his Giants affiliation as a coach before being appointed as a scout, where he has served since the 1971 season. He was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants after a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966.

ROSIE BROWN IN 1953

LINEBACKER

Harry Carson played his entire 13-year NFL career with the New York Giants. An inside linebacker, he was selected to play in nine Pro Bowls, including seven in a row from 1982-88. Carson led the Giants in tackles six times, was a two-time All-NFL selection and was a leader throughout his career and the captain of the 1986 Super Bowl champions.

Carson joined the Giants as a fourth-round draft choice in 1976 from South Carolina State, where he never missed a game in four seasons, was a two-year captain and a Little All-America selection by the Associated Press. A defensive end in college, Carson successfully made the transition to linebacker with the Giants so quickly and so successfully that he was voted to NFL All-Rookie team.

Carson was a two-time first-team all-pro and a five-time second-team selection. He played 173 games in a Giants uniform – tying him with Keith Hamilton for seventh all-time – and he was a punishing run defender who also intercepted 11 passes. Carson had 17 sacks, 14 fumble recoveries and seven forced fumbles. He had 25 tackles (20 solo) in a Monday night game against Green Bay in 1982 and seven tackles in the Giants' 39-20 victory over Denver in Super Bowl XXI.

During his prime, Carson was the best run-stopping linebacker in the NFL. In the seven seasons from 1981 to 1987, Giants' opponents averaged only 3.59 yards per rushing attempt, a remarkable achievement for so long a period. During that period, Carson was credited with 856 tackles, including 627 unassisted tackles.

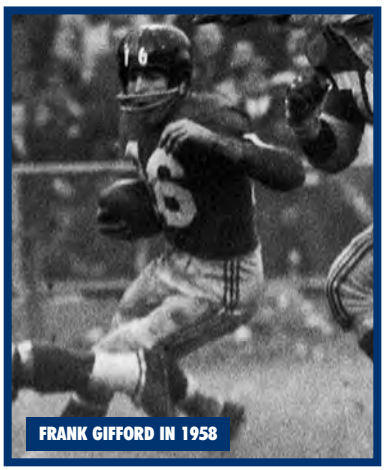

FRANK GIFFORD

HALFBACK, FLANKER
ENSHRINED IN 1977

Gifford played for the Giants from 1952-64, although he voluntarily retired in 1961 season due to a serious injury suffered the previous season. He was known as one of the most versatile backs in NFL history. Gifford was the first pick in the draft by the Giants in 1952 after an All-America career at Southern California. He totaled 9,862 combined yards during his career. Gifford's record includes 3,609 yards rushing, 367 receptions and 484 points. He was named to the Pro Bowl as a defensive back in 1953 and as an offensive back the following year - a first in NFL annals. Gifford played in seven Pro Bowls during his career and was named All-NFL four times and NFL Player of the Year in 1956. He holds the Giants team record with 78 touchdowns, and formerly held the marks for highest average gain (500 attempts) rushing (4.30) and most receiving yards (5,434). A real triple-threat in his halfback heyday, Gifford threw 14 touchdown passes in 60 attempts on the halfback option. He retired after the 1960 season and then decided to return in 1962 at a new position, flanker. The Giants reached the NFL Championship game five times during his career, including 1956, when they won the world championship.

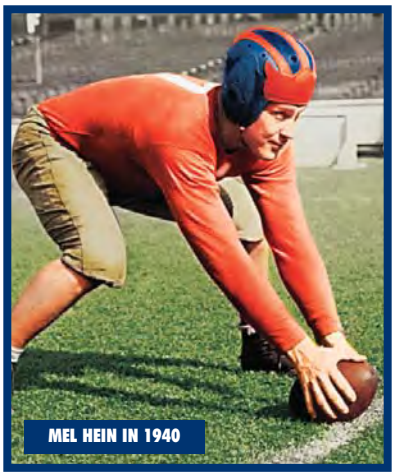

FRANK GIFFORD IN 1958

MEL HEIN

CENTER
ENSHRINED IN 1963

Originally joined the Giants in 1931 and played 15 seasons for the Giants, a record of team service that is matched by only Phil Simms. He was named All-NFL eight straight years from 1933-40. Following a successful college career at Washington State, Hein wrote to three NFL clubs offering his services. The Giants bid the highest at $150 per game. Hein was a 60-minute regular for 15 years, playing in 170 games. Hein never missed a game in the National Football League or in college and high school. He took time out only in two games and was injured only once. Hein was named the League's Most Valuable Player after anchoring a line that helped guide the Giants to the 1938 World Championship with a 23-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers at the Polo Grounds.

MEL HEIN IN 1940

GIANTS IN THE HALL OF FAME

CAL HUBBARD

TACKLE

Hubbard played for the Giants from 1927-28, and then again in 1936. He was one of 17 charter enshrinees into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1963. Hubbard was named All-NFL six years in a row from 1928-33. He played for the Green Bay Packers from 1929-35 and the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1936 before returning to the Giants. He was acquired before the start of the 1927 season in order to help beef up the Giants defense. That season the Giants defense surrendered only 20 points as the Giants captured their first NFL championship. He was acquired by the Green Bay Packers in 1929 in a move that would haunt the Giants, as Hubbard led the Packers to a 12-0-1 record in 1929, edging out the 13-1-1 Giants for the league title. The Packers handed the Giants their only loss of the season by a 20-6 score.

SAM HUFF

WEST VIRGINIA ENSHRINED IN 1982

Huff was originally drafted by the Giants in the third round in 1956 after an All-America career at West Virginia and became an immediate star as middle linebacker. He played in five Pro Bowls and was named All-NFL four years. Huff won recognition for his great individual efforts against the premier running backs of his era, Jim Brown of Cleveland, Rick Casares of Chicago and Alan Ameche of Baltimore. Huff was named Outstanding Lineman in the NFL for his play in 1959. He anchored a defense that helped the Giants reach the Championship game in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1961, 1962 and 1963. Huff was traded to the Washington Redskins before the start of the 1964 season and is currently a color analyst during Redskins radio telecasts.

TOM LANDRY

COACH

Landry played with the Giants from 1950-55 as a defensive back and was an assistant coach with the Giants from 1954-59. The Giants 1956 Championship team not only consisted of players that would eventually find their way to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, but it also had a Hall of Fame coaching staff. Head coach Jim Lee Howell's staff had Vince Lombardi coaching the offense and Landry coaching the defense. When the Dallas Cowboys entered the league in 1960, Wellington Mara recommended that the Cowboys hire Landry as head coach. Landry coached the Cowboys from 1960 through 1988 and led Dallas to two Super Bowl victories and five NFC titles. Landry coached the Cowboys to 20 consecutive winning seasons.

ALPHONSE (TUFFY) LEEMANS

HALFBACK, FULLBACK
G. WASHINGTON/ OREGON

Leemans played for the Giants from 1936-43. He was a second-round draft choice in the first-ever NFL draft in 1936 out of George Washington. Leemans was personally scouted by Giants co-owner Wellington Mara. Mara sent a telegram setting up a meeting with Leemans to convince him to accept a career in the NFL with the Giants. Leemans was the 1936 College Football All-Star game MVP. He led NFL rushers as a rookie in 1936 with 830 yards on 206 attempts. Leemans was named All-NFL in 1936 and 1939. An aggressive, dedicated do-everything team leader, he totaled 3,142 yards rushing, 2,324 yards passing, 442 yards receiving and threw 16 touchdown passes during his career.

VINCE LOMBARDI

Lombardi was head coach of the Green Bay Packers and the Washington Redskins after spending the 1954-58 seasons as an assistant with the Giants. Behind Lombardi's leadership running the offense, the Giants captured the League Championship in 1956. In 10 years as head coach, Lombardi had a 105-36-6 record, including five NFL titles and victories in Super Bowl I and Super Bowl II. He directed the Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-62 and 65-66-67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. A guard, Lombardi played his collegiate football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite."

STEVE OWEN

ENSHRINED IN 1966

A great defensive star of the 1920s, played for the Giants from 1926-31, plus a one-game return in 1933. He captained the 1927 team that won the National Football League title and held its foes to a record-low total of 20 points. Owen coached the Giants for 23 years. He was a co-coach with Benny Friedman in 1930, then assumed the full head coaching responsibility in 1931, a position he kept until 1953. Owens had a coaching record of 153-100-17, including eight divisional and two NFL title teams. Some of his coaching innovations include the A-formation offense, the umbrella defense and the two-platoon system. Owen went to college at Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma. After a year coaching at his alma mater following his graduation in 1921, Owen joined the Kansas City Blues in 1924. Two years later, the team changed its name to Cowboys. With the Giants, Owens was a four-time All-NFL tackle.

ANDY ROBUSTELLI

DEFENSIVE END ARNOLD COLLEGE ENSHRINED IN 1971

Robustelli was originally drafted by the Los Angeles Rams in 1951 and played on two Rams Championship teams. In 1956, Giants co-owner Wellington Mara orchestrated a trade for Robustelli, who provided a tremendous lift in the Giants title drive that season. Robustelli, who stayed with the Giants through the 1964 season, played on a winning team in 13 of his 14 pro seasons. During his career, he played in eight NFL title games and seven Pro Bowls. He was named All-NFL seven years, two with the Rams and five with the Giants. Was acknowledged as the field leader on a Giants defense that was largely responsible for the Giants participation in six championship games and winning the 1956 league title. He also served as a defensive player-coach. Robustelli was a durable player who missed only one game in his 14-year career.

KEN STRONG

HALFBACK
NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
ENSHRINED 1967

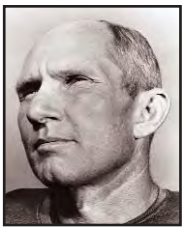

Strong played for the Giants from 1933-35, in 1939 and from 1944-47. He excelled in every phase of the game - blocking, running, passing, punting, placekicking and defense. At the time of his retirement, Strong was the Giants all-time leading scorer with 324 points on 13 touchdowns, 35 field goals and 141 extra points. He scored 17 points to pace the Giants to the 1934 title over the Chicago Bears in the famous "Sneakers Game." Strong scored a league-high 64 points in 1933 and was All-NFL in 1934. He began his career with the Staten Island Stapletons in 1932. After four seasons, he joined the Giants. In 1936, he began a two-year stint in the rival AFL. Strong served as a placekicking specialist only when he returned to the Giants from 1944 until 1947. He scored 479 points in his career.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR

Lawrence Taylor played for the Giants from 1981 through 1993 after joining the team as a first round draft pick in 1981. He finished his 13-year career as the No. 2 all-time quarterback sack leader in the NFL with 132.5. That total does not include the 9.5 he accumulated as a rookie in 1981 before the sack was an official NFL statistic. Taylor established an NFL record by appearing in 10 consecutive Pro Bowls from 1981-1990. He was named NFC's Defensive Player of the Week nine times during his career (since that recognition was initiated in 1984) and was the conference's Defensive Player of the Month twice, in October 1986, and again in September, 1989. In 1989 he was a unanimous choice to the NFL's All-1980s team. Taylor had the finest statistical season of his career in 1986 and it earned him unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player. That year, he had a career-high 20.5 sacks, 105 total tackles, five passes defensed and two forced fumbles. As a rookie in 1981, he set the tone for his Hall of Fame career as he earned every defensive and rookie postseason honor possible.

Y.A. TITTLE

QUARTERBACK
ENSHRINED IN 1971

The Giants engineered one of the most profitable trades in their long history prior to the 1961 season when they sent guard Lou Cordileone to the San Francisco49ers for Tittle. The then 35-year old Tittle promptly led the Giants to their 12th Eastern division championship. Tittle spent 11 seasons in the NFL and two seasons in the All-American Conference before coming to the Giants. In 1962, Tittle completed 200 passes in 375 attempts for 3,224 yards. His 33 touchdowns that season set an NFL record and his seven touchdown passes against the Washington Redskins tied another league mark. Tittle had his greatest year as a pro in 1963. He led the league in passing with 221 completions in 367 attempts for 3,145 yards. His 36 touchdown passes set a Giants single-season record that still stands. All told, Tittle had 2,427 completions, 33,070 yards, 242 touchdowns and 13 games with over 300 yards passing. He was the NFL Player of the Year in 1957 when he led the 49ers to a tie for the Western title, and won the same honor again in 1961 and 1963 as he took the Giants to eastern championships. Tittle was named All-NFL in 1957, 1962 and 1963, and also played in six Pro Bowls.

EMLEN TUNNELL

Tunnell was signed by the Giants as a free agent out of Iowa in 1948, and played for the team for 11 seasons. He also attended Toledo University. Ignored in the NFL draft, Tunnell walked into the Giants office and asked Tim Mara for a tryout. The Giants reached a milestone in their illustrious existence by signing Tunnell as their first black player. He holds the Giants team-records with 74 interceptions and 257 punt returns. In 1952, Tunnell gained more yards (923) on interceptions and kick returns than the NFL rushing leader did running the ball. He earned the nickname "offense on defense." Tunnell was named All-NFL four times and played in nine Pro Bowls.

ARNOLD WEINMEISTER

Weinmeister played for the Giants from 1950 through the 1953 season. He was one of the first defensive players to captivate the masses in the same manner a star running back or quarterback could. A big, extremely fast player with great ability to diagnose plays. Weinmeister began his pro career in the All-American Football Conference with the New York Yankees in 1950, and moved to the NFL during the 1950 merger. He played two ways in the AAFC, but was used exclusively on defense in the NFL.

OTHER HALL OF FAMERS WITH GIANTS EXPERIENCE

FULLBACK
ENSHRINED IN 1987

Csonka played for the Giants from 1976-78. He was originally drafted by the Miami Dolphins in the first round in 1968. He left the Dolphins following the 1974 season and played for the Memphis Southmen of the World Football League in 1975. He returned to the Dolphins to finish his career in 1979. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Csonka put together three consecutive 1,000-yard seasons (1971-73) as Miami advanced to the Super Bowl each year. He shined in those Super Bowls, averaging 6.3 yards a carry and going over 100 yards rushing in two of them. His career rushing totals in the NFL, which place him 19th on the league's all-time rushing list, are: 1,891 carries for 8,081 yards (4.3 average) and 64 TDs.

RAY FLAHERTY

END, COACH

Flaherty played for the Giants from 1928-29 and 1931-35 and helped the Giants advance to the NFL Championship game in 1933, 1934 and 1935. He spent the 1930 season coaching at Gonzaga. Flaherty finished with an 80-37-5 record as a coach with the Boston Redskins, Washington Redskins, New York Yankees and Chicago Hornets. He introduced the screen pass in the 1937 title game when the Washington Redskins scored a 28-21 victory over the Chicago Bears. Flaherty also played for the Los Angeles Wildcats and the New York Yankees. He suggested to coach Steve Owen that the Giants wear sneakers in the icy conditions at the Polo Grounds in the 1934 championship game, known as the "Sneakers Game."

BENNIE FRIEDMAN

QUARTERBACK

Benny Friedman, a two-time All-America quarterback at Michigan, played with the Cleveland Bulldogs (1927), Detroit Wolverines (1928), New York Giants (1929-1931), and the Brooklyn Dodgers (1932-1934). When he turned pro, the college football sensation was greeted with fanfare that was exceeded only by the media attention given future Hall of Fame halfback Red Grange when he turned pro in 1925. A versatile player and field general, Friedman could run, kick, and most importantly pass the ball better than any player who preceded him and for many years better than those who followed him. From 1927 through 1930 Benny tossed 11, nine, 20, and 13 touchdown passes, leading the league each year. In 1928, he led the league in both rushing touchdowns and touchdown passes; no other player has ever accomplished that. His 20 touchdown passes in 1929, including four in one game, were both NFL records for years. Following the 1928 season New York Giants owner Tim Mara purchased the Detroit franchise just to secure the services of Friedman. Although very durable, a knee injury coupled with the rigors of serving as an assistant coach at Yale, Friedman's productivity dropped in 1931. Still the player-coach managed to earn third-team All-NFL honors that year and second-team All-NFL honors in 1933.

JOE GUYON

HALFBACK

Guyon played for the Giants during the championship season in 1927. His career highlight was catching a touchdown pass that gave the Giants a win over the Bears for the 1927 NFL Championship. He also played for the Canton Bulldogs in 1920, the Cleveland Indians in 1921, Oorang Indians from 1922-23, the Rock Island Independents in 1924 and the Kansas City Cowboys from 1924-25.

Henry played for the Giants during the championship season in 1927. He was the largest player of his time at 250 pounds. Henry was the bulwark of the Canton Bulldogs' championship lines in the 1920s. He played for the Canton Bulldogs and the Pottsville Maroons in addition to the Giants.

ARNIE HERBER

QUARTERBACK

Herber played for the Giants in 1944 and 1945. Pro football's first great long passer, Herber was the NFL passing leader in 1932, 1934 and 1936. Herber left retirement in 1944 to lead the Giants to the NFL Eastern crown. He also played for the Green Bay Packers from 1930-40, and ranks fifth in Packers annals with 64 career touchdowns.

DON MAYNARD

WIDE RECEIVER

Maynard played for the Giants in 1958. He went on to play for the New York Titans from 1960-62, the New York Jets from 1963-72 and the St. Louis Cardinals in 1973. At the time of his retirement, Maynard was the all-time leading receiver in NFL history. He caught 633 passes for 11,834 yards (18.7) and 88 touchdowns. Maynard's yardage still ranks fourth all-time and his number of catches is seventh. He had at least 50 catches and 1,000 yards in five different seasons. Maynard caught eight passes for 118 yards, including the winning touchdown, against Oakland in the AFL Championship game to help the Jets advance to Super Bowl III.

HUGH McELHENNY

HALFBACK

McElhenny played for the Giants in 1963 and helped the Giants advance to the championship game that season. His career totals include 5,281 yards rushing and 360 points. On his first play as a professional, McElhenny scored on a 40-yard touchdown run. He also played with the San Francisco 49ers from 1952-60, the Minnesota Vikings from 1961-62 and the Detroit Lions in 1964.

FRAN TARKENTON

QUARTERBACK

Tarkenton played for the Giants from 1967-71. Originally with the Minnesota Vikings in 1961, he moved to the Giants in 1967 and back to the Vikings in 1972 in stunning trades. He retired as the NFL's record holder for career passing yards with 47,003. An elusive scrambler, Tarkenton rushed for 3,674 yards and 32 touchdowns. A four-time All-NFL and nine-time Pro Bowl selection, he led the Vikings to Super Bowl appearances in 1973, 1974 and 1976.

JIM THORPE

HALFBACK

Thorpe played for the Giants during their first season in 1925. He was a charter enshrinee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1963. Thorpe was the biggest name in football at the time that the Giants signed him at the age of 37. He also played for the Canton Bulldogs, Cleveland Indians, Oorang Indians, Toledo Maroons, Rock Island Independents and the Chicago Cardinals. He was the first president of the American Professional Football Association in 1920.

GIANTS ALL-TIME ROSTER

This list is comprised of players who have been on the Giants' game-day active roster for at least one game. It does not mean they actually played in a game, but only that they were on the active roster on the day of game, even if they were inactive for that particular game. It also includes players who were on injured reserve and the physically unable to perform list and did not appear in a game. This list was compiled with the assistance of John Berti.

NFL CHAMPIONS

Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in," Owen would say later. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spearheaded a goal line defense which held the Bears out of the end zone. Hinkey Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain that set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara and the Giants.

 Victory clinched the NFL Championship- there was no Championship game in 1927.

Giants dominated first half with 6-0 edge, then yielded last-second TD after costly interception...Regained lead at 13-7, only to have Rams knot it and send it into OT. Borderline pass interference call in overtime led to winning Rams' TD.

NFC Divisional Playoff
Jan. 13, 1991 at Giants Stadium (77,025)

After jumping to an early 10-0 lead, the Giants' defense did a strangulation job on the Bears' vaunted rushing attack, limiting the visitors to just 27 total rushing yards and zero first downs... Jeff Hostetler hit on just 10 pass completions for 112 yards, but two went for TDs and he scored another on a 3-yard run in his first-ever playoff action... Giants also had a pair of interceptions by Mark Collins and Everson Walls to complete the rout.

NFC Championship
Jan. 20, 1991 at Candlestick Park (65,750)

One of the most exciting championship games in Giants history as the Big Blue blunted the Niners quest for a third straight Super Bowl on Matt Bahr's 42-yard FG at the gun...Key plays included Erik Howard's jarring tackle on Roger Craig which produced a fumble, recovered by Lawrence Taylor with just 2:36 left to play, and a 30-yard run on a fake punt by LB Gary Reasons that set up a FG to close the gap to 13-12 midway through the final period... Bahr booted an NFC championship record five FGs in the fray and DE Leonard Marshall won Defensive Player of the Week honors with four tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles, with one of the sacks a hellacious hit on Joe Montana that knocked him out of the game with multiple injuries.

WORLD CHAMPIONS

As if the Giants' NFC title win over the 49ers was not exciting enough, this Super Bowl championship win over the Bills was every bit as thrilling and, in fact, has been called the best Super Bowl game ever...Gutsy Giants bounced back from a 12-3 deficit to take a 17-12 lead after a Super Bowl record 9:29 drive in the third period, gave up a go-ahead Bills' TD, and then won it when Matt Bahr drilled a 21-yard FG late in the game and when his counterpart, Scott Norwood of the Bills, misfired on a 47-yard attempt with four seconds left...Ottis Anderson rushed for 102 yards and won the MVP Award as the Giants also set an all-time Super Bowl record with 40:33 possession time.

NFC Wild Card Game
Jan. 9, 1994 at Giants Stadium (75,089)

It was Giants football Dan Reeves' style, as the Giants won the toss and elected to defend the east goal, taking the wind (17 mph at kickoff) in the first quarter. The Giants scored on their first possession, a PK David Treadwell 26-yard FG, but the Vikings took a 10-3 halftime lead on a Jim McMahon-to-Cris Carter 40-yard TD pass and a PK Fuad Reveiz 36-yard FG. Giants RB Rodney Hampton exploded in the third quarter, scoring on runs of 51 and 2 yards. Hampton finished the day with 161 yards on 33 carries to tie the team postseason marks in each category. The Giants defense did not allow Minnesota to run a single play inside the Giants 20-yard line all day.

NFC Divisional Playoff Game
Jan. 15, 1994 at Candlestick Park (67,143)

The '49ers ended the Giants' season in dominant fashion as SF scored on its first three possessions for a 16-0 lead. The Giants only score of the day came on a PK David Treadwell 25-yard FG in the second quarter, but the Giants trailed at the half, 23-3. After allowing just seven rushing TDs the entire regular season, the Giants defense watched SF RB Ricky Watters set an NFL postseason single-game record as he scored five rushing TDs. Watters rushed for 118 yards on 24 carries, while Giants RB Rodney Hampton rushed for just 12 yards. The game marked the end of Giants LB Lawrence Taylor's 13-year career as he announced his retirement following the game. The 44 points were the most ever allowed by the Giants in a postseason game.

Dec. 27, 1997 at Giants Stadium (77,710)

In a stunning collapse, the Giants watched a nine-point lead evaporate in the final two minutes of the game as the season ended in a 23-22 loss to Minnesota. The Giants were in front, 22-13, at the two-minute warning, but the Vikings were at the Giants 49-yard line following a 26-yard punt by P Brad Maynard. Vikings QB Randall Cunningham completed a 19-yard pass to WR Cris Carter to get the Vikings to the Giants 30-yard line with 1:38 left to play, and then he completed a 30-yard touchdown pass to WR Jake Reed to close the gap to 22-20. Minnesota executed an onside kick on the ensuing kickoff that bounced off WR Chris Calloway and into the hands of Minnesota WR Chris Walsh at the Vikings 39. Faced with a third-and-four situation, Cunningham fired a slant pass to Carter, who turned the play into a 21-yard gain to the Giants 34-yard line. A pass interference call gave the Vikings a first down at the Giants 21 with 50 seconds left. Vikings RB Robert Smith ran up the middle for 16 yards to the Giants five to set up PK Eddie Murray's game-winning 24-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining for a 23-22 Vikings lead.

The Giants won their ninth consecutive game against Philadelphia without scoring an offensive touchdown, thanks to a dominant defensive performance. Rookie Ron Dixon gave the Giants an instant lead when he returned the opening kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown. The Giants increased their lead to 10-0 on Brad Daluiso's 37-yard field goal on the first play of the second period. Jason Sehorn made it 17-0 when he scored on a spectacular 32-yard interception return in which he fell to the ground while tipping the ball in the air, then jumped up and grabbed the ball before racing to the end zone. Daluiso later added a 25-yard field goal. The Giants defense held Philadelphia to 186 total yards (46 on the ground) and 11 first downs.

In one of the most dominant performances ever in a championship game, the Giants raced to a 34-0 halftime lead and crushed the Vikings to advance to their first Super Bowl in 10 years. The Giants rolled up 518 total yards and 31 first downs, while the defense limited Minnesota's heralded attack to 114 yards and nine first downs. Quarterback Kerry Collins played the finest game of his career, completing 28 of 39 passes for 381 yards and five touchdowns. Ike Hilliard caught 10 passes for 155 yards and two scores. Collins' 46-yard pass to Hilliard gave the Giants a 7-0 lead just four plays into the game. After the Giants recovered a Minnesota fumble on the ensuing kickoff, Collins hit Greg Comella for another score and a 14-0 lead. In the second period, Joe Jurevicius and Hilliard caught touchdown passes and Brad Daluiso kicked a pair of field goals. Amani Toomer closed out the scoring with a 7-yard touchdown reception. Super Bowl XXXV
at Raymond James Stadium (71,921)

For the first time in three Super Bowl appearances the Giants came up flat and lost to the Ravens. The Giants could not get untracked against Baltimore's highly-rated defense, gaining only 152 yards (66 on the ground) and picking up 11 first downs (2 rushing). Quarterback Kerry Collins struggled, completing only 15 of 39 passes for 112 yards and four interceptions. Brad Maynard punted a Super Bowl-record 11 times for a 38.4-yard average. The Giants defense played well, limiting the Ravens to 244 yards and 13 first downs. Baltimore took a 7-0 lead in the first period on a 38-yard pass from Trent Dilfer to Brandon Stokley. Matt Stover added a 47-yard field goal in the second period for a 10-0 halftime lead. The Ravens advantage grew to 17-0 when Duane Starks intercepted a Collins pass and returned it 49 yards for a touchdown early in the third period. The Giants responded with their only touchdown of the day, on Ron Dixon's 97-yard kickoff return. But Baltimore immediately scored on the next kickoff, as Jermaine Lewis returned it 84 yards for a score and a 31-7 lead. Jamal Lewis, who rushed for 102 yards, scored on a 3-yard run and Stover kicked a 34-yard field goal in the fourth period.

2002- 49ERS 39, GIANTS 38

NFC Wild Card Game
Jan. 5, 2003 at Candlestick Park (66,318)

The Giants' season ended with a shocking and heartbreaking defeat as they wasted a 38-14 third-quarter lead and fell to the 49ers. Four touchdown passes by Kerry Collins – three to Amani Toomer and one to Jeremy Shockey – a touchdown run by Tiki Barber and Matt Bryant's field goal gave the Giants what seemed to be a commanding 24-point lead with 4:27 left in the third quarter. But the 49ers mounted a quick and complete comeback. Terrell Owens caught a 26-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Garcia, who then ran 14 yards for another score. Jeff Chandler's 25-yard field goal pulled San Francisco to within 38-33. With 1:00 remaining, Garcia threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Tai Streets. The 2-point conversion attempt failed, but the Niners had a 1-point lead. The Giants had a chance to pull the game out. After Delvin Joyce's 32-yard kickoff return, the Giants drove from their own 48-yard line to the San Francisco 23. Matt Bryant lined up for what could have been the game-winning 41-yard field goal. But Trey Junkin's snap was low and wide. Holder Matt Allen took off and threw a desperation pass toward Rich Seubert, a guard who was an eligible receiver on the play. Seubert was interfered with by Chike Okeafor, but the officials did not throw a flag and the game ended as a huge disappointment for the Giants.

2005- PANTHERS 23, GIANTS 0

NFC Wild Card Game
Jan. 8, 2006 at Giants Stadium (80,242)

The Giants lost a playoff game in Giants Stadium for just the third time when they fell to the Carolina Panthers, 23-0. Carolina dominated the game, holding big advantages in offensive plays (71-35), time of possession (42:45-17:15), first downs (23-9), total yards (335-132) and rushing yards (223-41). The Giants hurt themselves with five turnovers, including three Eli Manning interceptions on consecutive possessions in the second half (two by Marlon McCree and one by Ken Lucas). Manning also fumbled late in the game. The Giants converted just one of seven third-down opportunities. Steve Smith caught a touchdown pass and ran in for another score and John Kasay kicked three field goals for the Panthers. DeShaun Foster rushed for 151 yards on 27 carries, a 5.6-yard average that was reflective of the Giants' tackling difficulties throughout the game. Jake Delhomme completed 15 of 22 passes for 140 yards. Smith had 10 of those receptions. For the Giants, Tiki Barber rushed for 41 yards, or 75 yards less than his regular season average. Manning completed 10 of 18 passes for 113 yards and was sacked four times. Jeremy Shockey, Amani Toomer and Barber had three catches apiece. Smith scored the game's first points on a 22-yard touchdown reception. Later in the second quarter, a Carolina punt bounced off Gibril Wilson's leg and was recovered by the Panthers, setting up Kasay's 21-yard field goal. Smith scored on a 12-yard reverse immediately following Manning's first interception and Kasay added two fourth-quarter field goals.

NFC Wild Card Game
Jan. 7, 2007 at Lincoln Financial Field (69,094)

David Akers' 38-yard field goal as time expired sent the Giants to a second Wild Card game defeat in as many seasons, 23-20, to the Eagles in Philadelphia. The Giants overcame a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit to tie the score, but couldn't prevent the Eagles from driving 46 yards in the final 5:04 for the game-winning score. Tiki Barber rushed for 137 yards in his final NFL game, Eli Manning completed 16 of 27 passes for 161 yards and Plaxico Burress had two touchdown receptions. The Giants also got a pair of field goals from Jay Feely. The Eagles scored on a 49-yard touchdown run by Brian Westbrook, Jeff Garcia's 28-yard touchdown pass to Donte Stallworth and three Akers field goals. Akers' 48-yard field goal – the longest in Philadelphia postseason history – increased the Eagles' advantage to 20-10 with 2:37 remaining in the third quarter. Feely's 24-yard field goal pulled the Giants to within 20-13 just 10 seconds into the fourth quarter. They tied the game at 20-20 when Eli Manning found Burress in the end zone for an 11-yard touchdown pass with 5:04 remaining. Burress' second touchdown capped a 13-play, 80-yard drive in the rain that took 7:09 to complete. The Giants needed a stop so they could get the ball back and try to win a game. But they never owed the ball again. Westbrook's 13-yard run gave Philly a first down on the Giants' 19-yard line with 1:48 remaining. From there, the Eagles bled the clock until they called timeout with three seconds left. Akers then booted the game-winner.

2007- GIANTS 24, BUCCANEERS 14

Jan. 6, 2008 at Raymond James Stadium (65,621)

Before the Giants opened postseason play in an NFC Wild Card Game at Tampa Bay, Tom Coughlin had a simple message for his players: "Let's keep playing." So they did. Carrying their season-long road success into the playoffs, the Giants prevailed, 24-14, over the NFC South champion Buccaneers. They broke a four-game postseason losing streak that began in Super Bowl XXXV – in Raymond James Stadium, the home of the Bucs. The Giants also won their first playoff road game since the 1990 NFC Championship Game in San Francisco. They defeated Bucs quarterback Jeff Garcia, who had beaten them in the playoffs with the 49ers in 2002 and Philadelphia in 2006. Brandon Jacobs scored two touchdowns for the Giants, one on a five-yard reception, the other on an eight-yard run. Jacobs became the first Giants player in history with a rushing and receiving touchdown in the same postseason game. Amani Toomer caught a touchdown pass and Lawrence Tynes kicked a 25-yard field goal for the Giants. Eli Manning completed 20 of 27 passes for 185 yards, the two touchdowns and no interceptions as the Giants won a postseason game for the first time with him taking the snaps. The Giants entered the game with a minus-nine turnover differential, or minus-24 relative to the Bucs' plus-15. Yet they had three takeaways to none for the Bucs. The first, a fumble recovery by Corey Webster on the second-half kickoff, led to Tynes' field goal. The second, a Webster interception in the end zone, likely denied the Bucs points. The third, a pick by R.W. McQuarters with 1:53 remaining, sealed the deal. The Giants played without center Shaun O'Hara (knee) and cornerback Sam Madison (abdominal). But Grey Ruegamer and Webster filled in superbly (the corner holding Joey Galloway to one nine-yard reception). They were among a large cast of key contributors. Toomer had a game-high seven catches for 74 yards. Rookie Ahmad Bradshaw came off the bench to rush for a game-high 66 yards. Michael Strahan had a career postseason high of nine tackles (eight solo). Gerris Wilkinson, who started for Kawika Mitchell (knee) had seven tackles (five solo). Tank Daniels had two special teams tackles and forced the fumble that Webster recovered. Zak DeOssie also had two special teams tackles. The offensive line allowed only one sack. Tampa Bay took an early lead on Earnest Graham's one-yard run, but Jacobs' two touchdowns gave the Giants a 14-7 halftime advantage. The first score successfully concluded an eight-play, 53-yard drive that took 4:04 to complete. Manning completed five passes for 49 yards in the series. Toomer accounted for 40 yards on three catches. On their next series, the Giants drove 65 yards in seven plays. The biggest play of the series was Manning's 21-yard pass to Steve Smith on third-and-two. Tynes' field goal and Toomer's touchdown midway through the fourth quarter extended the Giants' lead to 24-7 before Tampa Bay added a late score. Toomer scored at the end of a 15-play, 92-yard drive that featured 38 yards rushing by Bradshaw and three Toomer receptions for 27 yards.

NFC Divisional Playoff Game
Jan. 13, 2008 at Texas Stadium (63,650)

The Giants avenged their only road defeat of the season, a 45-35 opening-night loss, with a 21-17 victory over the top-seeded Dallas Cowboys in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game in Texas Stadium. The Cowboys had defeated the Giants twice in the regular season. The Giants became the first team to beat the NFC's No. 1 seed in the divisional round since the current postseason format (six teams from each conference) was adopted in 1990. Amani Toomer scored a pair of touchdowns on receptions of 52 and four yards form Eli Manning. Brandon Jacobs' one-yard touchdown run with 13:29 remaining provided the Giants with the game-winning points. But the victory was not assured until R.W. McQuarters intercepted Tony Romo's pass for Terry Glenn in the end zone with nine seconds remaining. It was the game's only takeaway. Manning had a career-high 132.4 passer rating after completing 12 of 18 passes for 163 yards, the two scores to Toomer and no interceptions. The Giants played with a severely depleted secondary. Sam Madison (stomach) and Kevin Dockery (hip flexor) were inactive. A third cornerback, Aaron Ross, left the game for good in the third quarter with a shoulder injury. That left Corey Webster, McQuarters and Geoffrey Pope – who spent the entire regular season on the practice squad before joining on the active roster on Dec. 31 – as the only healthy corners. All played extensively in the second half. The secondary, aided by a relentless second-half pass rush, stayed strong throughout the game. The Cowboys scored on Tony Romo's five-yard touchdown pass to Terrell Owens and Marion Barber's one-yard run in the second quarter and Nick Folk's 34-yard field goal in the third. Romo completed 18 of 36 passes for 201 yards and his 64.7 rating was less than half of Manning's. Toomer turned a short Manning pass into a 52-yard touchdown on the Giants' fifth offensive play. After Dallas took a 14-7 lead, Manning led the Giants on a 71-yard drive in the final minute of the half that ended with a four-yard scoring pass to Toomer and a 14-14 halftime tie. Folk gave the Cowboys a 17-14 lead before Jacobs' touchdown on the third play of the fourth quarter gave the Giants the lead for good. But the Cowboys had one last chance when they took possession at the Giants' 48-yard line with 1:50 remaining. Dallas soon faced second-and-11 at the 23. Two incomplete passes left them staring at a fourth down with the seasons of both teams hanging in the balance. Owens was double covered, so Romo threw to the center of the end zone for Terry Glenn. But McQuarters stepped up and picked off the pass, sending the Giants to the NFC Championship Game.

2007- GIANTS 23, PACKERS 20 (OT)

NFC Championship Game
Jan. 20, 2008 at Lambeau Field (72,740)

The coldest game in Giants history was also one of the most memorable and satisfying the franchise has ever played. The Giants overcame the elements – and the Packers – to defeat Green Bay in overtime, 23-20, in the NFC Championship Game in frigid Lambeau Field. Lawrence Tynes provided the game-winning points when he kicked a 47-yard field goal with 2:35 elapsed in overtime. Tynes had missed his previous two attempts, including one on the final play of regulation. It was the first time in the history of Lambeau that a visiting player had kicked a field goal of more than 40 yards in a postseason game. The score was set up by Corey Webster's interception on the second play of overtime of Brett Favre's final career pass. The temperature at game time was minus-one degree with winds of 12 miles-an-hour – a numbing wind chill of minus-23. In terms of temperature alone, this was the third-coldest NFL game on record. At the famed Ice Bowl between the Packers and Dallas Cowboys in Lambeau on Dec. 31, 1967, it was 13 below zero at kickoff. In the 1981 Chargers-Bengals AFC Championship Game in Cincinnati, it was nine below. Brandon Jacobs (one-yard run) and Ahmad Bradshaw (four-yard run) scored touchdowns and Tynes added a 29-yard field goal for the Giants. Eli Manning set career postseason highs with 40 passes, 21 completions and 251 yards. Plaxico Burress established a franchise postseason record with 11 catches, for 151 yards. The old mark of 10 was set by Ike Hilliard in the 2000 NFC Championship Game victory over Minnesota. Defensively, the Giants held Green Bay to 28 rushing yards, forced Favre into two late interceptions and limited the Packers to one successful third down conversion on 10 tries. The Giants dominated the game statistically, outgaining Green Bay (380-264), rolling up 11 more first downs (24-13) and owning the ball for 40:01 to just 22:34 for the Packers. The Packers scored on Driver's 90-yard catch-and-run and Favre's 12-yard touchdown pass to Donald Lee, plus field goals by rookie Mason Crosby of 36 and 37 yards. Crosby's second field goal, with 11:46 remaining in the fourth quarter, tied the score at 20-20. The Giants had a chance to prevent the score when R.W. McQuarters intercepted a Favre pass at the eight-yard line. But McQuarters was hit by Ryan Grant and fumbled and the ball bounced right to Packers tackle Mark Tauscher, who plucked it out of the air at the 19. It was the Giants' first turnover of the postseason…In overtime, Favre threw a pass to Driver, but Webster stepped up and picked off the ball, returning it nine yards to the Green Bay 34-yard line. Ahmad Bradshaw gained five yards on two runs before Manning's pass for Steve Smith fell incomplete. Tynes then sent the Giants to the Super Bowl with one of the biggest field goals in franchise history.

Super Bowl XLII
Feb. 3, 2008

WORLD CHAMPIONS

Super Bowl XLII had a perfect ending, but the unexpected twist was that it belonged to the Giants. Eli Manning engineered a fourth quarter comeback drive for the ages and concluded perhaps the greatest postseason run in NFL history as the underdog Giants upset the previously undefeated New England Patriots, 17-14, in Super Bowl XLII in University of Phoenix Stadium in Glendale, Ariz. The Giants won their third championship of the Super Bowl era – the first in 17 years - and seventh overall in what will surely be remembered as one of the most exciting title games in NFL history. It was the first of 42 Super Bowls in which the lead changed hands three times in the fourth quarter. Plaxico Burress scored the game-winning points with only 35 seconds remaining on a 13-yard pass from Manning. The score concluded a 12-play, 83-yard drive that commenced immediately after New England had taken a 14-10 lead with less than three minutes remaining. Manning, voted the game's most valuable player, completed 19 of 34 passes for 255 yards, two touchdowns and an interception, which deflected off Steve Smith's hands. David Tyree scored the Giants' first touchdown and made an unbelievable catch on the game-winning drive. Ahmad Bradshaw and Brandon Jacobs combined for 87 rushing yards. Amani Toomer caught six passes for 84 yards and Smith added five for 50 yards. Lawrence Tynes kicked a 32-yard field goal, which ultimately proved to be the deciding points. The Giants' defense was magnificent. New England averaged almost 37 points a game in the regular season. The Giants held them to 14. The Patriots averaged 411.3 yards a game, but totaled only 274 in the Super Bowl. The Patriots rushed for only 45 yards and did not have a run longer than nine yards. Tom Brady was sacked five times. Brady's six-yard touchdown pass to Randy Moss gave the Pats a 14-10 lead with just 2:42 remaining. Cornerback Corey Webster slipped on the play and New England reached the end zone at the end of a 12-play, 80-yard drive. Manning responded by completing five of nine passes for 77 yards on the game-winning drive. The one everyone will long remember came on a third-and-five from the Giants' 44. Manning, seemingly about to be sacked, escaped, steadied himself and fired a pass down the middle of the field for Tyree, who was closely covered by safety Rodney Harrison. Both players jumped for the ball, which somehow landed on top of Tyree's helmet. But the receiver wrestled the ball away from Harrison for what may well be the greatest catch in Super Bowl history. The 32-yard gain gave the Giants a first down at the New England 24. Three players later, Smith picked up a huge first down and Manning followed with the game-winning throw to Burress.

NFC Divisional Playoff Game
at Giants Stadium (80,242)

The Giants picked a bad day to have a bad day and saw their championship reign has come to an end in a 23-11 home loss to the Philadelphia Eagles. The Giants lost just two home games in the 2008 season - both to Philadelphia. They outgained the Eagles, 307-276, including 138-59 on the ground, but were doomed by an inability to take advantage of opportunities in close. The Giants advanced as far as Philadelphia's 17-yard line three times - and had a first down on the 11 on their initial possession - but settled for field goals each time. The Giants converted only three of 13 third down opportunities. Their last five possessions ended, in order, with a missed field goal, twice on downs, an interception and a fumble. The Giants scored on John Carney field goals of 22, 34 and 36 yards and a safety when Donovan McNabb was penalized for intentional grounding in the end zone. Carney also missed field goal attempts of 46 and 47 yards. Philadelphia got a one-yard touchdown run from McNabb, a one-yard scoring pass to tight end Brent Celek and David Akers field goals of 25, 35 yards and 20 yards. Brian Westbrook was held to 36 rushing yards and 10 receiving yards (on two catches).

Ahamd Bradshaw opened the game with a 65-yard kickoff return.

TRAINING CAMP - THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

The University at Albany and its intercollegiate athletics program continues to move forward in the 21st century. UAlbany's athletic teams began competition at the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division I level in September 1999. The upgrade elevated all men's and women's programs, and placed football in the NCAA's I-AA classification.

In January 2001, the University accepted an invitation to become a full member of the America East Conference. Eighteen of the school's nineteen varsity teams are eligible through America East play for conference championships and NCAA post-season competition. Football, a NCAA Division I-AA program, has been an associate member of the Northeast Conference since 1999.

UAlbany has won 17 conference championships since moving to the Division I. In 2005-06, the Great Danes captured America East titles in men's basketball, men's indoor track, men's and women's outdoor track & field, and softball. UAlbany was awarded the Stuart P. Haskell, Jr. Commissioner's Cup, which annually recognizes the strongest athletic program in the America East Conference based on success both during the regular season and at championship competition, in 2004-05. UAlbany's point total was bolstered by America East championships in volleyball, men's lacrosse, men's outdoor track and field and softball. The Great Danes were also runners-up in men's indoor track and field and women's golf. Meanwhile, Kurt Campbell became the first UAlbany football player to be selected in the NFL Draft when he went in the seventh round to the Green Bay Packers.

UAlbany has an athletic history that dates back to the late 1890s when the first known intercollegiate teams arrived on campus. Albany competed at the college division level prior to the NCAA's restructuring in 1972. The athletic program moved from Division III to Division II in 1995-96.

UAlbany's intercollegiate program has a new direction, but continues to excel in the athletic realm, sponsoring 19 varsity sports for men and women. Club sports, an intramural program, and recreational opportunities are also offered.

The quality of UAlbany's athletic program is evidenced by some of the finest facilities in the nation.

In the spring of 1992, the University opened the Recreation and Convocation Center (RACC), an $11 million state-of-the-art facility. The RACC is the home for Albany's men's and women's basketball teams, and has an .11 mile indoor track. The 5,000-seat arena also serves as a major venue for community events such as rock and pop concerts, sporting events and University activities.

The RACC and Physical Education Building had air-conditioning installed in March 1996, as the state appropriated funds for renovations and permanent improvements to the University's facilities . The $2.3 million in funding was prompted by the New York Giants decision to hold their football training camp on campus. The project brought together the region's community in what has proven to be a successful partnership.

In addition, The Bubble, UAlbany's air-supported structure, fitted with a brand-new covering with minor interior renovations in the spring of 2003, may be utilized for tennis, basketball, volleyball, and indoor football practice.

The indoor complex is complemented by fine outdoor facilities, including University Field, which seats capacity crowds of 10,000 for football games, and has an all-weather, 400-meter track surrounding a natural grass surface. There are 12 lighted tennis courts, four basketball and six volleyball courts; and numerous fields for football, soccer, softball, baseball, lacrosse, field hockey, and other events.

The practice fields on the Western Avenue side of campus were renovated in June 1996 with 263,000 square feet of two-inch thick athletic sod.

UAlbany broke ground on the site of what will become two all-weather athletic fields in May 2005. "John Fallon Field" is the home to the men's and women's lacrosse teams. An adjacent surface known as "Alumni Turf Field" is used for women's field hockey in addition to serving as a multi-use recreational field for UAlbany students. The first phase of construction, which included lighting, landscaping and fencing, was completed in 2004.
